THE SWEETHEARTS OF LONG AGO.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER, BY T. C. HARBAUGH

Where is the hand that has not plucked in Memory's sacred vale
A little rose, quite faded now, that tells the olden tale—
Perhaps a leaf, still pressed between the pages of some book,
Which oft recalls a merry laugh, a fairy hand, a look?
Time cannot hide the cherished years, nor blot the past from view;
The heart will cling, like ivy green, to scenes beloved and true.
And that is why the vanished years return with love aglow,
And from them come the sweethearts of the golden long ago.

The sweethearts of the past! to them my fragile glass I fill,
The toast that Cupid whispers low I drink with gracious will;
There comes adown the aisles of time their laughter loud and clear,
And with the vintage on my lips I pause their mirth to hear.
The faces and the graces of the belles of other days
The poets of the present in their verses never praise,
As if the fin de siecle Miss who snares the modern beau
Outshines in beauty and in wit the girls of long ago!

I read of regal beauties in the lands beyond the sea,
Bedecked with gems and wearing crowns as fair as fair can be;
But none outshine in mirthfulness, though bards their praises sing,
The ne'er forgotten sweethearts that we gaily used to swing.
The beauty of the city and the dainty rural miss!
How oft was Cupid puzzled just to know which one to kiss;
For both were targets for his shafts that never miss, you know,
And many a heart was captured by the girls of long ago.

There can be no vision fairer than the one that crowns the past
With Love's immortal chaplet and its flowers that ever last.
And many a kiss still lingers to reclaim the years no more,
Like shells of wondrous beauty charming all on Memory's shore.
Then fill your dainty glasses with the vintage that outshines
The rarest and the fairest of the poet's Arcadian wines;
And though we drink in silence, let each heart with love o'erflow
As we crown the many graces of the girls of long ago.

THE STOLEN WIFE.

ADAPTED FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER, BY DUDLEY WINTHROP MOORE.

"Hasn't Mrs. Brentwell returned yet?"

"No, sir."

Knowles, the old English butler, took a few steps nearer and handed the merchant a letter. When Mr. Thomas Brentwell had taken it Knowles still stood there. Brentwell gave him a questioning look.

"Is any one waiting for an answer?"

"No, sir." Knowles hesitated a little before continuing: "Something quite extraordinary has happened. The carriage returned without Mrs. Brentwell, and yet the coachman and footman are sure she was in it."

"What's the meaning of that?"

"Indeed, I don't understand it myself, sir. Shall I call Barnes?"

Barnes was the coachman.

"Send him up."

When Knowles had left the room Brentwell no longer concealed his uneasiness. He looked at his watch. "Yet I had particularly requested her to be back by four o'clock, and we are expecting important company to dinner."

Now Knowles brought in not only the coachman, but also Moysey, the footman. Barnes gave an explanation as well as he understood it. "We waited for Mrs. Brentwell in front of Cane & Wilson's store. She came out and stepped into the carriage, and said to Moysey, who shut the door: 'Home!' And yet Mrs. Brentwell wasn't in the carriage when we arrived."

"What in the world do you mean? Mrs. Brentwell got into the carriage, and you shut the door?"

With these words the merchant turned to Moysey, who replied:

"Yes; Mrs. Brentwell got into the carriage and seemed to be in a great hurry. I shut the door and Barnes drove straight home. We didn't notice on the way that anything had happened, and yet, when we reached the house the carriage was empty."

"Do you think Mrs. Brentwell could have jumped out while you were going fast without both of you noticing it?"

"No, sir."

"Well, then," said the merchant, frowning, "both of you must have been drinking, and you came away without Mrs. Brentwell."

Barnes felt it was incumbent upon him to swear that he never drank, and that he had seen Mrs. Brentwell with his own eyes enter the carriage, in which affirmation he was stanchly backed by his colleague, Moysey.

The merchant made a wry face, as if he did not know what to make out of the story. Then his glance fell upon the letter which Knowles had brought a few moments since. He had laid it on the table; now he picked it up and read the address:

"Mr. Thomas Brentwell,

"Private. In great haste."

The name was written in a fine, plain, rather feminine hand, while the words in the left hand corner seemed to have been added by another hand. These letters were large and bold, and looked as if they had been written with the end of the pen holder instead of with the pen itself. The merchant tore open the envelope; as he did so something fell out of it upon the table that resembled a lock of a woman's hair. Brentwell appeared somewhat perplexed when he noticed it; then he began to read the letter:

"Mr. Thomas Brentwell will have the kindness, an hour after the receipt of this, to bring five thousand dollars to the corner of Clark Street and Burlington Avenue. Mrs. Brentwell will be kept a prisoner. A false Mrs. Brentwell got into the carriage that waited before the store of Cane & Wilson, and on the way she sprang out again. If you do not comply with our demand we will see ourselves obliged to cut off the little finger of Mrs. Brentwell's left hand, which we will send to you at your dinner hour. And if this fails to bring you to terms, other members of your wife's body will follow. We enclose a lock of her hair as a forerunner of our good intentions. You will be expected before half past five o'clock in the afternoon at the corner of the street and avenue mentioned, and will be spoken to by a person in a white hat and a red rose in his buttonhole. You are at liberty to have this person arrested or followed by the police. Only, in that case, we would cut off Mrs. Brentwell's arm from the shoulder and send it to you for dinner. Nevertheless, we take the liberty to advise you to hand over the money to the said person, for then Mrs. Brentwell herself will come home in time to receive your company at dinner, and, besides, will be able to entertain her distinguished guests with one of the most amusing stories they ever heard."

The merchant stared at the remarkable epistle, as if he would not trust his eyes exactly. He was not easily excited generally, but this unique communication caused him to lose a little of his self possession. He read the letter through once more, then he let it drop and gave vent to an imprecation. Now he noticed the lock again, which had slipped from the envelope a few moment ssince, and took it in his hand with a scrutinizing look. Did it really belong to his wife? Was it possible that Mrs. Thomas Brentwell, the well known society lady, and the wife of the prominent merchant, Mr. Thomas Brentwell, could be abducted in broad daylight, in the midst of such a bustling street traffic, by scoundrels? Yes, the hair looked desperately like hers. He turned to the coachman and footman and said menacingly: "Do you know what information this letter contains? The lady who got into the carriage was not Mrs. Brentwell! How could you be so deceived? It looks to me as if you had had a hand in this piece of rascality! Now, go, and woe to you if my suspicions are well founded!"

As Barnes and Moysey withdrew with a confused air the merchant motioned to Knowles to remain, and handed him the remarkable letter, saying: "Read that and tell me then what you think of it."

Knowles read and thought the whole thing was a joke.

"A joke?" And he held up the woman's lock. "I have compared it with the hair I carry in my watch charm—it's my wife's!"

Knowles examined it carefully. "It resembles Mrs. Brentwell's hair very much. Shall I send for the police?"

"No, that won't do. If what is in the letter is true, my wife could be cut in pieces before I could make a thick headed policeman understand the situation."

Before Knowles could say anything another servant entered the room, who delivered a second letter to Brentwell. It showed the same handwriting as the first.

"Who brought that?" asked the merchant, quickly.

"A lady, sir. She came in a cab and drove away at once."

"Another joke!" said Brentwell, grimly, as he tore open the envelope hastily.

"Mabel's hand!" Then he began to read:

"My Dear Tom: I entreat you to do what these people demand of you. I don't know what has happened and where I am; I am nearly distracted! They have already cut off some of my hair, and they threaten to take off my little finger if you don't bring the five thousand dollars to the spot by half-past five o'clock! By the pledge which I send you herewith, and which I have always worn on my bosom until this moment, I beseech you to help me! Mabel."

As he read the letter Brentwell grew as white as the paper he held in his hand. Now he handed the letter to Knowles.

"Well, is that a joke, too?"

His voice sounded husky. Knowles read the letter through attentively and replied: "That really looks like Mrs. Brentwell's handwriting."

Meanwhile the merchant had examined the envelope more closely, and now he took from it something which he held up with the thumb and forefinger. First he threw a glance at it himself, then he held it out to his butler.

"This proves that the letter is from my wife. It's an ancient gold coin which I gave her as a sort of talisman before our marriage, and which she has always worn attached to her neck. I wear one like it myself. What's to be done, Knowles?"

"Why, sir," said the old butler, whose long service in the family had made him a sort of confidential servant, "I should hand over the money, and then try to run down the rogues and give then their deserts."

* * * * * * *

Thomas Brentwell hesitated a few moments on the steps as he came out of the bank where he, as one of the most influential merchants of the city, had been able to get his check for five thousand dollars cashed, although it was long past banking hours. As he stood there buttoning up his coat, in the breast pocket of which he had stuffed a great roll of bills, his face wore a certain anxious expression which struck a gentleman who was just passing. This gentleman was Mr. Paul Herewood.

Mr. Herewood eyed the merchant with rather a weary look. His glance fell upon the swelled out pocket and he asked, thinking to make a joke:

"Well, cleaned out the bank a little? Perhaps I had better call a carriage?"

Paul Herewood was the merchant's cousin. Brentwell smiled a somewhat sickly smile, as though Mr. Herewood's gentle joke had kindled within him the feeling of a spoilt stomach.

Mr. Herewood noticed that his cousin was quite pale and asked now: "Anything unpleasant occurred? Mrs. Tom Brentwell, whom I met just now, didn't look at all as if anything had disturbed her peace of mind."

Brentwell ran down the bank steps and seized Herewood by the arm.

"You saw Mabel just now, Paul? Where—when?" he asked, breathlessly.

The merchant appeared to be seriously excited. Paul Herewood's curiosity was roused.

"Dear me, I didn't exactly look at my watch! Perhaps half an hour ago—maybe longer."

"Half an hour ago? Are you sure of that? Where did you see her?"

Herewood wondered more and more. What was up? It was not possible that Mabel had run away in broad daylight. Besides, she was not married a year yet, and everybody knew that Tom Brentwell and his charming young wife lived happily together.

So, notwithstanding that his cousin, for one reason or another, was apparently very much excited, Paul Herewood did not see why he should not tell all he knew.

"She flew by me like the wind, in a cab."

"Was she alone?"

"A man was with her, I think."

"Paul, she has been forcibly abducted and is held a prisoner!"

And now the merchant acquainted his cousin with the contents of the letters received.

Herewood looked at his cousin perplexed. Is he joking or is he drunk? his air seemed to ask plainly; so plainly that Brentwell understood it. "Can't you distinguish dead earnest from a joke?" he said. "I've just been to the bank to get the money, and am now hurrying to the appointed spot. Will you come with me? I should like to have a witness."

"Let's go," replied Herewood, simply, and they set out. When near the place of meeting they met a policeman. Paul suggested: "Let's take the bluecoat into our confidence."

"Madness, Paul! If you can't content yourself with the role of a mute witness then let me go alone."

"Very well, in case of need I can be just as crazy as you."

And the two hurried on, the merchant in the greatest excitement, the cousin amused. Now they had reached the corner of Clark Street and Burlington Avenue.

"Where's your hero in the white hat?" asked Paul. "I see nothing of a knight with a flower in his buttonhole!"

"I hope I have not kept you waiting," said a voice behind them at that moment. They turned round, and an elegantly dressed young man stood before them. He looked like a true gentleman, and also spoke like one. Clothes, appearance, manners were faultless. The startling dress of a genuine dandy set off a dazzling white hat, and in the buttonhole bloomed a red rose. A youth of sunny and lively demeanor stood before the astonished men, and his smile was not merely harmlessly friendly, it was simply childish.

Trembling with anger the merchant cried out: "Are you the scoundrel who wrote me that vile letter?"

"I am the one who was to meet you here," said the strange gentleman firmly.

"Where is my wife?"

The stranger replied, with a sly wink: "Mrs. Brentwell will be at home the same time as yourself if you will be kind enough to hand me out the five thousand dollars."

"And what if we give you into the custody of the first policeman?" put in Paul Herewood.

"You are, of course, entirely at liberty to have me arrested. Only Mrs. Brentwell would sacrifice her arm for it."

The merchant looked at him fiercely. "I do not intend to undertake anything before my wife is home."

"Oh, then our contract is at an end!" replied the stranger with his melodious laugh. "Once Mrs. Brentwell is home, then you may set all the sleuths in America on me. I expect nothing else."

Brentwell handed him the money.

"My best thanks, Mr. Brentwell. In an hour, at the latest, you will greet Mrs. Brentwell in your own home!"

"I must say," said Herewood, laughing, "when a gentleman is to be fleeced, it must be done by a perfect gentleman!"

* * * * * *

When Mr. Thomas Brentwell arrived home about an hour later, he sprang up the steps, three at a time. "Has my wife returned?" he cried.

A door upstairs was opened.

"Tom!" rang out a voice; then somebody came running down the stairs. It was Mabel Brentwell, who now threw herself into her husband's arms.

"So you are not dead?" she cried out.

"I came near dying," was his answer.

She drew back a couple of steps.

"Tom, what kind of a wagon was it?"

Brentwell stared at her without understanding. "A wagon. What do you mean? But let's go in." In the room he seized his wife's hands: "So you have really lost nothing, barring, of course, that cut off lock of hair?" he asked, looking the while tenderly into his wife's face.

"What kind of a lock of hair?" Now his wife gazed at him surprised, almost frightened.

"Why, the lock the rascal sent me in his first letter." As he spoke, Brentwell drew the lock out of the letter. "Didn't he then tell you that he would send the lock to me?"

"Tom!" cried Mabel, more and more frightened. "Didn't he tell you, either, that he intended to cut off your little finger?"

A look of horror came into Mabel's face. She gave Paul Herewood a questioning look. Her voice trembled as she now asked with anxious caution: "Tom, did the misfortune shake your nerves so much?"

"Why, of course—are my nerves of steel?"

"But you look now quite well again."

"To be sure, now that I have you once more. Did that scamp really threaten to chop off your arm?"

A painful suspicion rose in Mabel's soul. "The fright has confused his reason!" she said to herself. "Why, then, didn't you wait for me?" she asked.

"I?"

"Why, yes. If the accident wasn't so great as it appeared at first, so much the more reason why you ought to have waited after you wrote me this letter!"

Mrs. Brentwell held out a visiting card to him. It was his own. He took it. "Mabel, come to me at once; I am seriously hurt, and cannot be removed from here at present. Do not delay a moment." These words were written on the card in pencil.

"It looks almost like my handwriting," said the merchant. "Where did you get this?"

"The man you sent brought it to me at Cane & Wilson's."

"The man I sent?" A light seemed to dawn upon Brentwell. "So that was the bait that drew you into the trap. To what place did he take you?"

"He directed me to a tenement house in the outskirts of the city. The man told me you had been run over near there."

"And in that house you wrote to me?"

"I? What should I have written you?"

"Have you forgotten it already?" With this he handed her the second letter he had received. She looked at it, somewhat anxiously at first, then took it, drawing a long breath.

"Could you really believe I would ever write you such a letter?" she said, after she had run over the contents.

"And doesn't the lock come from you, perhaps?" Brentwell held out the lock of hair to her.

"Why, that doesn't look like my hair in the least!"

Mrs. Brentwell, however, was wrong on that point, for the color rather resembled her blond.

"And the gold coin here?"

"I carry mine on my bosom, as always," and Mabel drew it out on the little band. "And yours?"

Her husband felt on his breast for his. It had disappeared.

"Paul," said the merchant, now turning to his cousin, "I have had a great deal to go through today already, but if this continues so a while longer I shall lose what little sense I have left. Were you kidnapped, Mabel, or not?"

"Kidnapped? I? Did then the wagon accident really upset your reason?"

"I haven't been run over at all. Now, what did you do after you had received that card?"

"I went to the designated house, ran upstairs, downstairs, all over, to ask after you, but no one in the immense tenement house knew anything about you and your accident. So I turned around and came home."

"Why do you laugh, Paul?"

"It was only a silent smile."

"But what happened to you meanwhile?" Mrs. Brentwell now asked on her side, still very much puzzled.

"We have both been duped," replied the merchant, suppressing a bad word. "While your carriage waited for you before Cane & Wilson's a woman got into it, who in appearance and dress resembled you very much. On the way she sprang out of the carriage, which arrived here empty. The two letters followed each other in quick succession. I, fool, thought you were in distress, and allowed myself to be stripped of five thousand dollars! We have both let ourselves be anxious about each other through a swindler, who knows us and our way of living exactly."

"Surely my recently discharged waiting maid," remarked Mabel. "She has my figure, and my autograph, from which she has doubtless copied my handwriting."

"You are laughing again, Paul!" said Brentwell, turning to his cousin. "Moreover, let me caution you not to breathe a single word about this stupid affair!"

"Why, of course, depend upon it," said the cousin, giving his face a serious look, while Mabel Brentwell seemed to be seized with a real fit of hysterics.

"And what makes you so merry now?"

"I am thinking how your fine gentleman with the red rose must be laughing over you now! Picture it to yourself!"

And the merchant pictured it to himself.

The good cousin, however, did not seem to have kept his word, for shortly after that they laughed hearti ly in the club over the stolen wife!

MISSOURI.

St. Louis.—Good business has encouraged managers of Summer amusements here. The weather has been all that could be asked, and enthusiasm is on the increase.

ORIENTAL THEATRE.—Esher Sisters, Burke and Forrester, Forrester and Floyd, Alberti, Brocci Sisters, the Three Nonpareils, Sigfried, Nellie Dunbar and burlesque by the stock.

UNION TRUST ROOF GARDEN.—Frankie St. John, Bessie Philips, the Grahams, the Boy Quartet, the Daltons, Zanoni, Springer Bros. and Lillian Marsh.

KOERNER'S GARDEN.—Director Hageman, of the Al. Fresco Opera Co., opens Sunday matinee with a popular programme. Gracie Hazard, sister of Bob Hazard, a popular newspaper man here, is the leading soubrette, singing the part of Josephine in "Pinafore."

UHRIG'S CAVE.—Amorita, Angelo and Perpetua, by the Misses Braggins, Millard and Lodge; Castrucci and Sparacini, by Messrs. Deshon, Whelan and Steiger, with the Fra Bombarda of Mr. Taomas, formed a cast last week that could hardly be better. For this week's card Manager Frank McNeary offers "The Princess Trebizonde."

ESHER'S ALHAMBRA PALACE THEATRE.—Grabula, Saville and Young, Rose Mitchell, Douglass and Ford, the Wests, Reese and Swan, Wallace Sisters, Belle Patterson, Tillie Collins, Lillie White, Frank L. Gay and stock.

NEW CASINO.—Mayfield and Lee, Dickey Evans, Rosa Duffey, Cora Russell, Higgins and Mulligan, Carrie Feeney, May Warner, the Cricket; Raymond Sisters, Laura Maxwell, Rose Mitchell, Georgie Palmer, Bessie Vernon and stock.

GOSSIP.—Variety people who have gone to De Soto, Mo., to reopen the house there are: Williams and Carlton, Doyle and Scanlon, Minnie Dwyer, Florence Levanign, Mable Wallace,..... Billy Rice and Lew Dockstader, at Forest Park Highlands and Suburban Park, continue to please the crowds. Bellevue Park has its contingent to vaudeville, as has Holmes' Grove.....Florence Chester is now rehearsing at Esher's Alhambra Palace Theatre her burlesque of "Monte Cristo," to be produced there July 20, with a new company and elaborate scenery.....Jack Sommerville has retired from the variety business.....The Broccie Sisters have carried St. Louis audiences by storm. Their appearance in the East marks the advent of a new era in wholesome and refreshing fancy dancing.

Kansas City.—At Fairmount Park Auditorium Stewart Allen's Stock Co., with the assistance of Henry Jewett, Wm. Owen, Frank Smiles, A. H. Pearson, Henry Doughty, Florence Hastings, Daisy Lovering and Isabelle Lewis, gave the third annual Shakespearean at fresco performance. Last week "The Merry Wives of Windsor" was the bill, and an exceedingly clever show was given. In the last act a children's ballet, under the direction of Kittie Strauss, was introduced, and the dancing of the children spoke well for the training of their teacher. "The Merry Wives" will hold over for two performances this week, and then "The Lyons Mail" goes on. It is expected that "Twelfth Night" will follow with an al fresco production.

WASHINGTON PARK.—Liberati, in band concerts, is still attracting large crowds.

TROOST PARK.—Shooting the Chutes has caught on immensely and the dimes are shooting in.

COLISEUM.—Nina Clifton, Billy Dean, Clara Lawrence, Harry Recklaw, Ed. Hurley, Frank Davis and Emma Hurley.

CLIPPERINGS.—Frankie St. John, the soubrette of Stewart Allen's Stock Company, leaves here July 12 and goes to the Union Trust Roof Garden, in St. Louis, where she will give her songs and dances, which scored such a hit here. From there she goes to Chicago and thence to New York.....Zeke Snyder," of the Hudson-Judah forces, joined the Sells-Forepaugh Circus last week.....Earl Lee, the little juvenile comedian, who has been a feature of the performances at Fairmount Park, has left with his mother, Alberta Lee, for the East. It is possible that he may play the continuous houses next season. He is decidedly versatile.....Joe Rosenthal left the Bond Bros.' Circus and joined the Wallace Bros.' Circus at Butte City, 7.....Kizzie Masters left the Stewart Allen Stock Co. here 11, and went to Alton, Ill., where she will visit relatives for two weeks. From there she goes to New York.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond.—The Lee Pleasure Park venture has not proved the success at first anticipated. Although Manager Lorraine has been untiring in his efforts to cater to the tastes of the public, an apathy most discouraging is being shown. "Herculaneum," the first large venture, steadily lost money, and finally found its way into the hands of the sheriff on an attachment sued out by local employes for salaries. All claims were satisfied, and the company left for New Haven, Ct., 8, accompanied by Mr. Brine, treasurer of the Park, who is to collect $1,250 advanced by the local management, to secure which a bill of sale on the show properties was given. Manager Lorraine states he will bring no further large attractions to the park until the public displays more appreciation for his efforts. In the meanwhile horse races, bicycle races and a vaudeville show constitute the amusements, to more or less indifferent attendance.

JEFFERSON ROOF GARDEN.—Annabelle enters upon her third week at this popular resort July 13, and continues a strong favorite. The programme will be supplemented this week by the addition of the three Mahr Sisters, Matthew Byrne and Mark Elmo.

PUTNAM'S THEATRE COMIQUE.—This house closed 11, after one of the most prosperous seasons in its history. During the Summer extensive interior improvements will be made. Opera chairs will be placed in the auditorium and several sets of new scenery added.

Norfolk.—At the Bijou Theatre new people this week: The Three Blanchard Sisters, Lottie Gorman, Jack Smith and John West. Business fair.

OCEAN VIEW.—Last week's people hold over, with the addition of Irvin T. Bush and La Petite Edith. The entertainment, which is thoroughly enjoyable, should attract large audiences, but the continuous rain we have had for the past two weeks has materially affected the attendance.

WASHINGTON.

Spokane.—At Arcadia "A Prisoner for Life" and "The Streets of New York" attracted good business during week of June 29.

COMIQUE.—New faces week of 6: Cappola, D. B. Emery and Laura Russell. Business last week was good.

PEOPLE'S.—New people: Winn McDonald, Harry Constantine, Frank Foley and Jessie Eldridge. Good houses rule.

Rose Coghlan and Frederick Warde Appear Jointly at the California Theatre in "Carmen"—Strong Variety Attractions Presented.

[Special Dispatch to the New York Clipper.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—At the California Theatre Frederick Warde and Rose Coghlan made their first appearance here last evening in a dramatic version of "Carmen."

COLUMBIA THEATRE.—"The Charity Ball" was the bill last night. The usual large audience was present.

MOROSCO'S GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Jules Walters, in "Side Tracked," drew an audience of large proportions.

ORPHEUM THEATRE.—New people this week are the Donatos, Mason and Manola, the Washburn Sisters, and Hugh J. Emmet. The Valdis Sisters, Biondi and Ross Snow are booked to appear here 20.

TIVOLI OPERA HOUSE.—"Rigoletto" was presented here last evening to a house packed to its utmost capacity.

NOTES.—The Baldwin and Grover's Alcazar Theatres remain closed.....The Mario-Dunham Family and the Black Patti are stellar attractions at the Pavilion Chutes, on Haight Street.....Tommy Leary has gone East to prepare for his coming season's engagement.

FROM OTHER POINTS.

David Henderson Likely to Assume Control of the Schiller Theatre, Chicago—Continued Success of Summer Opera in Philadelphia.

[Special Dispatches to The New York Clipper.]

CHICAGO, July 14.—There were rumors last night to the effect that David Henderson has secured control of the Schiller, and that he will be sole manager of the house in future. Mr. Henderson does not affirm the rumors, but there is evidently some change in management contemplated.....The Masonic Temple Roof Garden has an excellent bill this week, and Glacinta Della Rocca, the pretty Italian violinist, made a decided hit, as did also the Four Angels Sisters.....The vitascope still draws big crowds to the Hopkins.....There was a shower last night, which interfered with business at the Coliseum and Great Northern, each being dependent for success on pleasant weather..... There will be a big ball game here as soon as it can be arranged between a nine managed by Eddie Foy and another representing the Schiller Opera Co. It is for the benefit of John W. Kelly's family, and friends of the "Rolling Mill Man" are making big preparations for the benefit.....There was a small attendance last night at "The Gay Parisians," due to record breaking temperature, and at the Schiller there was also a small house.

BOSTON, July 14.—A limited number of prospective theatregoers were disappointed last night when they reached the Tremont Theatre and found the doors closed and the house dark, instead of the "grand testimonial" to Manager Harry Askin which had been announced. This marks another sudden closing, although the regular Summer season of comic opera closed July 11 at the Tremont..... "Fatinitza" was sung to a good house at the Castle Square, and Keith's was uncommonly well attended all day. Next week will be the closing week of opera at the Castle Square Theatre, and Boston will figure as having the smallest number of theatrical diversions for the public of any Summer in many years.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—The Sunday openings were well patronized, the weather being propitious..... Koerner's Garden had a revival of "Pinafore" for its inaugural entertainment, the Al Fresco Opera Company presenting it. Grace Hazard, a local singer, made her professional debut and received the greatest notice as Josephine. Others were Jack Shields, Herbert and Helen Salinger, L. S. De Kalb, Harry Hanlon, William F. Perkins and Wallie Plummer.....At Uhrig's Cave last night the "Princess of Trebizonde" opened to a good house. A creditable performance was given. .....The Oriental Theatre opened Sunday night to a big house with excellent vaudeville ....Minstrels at Suburban Park and Forest Park Highlands and vaudeville at Bellevue drew big Sunday audiences. .....The Union Trust Roof Garden has closed.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—The attendance at our three open theatres was satisfactory last night, in spite of the excessive heat. At the Grand Opera House the performance of "The Bohemian Girl" was up to the usual excellent standard of the company, and attracted a large sized audience.....The Bijou, with a splendid vaudeville bill, and the vitascope had the usual crowded house at the afternoon and evening performances.....At the Lyceum Turner's English Girls drew a fair sized audience in the afternoon and a good house in the evening.

LOUISVILLE, July 14.—The People's Theatre opened to a good house last night.....Bierods, Robinson's and Olympia Concert Halls drew well filled houses.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis.—The few Summer amusements now running are doing fairly well. At the Grand Opera House the automatic production of the Indianapolis ball club's games away from home attract large crowds daily.

WILDWOOD PARK SUMMER THEATRE closed last week, the Temple Opera Co. having closed a contract with Russell Harrison to play at Terre Haute for a short season. The park will probably be reopened later.

ARMSTRONG PARK PAVILION.—At this resort a stock company is producing the old melodramas, "The Planter's Wife," "Hazel Kirke," etc., changing the bill each week. The average attendance is good. Among the members of the company are: Allen Bailey, L. E. Atkinson, Lew A. Warner, Ed. Brown, Frank Rinkhurst, Truman Johnson, Matt Stevens, Nellie Banning, Lettie Colton and Ella Lawrence.

THE TOWN is billed for Robinson & Franklin's Circus, which comes July 20.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence.—Lothrop's Opera House, which was to have been run through the Summer season by the Theodore Babcock Stock Co., has closed, and this closing leaves no amusement resort of any sort in the city open.

CRESCENT PARK.—"The Mandirin Zune," at the Floating Palace Theatre, is being sung twice every day, and the audiences are increasing. Manager Royden says he has not an open day from July 15 until after Labor Day, in September. Every day some excursion comes.

ROCKY POINT.—Things look better and brighter than ever here, and large crowds go daily. At the Forrest Theatre a very strong variety bill is given, and new people added all the time. For the week of July 13 the following people are engaged: The Pattens, the Four Cohans, "Allas," Curtis and Golden, Little Anna Wilkes, Wylie and Sanford, Ives and Kent, Mile. Allas, Bonnie Goodwin, and Ada Henry. Commencing July 27, for two weeks, Pain's Grand Pyro-Spectacle, "China and Japan." The "Chute" is rapidly being completed, and will soon be open.

—Charles Brown, a well known dentist of this city, died on Sunday evening, July 12. He was formerly manager for Hanlon Brothers.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.—Owing to the National Convention of the Democracy et al., all the theatres had an exceedingly good week. The end of the convention marked the end of the season for two of the down town houses, leaving but one regular priced house, Hooley's, in the field. At McVicker's the season ended July 11, with the close of the fourth week of "Lost, Strayed or Stolen." The management professes to be very well pleased with the result of the production of this piece, and it will be given a trial in New York at an early date in the Fall. Among the vaudeville houses there has been nothing but prosperity during the convention period. The vitascope keeps the Hopkins full all the time, and, as it is controlled by Col. Hopkins, it is safe to say that it will not be seen at any other house. There was no "silver lining" to the cloud of gloom which hung over the finale of the play by that name, which was put in for convention week on much the same principle that the thrifty small boy erects a pink lemonade stand in front of the house when he finds that the line of march is coming his way.

HOOLEY'S THEATRE.—"The Gay Parisians" open their ninth week with a total of 53,000 admissions up to date for the engagement. The only regular priced attraction running in the town, it is sure of a large patronage from those who wish something different from the vaudeville. It is understood that the end of the engagement will be Aug. 8, when the company will be obliged to leave in order to fill dates on the Pacific coast.

HOPKINS' THEATRE.—Added to the great attraction that the vitascope has proved, an excellent programme has been arranged for this week, including "Lost in New York," by the stock company. Kitty De Lorme has been especially engaged for this production, and Harry Jackson will appear in the role that he played in the original production of the piece. The vaudeville list includes Hayes and Post, the Donazettas, Boyce and Clifford, and others.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—Although the Chicago is the largest house in the city, it was too small to accommodate the crowds last week. For this week there is an excellent programme offered, including Horwitz and Bowers, Katie Rooney, the Three Nightons, Lillie Laurel, Tom Mack, Frank Burt, St. Clair and Lorena, Little Bonnie and others.

MASONIC TEMPLE ROOF GARDEN.—Signora Della Rocca has been secured by Manager Fair as a special attraction for this week at the Roof Garden. Others on the programme are Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, Mark Murphy, Four Angela Sisters, De Bessell, clay modeller; Lizzie B. Raymond, Emelie Edwards, Irene Franklin, and the Russian orchestra, etc.

SCHILLER THEATRE.—The policy of putting on a new opera each week has been slightly changed, and this week the two operas already produced, "Mikado" and "Boccaccio," will be given, each for a half of the week. For next week "The Merry War" is announced. It is said that the continuation of the Summer opera season at the Schiller will depend upon the success attending the present week.

GREAT NORTHERN ROOF GARDEN.—Leading attractions at this new and popular resort for the week will be Mary Marble and Louis Mann. Others on the bill are Arthur Rigby, Gertrude Saye, Lester and Williams.

COLISEUM GARDEN.—The open air production of "America," with variations, has proved an attractive feature at the Coliseum, where large crowds witnessed each performance during convention week. There are a large number of people engaged in the ballet, and the specialties include Wirtz and Adair, the Jasper Bros., Ferris and Trevanwin, Vermillion Quartet and others.

ORPHEUS MUSIC HALL.—Manager Blei has surmounted the little difficulty that he had concerning his new music hall, "The Royal," which he will open in a short time on the South side. The patronage at the Orpheus continues to be good; an excellent entertainment is given. For this week the programme will include: "The Hatts," the Zoyarows, Marie Darcy, Williams and Walker, Georgie Emery, X Ray Vernon, Jeanette Burns. Special features will be a minstrel olio, two new ballets and a production of living pictures.

SAM T. JACK'S OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Jack wished that his house was twice as big last week, for there never was a time during the week when the crowd was not too large for the place. For this week there will be a burlesque on "Billie Taylor." Charley Banks and Bob Van Osten will lead the list of comedians.

KOHL & MIDDLETON'S CLARK STREET MUSEUM.—George Williams, the Arkansas Turtle Boy, and his bride will be seen this week; also Brer Sundeen, Swedish mind reader. The usual variety bill will be given on the stage.

KOHL & MIDDLETON'S GLOBE MUSEUM.—Bonet and Estell, in their second sight mystery, and the California wonder, a woman with enormous hands and feet, will be the principal attractions for this week at the Globe. Rosa will, as usual, lead the large company of Midway dancers.

WHITE'S LONDON DIME MUSEE.—Among the attractions for this week are Percy Allbright, ossified man; Dave Mushra, Henry Palmer, magic; the beauty show, etc. On the stage there will be the usual variety performance and Clio, with her troupe of Midway and Hawaiian dancers.

NOTES.—McVicker's Theatre Co. declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent. the other day, which is considered a good showing in the face of the commonly accepted opinion that the theatrical business has not been good for the past season..... The Iowa State Band has been engaged for a short season by the Ferris Wheel people. They are also putting in a little more each week in the way of entertainment, and the place is likely to become a regular suburban vaudeville resort.....E. D. Shaw, the well known manager, has returned to Chicago from the Pacific coast. His trip with Felix Morris next year is off on account of Mr. Morris' decision to join Charles Frohman's forces.....The Gay Parisians" will close Aug. 8, and Hooley's will then be closed for a month, when it will open the regular season with "The Prisoner of Zenda." .....Blanche Werner, a Chicago girl, has made a hit in Spanish dances at the Coliseum Garden..... Georgia Caine, during the closing week of the "Lost, Strayed or Stolen" engagement, played very successfully the role originally assigned to Jennie Goldthwaite, who left the company to marry a Chicago attorney named Murphy.....Manager Sharpe, of McVicker's, denies the report that "Shore Acres" will be seen at another house this season in Chicago.....Eddie Foy is going on the road with Schaefer and Spink, the professional billiardists. Mr. Foy will do a few songs and dances while the others show the crowd how carroms are made.....Jessaline Rogers will not return to the Hopkins stock co., in this city at the end of her vacation, but will join the St. Louis house company. .....Thos. W. Prior has been engaged to manage whatever vaudeville there is in connection with the Ferris wheel.

Under the Tents

RINGLING NOTES.—The quiet little town of Monticello, Ia., was awakened from the every day lethargy of rural life into a scene of busy activity last Monday. A grand double celebration of the "glorious Fourth" and "circus day" had been arranged by the citizens of the village. Sunday night the farmers commenced to drive in by the wagon load. The long line of vehicles loaded down with human freight much resembled an emigrant train of "prairie schooners" wending its way over the prairie. When the sleeping residents of Monticello opened their eyes to the light of day Monday morning they were no doubt not a little surprised to find how completely their village had been taken possession of by the denizens of the surrounding rural districts. The restaurant man's heart was gladdened and smiles wreathed the faces of the hotel men. It was a great day for Monticello and for the "World's Greatest." The lot was jammed with people at the morning side show "opening," and the scene at the ticket wagon at one o'clock was indescribable. It was a hot day, and the perspiration fairly rained off the faces of our ticket sellers as they catered to the eager throng. Our business at Monticello was big. At West Union, Iowa, Tuesday, our business was very gratifying. It was an ideal circus day, and the friends of the Brothers Ringling are legion in this section. Decorah, Iowa, was our Wednesday stand, and a banner day it was. Decorah possesses the deservedly worthy reputation of being a great show town. The citizens of that city ably sustained the reputation Wednesday, for we were hardly able to accommodate the afternoon crowd, even with the extras in, and our night house far exceeded all expectations. The famous "ice cave" is situated in Decorah, and a number of our people visited this interesting spot. Prof. W. F. Weldon, after eight seasons of faithful service as bandmaster of this show, closed Wednesday night. He went to Chicago, where he will make his headquarters hereafter. His place is being capably filled by Prof. Ganweiler, of Philadelphia. Mr. Ganweiler, our new director of music, is an an affable gentleman and a thorough musician. While we miss "Pop" Weldon's genial face we find Mr. Ganweiler's efforts very pleasing. We received a consignment of ostriches and seals at Decorah, which are quite an addition to our big menagerie. Our big chimpanzee continues to attract the attention of our patrons. He is a great feature. Lee Ingham, who sustained serious injuries during our engagement in Chicago, has recovered sufficiently to resume his duties with the show. He rejoined at Decorah. Cresco is a thriving Iowa town, and we did a fine business there Thursday. Prairie du Chien, Wis., was our Friday stand. This city always gives the Ringlings a royal welcome, and our business there was one of the biggest of the week. Saturday found our tents pitched in Richland Centre, Wis. There is something about this town that is synonymous with "capacity." Our down town sale was enormous, and the excited ticket buyers threatened the overturn of our ticket wagon in the afternoon, so eager where they to secure cards of admission to the big show. The extras were brought into service, and though the day was the hottest of the season a good natured crowd packed the big top. Lewis Sells was the guest of the Ringling Bros. several days last week. From a financial standpoint the past week has been one of the most successful in the history of our show.

NOTES FROM THE NORTH AMERICAN SHOW.—The little show has been doing a big business for the past week. On Tuesday Mr. Conroy had to go home, having sprained his ankle so he couldn't travel, but he is expected back this week. We had big opposition for the last few days, a big show playing ahead of us, but we made a two days stand in Holyoke, and did a large business. Friday night wast the banner night of the season. We had to stop selling tickets. The band has been strengthened by Prof. Chas. Valentine and I. Reed, formerly with the Barnum & Bally Show. Prof. Cunningham, leader of the orchestra, is furnishing fine music for the concert. William Hartny, of the Brothers Renses, joined his wife at Holyoke. THE CLIPPER is received every week at our little camp, and read by all.

ROSTER OF THE ADVANCE BRIGADE OF SPARKS & Allen's New Railroad Shows.—F. C. Cooper, general agent; F. B. Andrews, contracting agent; Chas. Pereira, advertising agent; Chas. Watkins, Fred Hunter, Jas. Russell, Wm. Days and Jas. Sheridan, bill posters; Fred Wilder, lithographer and programmer. Business, while not enormous, has been away above the average of many of our contemporaries.

EDDIE DE ALVA, Chinese juggler, wire walker and clown, is with Tuttle's Olympic Circus.

ROSTER OF Eugene Wack's Band, with the Hunting Shows: E. Wack, director; Paul Charles, cornet; Frank Howard, B-flat clarionet; Hal Hayes, E-flat clarionet; "Pete" Rice, alto; E. Willie Jones, alto; Henry Hopp, trombone; Sammie Blair, trombone; Chas. Bratton, baritone; "Red" Miller, tuba, and Frank (Shorty) Weiser, drums.

LE ROY AND MORRIS, on the triple horizontal bars, are with Howe's London Shows.

ROSTER OF CONCERT WITH THE NEW GREAT Syndicate Shows.—Bert Richardson, Harry Strieff, Leslie and Sarsfield, Willard Reed, Vera Harcourt, Grace King, Kate Roscoe, King and Gault, and George Atkinson, stage manager.

F. ROGER IMHOLF is principal singing and talking clown with the Orton Brothers' Circus.

CHAS. F. GALLETTI'S MONKEY COMEDIANS are making a success with the Ringling Brothers' Shows.

MANAGER HUGH HARRISON, of the Ringling Bros.' side show, has presented the P. B. O. E. Lodge at Henderson, Ky., with an Elk's head, which he secured while en route last month.

THE BALLENGER FAMILY CIRCUS NOTES.—We never have had sufficient seating capacity while in West Virginia, and this is the banner season. Charles McBride still lays ont the lot, and is always rubbing his head for original ideas. Levardo is the special feature of the show. Among the old time stagers may be found Old Mack, Mike Malone and Levardo.

NOTES FROM BENTLEY & CO.—We have just entered upon our third week and are still doing a big business, and according to present indications our season in the metropolis will undoubtedly be a lengthy one, although preparatory arrangements for the road are steadily progressing. A force of carpenters, blacksmiths and painters are now putting the finishing touches on the last few wagons, and we will swing into the long list of traveling road shows with a splendid "layout;" in fact, one of the finest of the wagon shows, if what visiting showmen tell us be true. Ned Benley has returned from the Van Amburg Show, where he was doing the contracting, and now has a weather eye on the goings on around the big tent. A. H. Westfall, who has joined to look after the advertising, has a splendid force of lithographers on his staff, and the flashy billing matter stands out prominently throughout the city. Mlle. Rosina, while doing her riding act, had the misfortune to injure her ankle and arm, and has been out of the ring for a few days, but she is improving rapidly. The present week's bill is as follows: Jerome and Ledesma, the Three Gerdellas, Sorgardo, Mlle. Rosina, Mlle. Rezac, Senorita Meza, Zaio and Lowande, Celest, Nelson, Ginseretti and Mauvel, May Stuart, the Rigoletti Family, Webb Family, Smith Brothers, Burton's dog circus, Jerome and Ledesma, and Martinho Lowanda. In the concert, under the able direction of Col. Stewart, the following people are listed for this week: Carroll and Hindes, Smith and Reagan, Jennie Morton, the German Rose and May Harney.

BARTINE SHOW NOTES.—We are in Ohio and playing to uniformly good business. Cliff. Bayless, contortionist, met with an accident more than a week ago, and is yet unable to do anything. Lee Howard has been on the sick list for several days and has gone to for Cincinnati, O., to enter a hospital for treatment. The rest of company are in good health.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore.—Favorable weather and an entertaining programme combined to fill Electric Park July 13. The new features were: Mlle. Onri, Rosalie, the Sisters Raymon, Waterbury Brothers, Clark and Williams and the Davenport Brothers.

—Harry Lindley writes that he has commenced alterations for his new theatre in Ottawa, Canada. He intends to play stock and combinations, and in addition is putting a comic opera company on the road at cheap rates.

Clipper Post Office

☞ A STAMPED ENVELOPE, plainly addressed, must be inclosed for each letter, and the line of business followed by the person addressed should be given, in order to prevent mistakes.

NOTE.—Professionals and others should bear in mind that all letters, etc., in transit between the United States and Canado, must be prepaid, otherwise they are not forwarded.

DEATHS IN THE PROFESSION.

"COMMODORE" JOSEPH H. TOOKER, a veteran theatrical manager, died July 7, at his home in this city, from peritonitis. The deceased, who was sixty-five years of age, was a native of this city, and began his career as a newspaper and magazine writer, by which he gained considerable distinction. He finally drifted into the theatrical business, and after several ventures of his own he became associated with Jarrett & Palmer, at Niblo's Garden, this city. He continued with this firm when they took the management of Booth's Theatre, at which house he was business manager. On April 19, 1877, on the occasion of a benefit tendered to him, Mr Tooker made his debut on the stage as John, in "Slasher and Crasher." After Jarrett & Palmer withdrew from Booth's Theatre, Mr. Tooker became connected with Daly's Theatre. He had at various times managed Charlotte Cushman, Barry Sullivan and W. J. Florence. At one time he managed the Grand Opera House for James Fisk Jr., and was also in the employ of Mr. Fisk and Jay Gould in charge of the Plymouth Rock and other excursion steamers. It was this connection that earned him the title of Commodore. He was always active in politics, and was first marshal under Mayor Oakey A. Hall. His wife, now deceased, was the sister of Chief of Police Conlin, of this city, and the late W. J. Florence. At the time of his death Mr. Tooker was senior partner in the Metropolitan Job Printing Co., as well as being a director of several corporations. He leaves four married children. The funeral services were held July 9, at the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church. The interment was made 10, in Greenwood Cemetery.

FANOLA (Charles H. Ferron), a bareback rider, committed suicide by taking morphine during the night of July 6, in Ludlow Street Jail, this city. He was thirty-eight years of age and some time since had abandoned riding in circuses to become a vender of patent medicines. He also trained horses, and for a while traveled through the country with a small circus of his own, selling patent medicines after the performances. His wife, who was also a circus rider, and a three year old daughter survive him.

HARRY STANLEY, a veteran Australian manager, died recently in the New Castle Hospital, New South Wales. He was well known as the pioneer showman in India and Africa. In the former country he had a juvenile company running at the time of his death.

JAMES EFFIE, a musician, died July 9, at Buffalo, N. Y., from pneumonia. The deceased was a flute and piccolo player, and had been connected with various bands and orchestras throughout the country. He leaves a widow and one child.

EVA FORREST, a variety performer, committed suicide by taking laudanum, June 30, at Los Angeles, Cal.

RICHARD. E. CALLAHAN, tenor singer, died June 30, at his home in Chicago, Ill., from pneumonia. The deceased was born May 29, 1862, at Toronto, Can. He was a general variety performer, and was one of the original Garden City Quartet.

HARRY CHAPMAN, well known in the profession as a manager, committed suicide in Central Park, this city, Saturday night, July 11, by taking prussic acid. He was born in Maine, Sept. 3, 1820, and his father was a ship builder. His first connection with the profession was as a business manager for Charlotte Crampton, at Purdy's National Theatre, this city, seasons of 1849-50-1. He was for a brief time with Adah Isaacs Menken, when she first attempted "Mazeppa." Prior to this he was in the Mexican war in 1847, in Caleb Cushing's Regiment. For years he was a well known Western manager. Just before the great fire in Chicago he was connected with Col. Wood's Museum. During the late war he commanded a battalion (Confederate) from New Orleans. Of late years he has been unable to do anything owing to ill health. The remains were interred July 14, by the Actors' Fund.

IOWA.

Same people held over week of July 6. Business is fair. Week of 13, people are: Faith Adams, Jolly, Delia Pringle, Lester Evans and Emita Davees, Nettie Fields, Henry Frey, Mable Hazleton and Hall L. Goodwin. Kitty Wolfe opens 20.

NOTES.—Col. Geo. Tuke is in the city for a few days ..... Percy Bradford, formerly of Wonderland, is musical director of the Roof Garden.... Dupierre, boy mesmerist, was in the city last week, and gave a few private exhibitions of his power.

SCANLON AND STEVENS have just closed a successful engagement at Ontario Beach, N. Y. They open at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre, this city, July 20.

HARRY J. HOWARD is the general representative of Spaulding & Gray.

Variety and Minstrelsy

POLLY HOLMES, the Irish Duchess, an excellent portrait of whom embellishes the front page of this issue, is one of the most popular singers of Irish songs upon the vaudeville stage. Endowed with a winning presence, a good voice and much vivacity, she has made hosts of friends, and is constantly adding to the list.

WE ARE INFORMED that Manager Ed. F. Rush's attractions, "The White Crook," "Excelsior" and "The Broadway Girl," are booked up for the entire season. "The White Crook" and "Excelsior" open early in August, and "The Broadway Girl" goes out after election. Mr. Rush says that all three productions will carry special scenery by C. W. Valentine, lithographic paper from the H. C. Miner Lithograph Co. and elaborate costumes. Among the people who have already been engaged are: Chas. Franklin, Alex. D. Gorman, Jos. Donnerstag, Ben Pflaum, Ned Monroe, Fern Melrose, Turner and Russell, Fish and Quigg, Dixon and Lang, Truehart and Kennedy, Anthony and West, Baisly and Henderson, Colby and Dewitte, Williams and Edwards, Gertrude Fry, Agnes R. Behler, Clayton and Grant, Florence La Roy, J. Burton Green, Anna Chance, Lena Lacouver, Pearl Raymond, Lilly West, Louise Kennedy, Alice Dillon, Fred Ward, Elymira Clifton, Jessie Leclair, Blanche Latell, Kitty Gebhart, C. D. FRANK COTTON and his donkeys closed the season with Rice's Circus, Manhattan Beach, C. I., July 11. His wife, Rosina, is on the sick list.

J. HARRY THOMPSON is doing the electrical work for Edison's vitascope at the Casino, Asbury Park, N. J. Thomas Henry is manager.

G. L. MEYERS, of the firm of Williams & Meyers, music publishers, Bradford, Pa., was a CLIPPER caller on Monday, July 13. He reports business in most satisfactory shape. He is here for the purpose of putting out two new songs, which he will publish shortly.

HART AND WALLING will appear at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre, this city, week of July 20.

WALTER CROW entertained the Indiana State Teachers' Association last week.

CLARICE VANCE, singing comedienne, has signed for the coming season with Harry Seymore's "Gay New Yorkers."

THE COYNE BROS. (Frank and James), acrobats, have signed with Henry Frey's farce comedy, "An American Tramp's Reception." The show opens at the Grand Opera House, Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 10.

FREY AND FIELDS have closed a successful engagement at Harrison Park, Terre Haute, Ind., and are now playing a three weeks' engagement at the Observatory Roof Garden, Des Moines, Ia.

MIACO'S CITY CLUB NOTES.—The following company has been secured for next season: Fanny Everett, Carrie Fulton, Ruby Marion, Sophie Erb, Ollie Atherton, Ada Muriel, Isabelle King, Cora White, Irene Caldwell, Kittie Wilson, Mollie Anderson, Grace Langley, Dolores Sisters and Adelaide Marshall. Specialties will be contributed by Nellie Waters, Fields and Woolley, Tom Nolan, Gracie and Reynolds, Max Millian and a strong novelty act, which will arrive from Europe in time for the opening. T. Miaco will attend to the management personally, with Robert Fulton as business manager, Clark Ball treasurer and Ed. Mueller leader of orchestra. The opening will be "The City Club at the French Ball," and the burlesque will be entitled "The Sporty Dutch S." Thirty-two new spectacular drops by Valentine, new costumes and properties will be carried. Rehearsals will commence Aug. 3, in New York, and the company will open Aug. 15, at Kernan's Monumental Theatre, Baltimore, Md. The City Club is booked solid for forty-two week stands.

CARRIE SANFORD, who was last season with "The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown," has been engaged for Seymour's Gay New Yorkers for the coming season. This will be her first appearance on the vaudeville stage, but she has a budget of new songs and looks forward hopefully to the opening date in Philadelphia, Pa., on Aug. 10.

JACK HUGHES, musical director, has signed with Barlow Bros.' Minstrels.

WILL S. RISING'S ENTERTAINERS are at Arverne-by-the-Sea this week. They include: Murray Brothers, musical comedy trio; Tom Ballantyne, humorist; Agnes Baylies, soprano; Fred Gagel, musical director. Mr. Rising has introduced his novelty with Fregoli changes of costume, most successfully. The first song he introduces in evening dress, and changes of costume follow with characteristic songs.

MELROSE AND ELMER, duettists, appeared week of July 6 at the Casino, Bergen Beach, L. I.

THE OLIFANS, two headed nondescript act, who are playing dates over the Summer circuits, are engaged for the Reilly & Wood Show for next season.

GARDNER AND SHEPPARD, German comedians, are filling a long engagement at North Beach, L. I., where they have become popular favorites. Harry B. Garner, of this team, was recently made a member of Metropolitan Lodge, 266, K. of P.

JOHN J. TYNDALL, P. G. E. R. of the B. P. O. Elks, and secretary for Amity Lodge, F. A. M., for twenty-five years, is lying at the point of death in Mount Vernon, N. Y.

O'BRIEN, JENNINGS AND O'BRIEN are visiting friends in Massachusetts.

CORA WARNER is in Chicago, Ill., getting up a new dance.

GOLDEN, CHALFANT AND GOLDEN are meeting with success in the West. They are playing this week at the Academy of Music, Milwaukee, Wis.

JAS. PRENDERGAST has recovered from his recent sickness, and is filling a Summer engagement with Prof. Jas. Robinson's Band at Manhattan Beach.

JESSIE BEATTEY is singing "Every Night in Central Park" and "What Will Your Answer Be?"

LOTTIE MORTIMER has added the song, "Sweet Little Rosey Posey," to her repertory.

MAY HOWARD has been singing "Maggie Maguire" with considerable success.

O'BRIEN AND WRIGHT have made an excellent mark during their Brooklyn engagement with "Hot Tamale Alley."

HARRY WEBB, the boy soprano, is singing very effectively "Rosey Posey" at Hammerstein's Olympia Roof Garden.

DOLPH AND SUSIE LEVINO are spending the Summer on their farm at Stevensville, Mich. They have signed with the Howard Athenaeum Co. for next season.

MARTHA FRANKLIN was engaged to do her specialty at the Central Opera House Music Hall, this city, last week, in place of Mamie Vincent, who disappointed.

LESSER & WOLF, proprietors and managers of the James Thornton Elite Vaudeville Co., inform us that their show is complete in every detail, that their time is nearly all filled, and that they play the leading vaudeville and legitimate houses throughout the country, opening at the Cleveland Theatre, Cleveland, O., Sept. 7. The people engaged are from the foremost ranks of the profession, and are under contract to do new specialties. The company is composed of the following well known artists: Bonnie Thornton, Jas. Thornton, Harry Le Clair (of Le Clair and Leslie), Edwin Latell, Smith O'Brien, Harry Wright, La Moyne Bros, the Morellos, Prince Flatow and Carrie Dunn, and conclude with Harry Le Clair's screaming farce, "My Wife's Mother."

TWENTIETH CENTURY SPORTS ROSTER.—F. C. Huffman, manager; Geo. A. Smith, private secretary; J. C. Allison, treasurer; Wallace Keffer, business manager; Joe Kelly, stage manager; Geo. Holbroke, musical director; Joe Stevens, calcium lights. Specialty people: Kelly and St. Clair, the Holbrooks, Ed. and Roila White, Hart and Williams, Ada B. Downie, Teddy Pasquelina, Hill Sisters and twelve chorus girls. Grand ballet by Augustus Sohlke and special scenery. Not the best, but as good as any.

"SEYMOUR'S GAY NEW YORKERS" is the title of a new burlesque organization, opening in Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 10. Mr. Seymour has engaged a strong company and chorus, and announces that he will present a thoroughly clean and up to date performance, everything from first part to burlesque being new and original. The roster of the company is as follows: H. F. Seymour, George W. June, J. C. Griffith, Lionel Lawrence, Weston Bros., Eddy Rogers, Girard and Gaylor, Mayne and Nellson, Carrie Sanford, Bobby Burns, Clarice Vance, Flora Leonard, and a female chorus of twelve.

FREGOLI, at the close of his present engagement in this city, will make a tour of the principal cities of the country, under the management of Henry Greenwall.

CHAS. MEINEL, comedian, closes with Rich's Merry Makers at Sangerville, Me., and will spend a few weeks with his mother, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

PEARL LIVINGSTON, who has been suffering from the result of a fall from her wheel, is recovering rapidly and will shortly produce a single singing specialty, with stereopticon views.

IT IS stated that J. H. Haverly has, through an investment made several years ago, become a rich man again. The investment was made in Colorado mining lands, at the flush of Mr. Haverly's prosperity as a manager, and, report has it, the discovery of gold on these lands has caused the town of Haverly to spring up and made it possible for the mastodon minstrel man to one day be counted among the rich men of the West. This is rumor's happy story, but it has not yet been verified.

RUBY MARION will go with Miaco's City Club Co., making her fourth consecutive season.

ZAC-CART, the frog man and high wire performer, is filling a two weeks' engagement at Roton Point Auditorium, Rowayton, Conn.

Miscellaneous

WITHERELL & DOUD'S "U. T. C." NOTES.—Good weather, good business, good roads and good health are making the world look bright to us. The stock, in charge of Adam McCafferty, is looking well, and the canvas, in charge of Jack Smith, goes up and comes down like clockwork. Recent visitors are: Alf Hall, of Tony Farrell's Co., and J. C. Rockwell, of Rockwell's Theatre Co. Orville Walton, our trap drummer, is again at his post, having recovered from his recent illness. Arthur McCarty keeps us roaring with laughter with his funny stories, and makes many a long drive seem short. He is a great lover of scenery also, and has made several fine sketches. Jim Silver's new monologue, "Don't Call Me Professor," is a success. Charles Brickwood is picking the banjo in the concert, and occasionally speaks of when he traveled through this section twenty years ago. Florence Brockway, our Topsy, is highly successful. Little Mabel Witherell, our Eva, is a great favorite with the public and with us as well. The spook stalks regularly every Monday morning.

CHARLES WOLCOTT, who met with such a serious accident while making a balloon ascension in Venezuela last October, underwent a surgical operation July 9, in this city. The operation, which was made to cure the partial paralysis from which Mr. Wolcott was suffering, as the result of his fearful fall, appears at present to have been successful, and the injured aeronaut hopes to be a well man in a few months.

HARRY BELMONT has signed as agent with Wilder's Concert Co. for the coming season, opening Aug. 22.

LA ROSE, of La Rose and Scott, and Morton, of Morton and Eckhoff, inform us that they are doing a new musical act with French's New Sensation, No. 2, and are winning favor.

NOTES FROM KEMP SISTERS' HIPPODROME AND WILD WEST.—We are in our tenth week and have been successful. We exhibited July 4 at Pittsburg, Pa., to an immense crowd, in spite of rain. We are booked solid for August and September.

THE KINCAID OVERLAND VARIETY AND MINSTREL SHOW opens at Perrysville, O., July 16. We have everything painted bright and expect to make Rome, O., howl. A. L. Standish, manager, joined 6.

MLLE. THELMA AUBEROUE is touring Texas cities with the Abt Ladies Trio Concert Co.

NOTES FROM DOC GIBBS' FAIR GROUND SHOW.—We open Aug. 1, at Chillicothe, O., and will carry twenty people. We will use a theatre tent 40x70, with stage and scenery and twenty lengths of seats. We will also have a museum tent 50x80.

SIGNOR VALLO is summering at Ridgemont, Va.

NOTES FROM WILDER'S SPECIALTY CO.—Business continues good. The Deckers closed July 1, and Tom Delmore, acrobat and comedian, joined 2. We bought a new band wagon July 4, and the band, under Prof. Jas. S. Walker, is being featured.

NOTES FROM GUS LAMBRIGGER'S TRAVELING MUSEUM.—The Fourth of July, as usual, was a big day for us. Mr. Lambrigger is doing good work, business continues good, and everybody with the troupe is well. Mme. De Orville was overrun with business on the Fourth. Harry Jones, the ossifying man, is the chief attraction.

ROSTER OF COLORADO CHARLEY'S WILD WEST MUSEUM, located at North Beach, L. I., for the Summer.—Col. Charley, proprietor and manager; Little Dead Shot and Prairie Queen, rifle shots and impalement act; Charles Leland's Wild West Marionetts and Punch and Judy, Millia Amia, tattooed lady, and a band of six pieces. Our fair dates are all booked up strong. Business is good.

World Players

— Al. Hayman and Charles Frohman have closed contracts with H. Beerbohm Tree and Her Majesty's Theatre Co. for a twelve weeks' tour of America, commencing in November. Mr. Tree will close his management of the Haymarket Theatre at the end of July, and his new theatre, directly opposite, is now in course of construction. He is now forming his organization and preparing the production for that house, which will open in February. He will make the production for his new London theatre in New York. His first new play is from Gilbert Parker's book, "The Seats of the Mighty," on which he controls the exclusive rights for England and America. Mr. Tree will play four weeks in New York, at the late Abbey's Theatre; three weeks at the Chestnut Street Opera House, Philadelphia, Pa.; one week at Albaugh's Theatre, Washington; one week at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston, Mass.

— Henry C. Miner and Joseph Brooks have purchased the McVicker Theatre Company's interest in the American Theatrical Syndicate. The company will be incorporated under the name of Miner & Brooks. Their first production here will be Messrs. Goodwin and Morse's musical comedy, "Lost, Strayed, or Stolen," which has already been seen in Chicago, Ill., and which will be presented at the Fifth Avenue Theatre Sept. 14. On the same date E. M. and Joseph Holland will open their tour under this management at McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, presenting "A Social Highwayman." Later in the season the Messrs. Holland will be seen in a new play, by Henry Guy Carleton, entitled "Two Men of Business," and also in "A Superfluous Husband," a play by Clyde Fitch and Leo Dietrichstein. They will be seen at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in December.

— Fred Clarke has been re-engaged for next season for the role of Cy Prime in "The Old Homestead."

— It is rumored that Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger intend to launch David Warfield in a starring venture when they succeed in obtaining for him a suitable play.

— Harry R. Vickers is organizing a strong company for the revival of "Our American Cousin," which will be handsomely staged and costumed. Special paper of the best description has been contracted for, and the company is being booked at first class houses.

GEORGIA.

Atlanta.—At the Grand, with the performance of July 11, the fifth successful week of Summer opera was brought to a close. "The Mikado," "The Bohemian Girl" and "Fra Diavalo" were presented, the last named opera drawing the best houses. "Trilby in a Nutshell," as given by George Boniface and Gertie Carlisle, assisted by J. J. Rosenthal, was the hit of the week. Miss Carlisle has been engaged for week of 13. A testimonial performance to Mr. Boniface will be given 16, on which occasion "The Chimes of Normandy" will be sung. Mr. Boniface leaves the Atlantians 18. He is under contract to create a role in a new opera to be produced at an early date at the Herald Square Theatre, New York City. Manager Rosenthal has received numerous letters from neighboring cities requesting a visit from his company. He has determined to make the organization a permanent one to play Southern territory, making week stands and presenting a repertory of operas. With this purpose in view he will at once strengthen the company.

Macon.—There are no new faces at Putzell's Vaudeville this week. Business at this house has been phenomenal, the S. R. O. sign being displayed every night during last week. Misses Braunneck and Young have made hits in their dancing acts. ......Major E. E. Winters has opened a theatre at Crump's Park for the Summer. The Macon Minstrels, an amateur organization, have been engaged for this week......Contracts have been let for another vaudeville theatre in Macon by Benner Bros., well known to the profession as proprietors of Benners' European Hotel.

MINNESOTA.

Duluth.—The Pavilion on the Hill Top has had fair weather for the past week, but the business was only fair. "Boccaccio" was the opera for week of July 6, with Mayme Taylor in the principal role and Lizzie Gonzalez as Fiametta. For week of 12, "Pinafore" and "La Mascotte."

THE PARLOR THEATRE had for the week of 6: Geo. Fisher, Della Wall, Geo. E. Johnson, Gladis E. Johnson, Sadie Steel, the Florence Sisters, Frank Kent, Anton F. Johnson and the regular stock.

— Jessie Le Claire has signed for Ed. Rush's "White Crook" Co., No. 1.

— For the season of 1896-7 the Corning Opera House, Corning, N. Y., will be under the management of Harry J. Sternberg, late manager Arcade Opera House, Kankakee, Ill.

— Louis Eagan writes that by the burning of the N. P. freight depot at St. Paul, Minn., all the scenery and properies of "The Midnight Flood," besides some wardrobe and a lot of lithograph and other printing, were destroyed.

— Laura Hulbert, who has been spending her vacation at Reed's Lake, Grand Rapids and Tekonsha, Mich., will shortly return to Chicago, Ill.

— Prof. Harry S. Hopping has signed with Eldons Comedians, as musical director, for next season.

— Jennie Holman will produce shortly, at Eureka Springs, Ark., a new three act play, "Mlle. Mounette," by May Melvin Ward.

— Warren W. Ashley is summering at Dixon, Ill.

— Bertha Brush will spend the Summer at the home of her sister in Vineland, N. J.

— Prof. Harry S. Hopping, musical director, closes his third season with the Hawthorne Sisters' Co. July 18, at Adairville, Ky. He will spend three days at his home, in Indianapolis, Ind., and then join Eldon's Comedians, at Bainbridge, Ind., for the coming season.

— May Melvin Ward writes from Greenville, Miss., to express her pleasure at the good returns she and Ida C. Ward realized from two cards in recent CLIPPERS advertising their new book of monologues.

— Francis Jones will play next season, alternately with "In Old Madrid," a fantastic musical comedy, "Dolly Pierrot," written for him by Ida C. Ward.

— Chas. Rosskam, manager of the Graham Earle Co., who has been in the East for the past three weeks, combining business and pleasure, returned to Chicago, Ill., on Sunday last. The company opens in that city July 20.

— Herbert Dillea, musical director, will return to the Murray & Mack Co. this season, and has composed the incidental music for their new play, "Finnigan's Courtship." He is visiting relatives at Senecaville, O., and will remain there until rehearsals begin.

— The people already engaged to support Florence Hamilton in repertory are: Theo. Stark, John W. Barry, Bert Gaynon, Harry Robertson and Paul Harris. Edith Pollock, late of "The County Fair," has been secured for soubrette. Managers Braunig, Marlow & Hodge have made a special contract with A. M. Palmer for "Hazel Kirke" and the use of all printing; also with Wm. De Shetley, through Howard & Doyle, for "Alone in London." Miss Hamilton starred in that play through the East some two years ago. A fine line of new and special printing has been made, and no expense has been spared.

— Daisy Beverly and Little Pansy have signed with R. A. Johnson for the season of 1896-97. Miss Beverly will act as leading lady, while Little Pansy's dance will be featured with the company.

— "A Booming Town" Co. will open the season Aug. 17, at the Park Theatre, Indianapolis, Ind. The scenery will be painted by Sosman & Landis, Chicago, Ill., and the costumes will be designed and furnished by Mme. Dyiard, of New York. The tour will embrace San Francisco and the coast, and all the principal cities will be visited. Complete list of co. and business staff: Bert Leslie and Clayton White, featured under team name of Leslie and White; Chris Bruno, J. G. McDowell, A. C. Lawrence, C. L. Jerome, Kittie Beck, Truly Shattuck, Loring Sisters, Trumbull Sisters, Louise Bliss, Georgia Ray, W. L. Walters, advance representative; George Chenet, acting manager; Murphy, Mack & White, proprietors.

— John Sleeper Clarke is contemplating a return to the stage next season, for the purpose of making a tour of the larger cities of this country and of Canada. Negotiations are now pending whereby he may be seen as Dr. Pangloss, in "The Heir at Law," under the joint management of his son, Creston Clarke, and of Daniel Frohman.

— Little Lovell Molyneaux has retired from the stage and is attending boarding school in St. Louis, Mo., where he is very popular, no entertainment being complete without his assistance. Mazie Molyneaux is resting and visiting friends in Elgin, Ill., having closed the season with Ezra Kendall.

— Notes from the Goodwin & Rashland Co.: Our business has been very good in Northwestern Pennsylvania, and we are now playing return engagements. We have engaged several new people for next season, and our company will be one of the strongest repertory organizations on the road. Our time is very nearly all filled. We will make a feature of our production of "East Lynne."

— Ellen Vockey has accompanied her aged mother to Hot Springs, Va. During her Summer sojourn at that place Miss Vockey will give a series of recitals.

Variety and Minstrelsy

NOTES OF DARKEST AMERICA.—Rehearsals under the direction of Frank Dumont are going along very nicely, and will be in smooth running order by July 22, our opening date. Mr. Dumont will remain with the company until every detail is perfected, at which time the management of the stage will be given to Robert Irving. Our roster embraces the following people: Sam Lucas and wife, Oscar and Nettie Paul, Goodman and Spencer, James Crosby, Billy Miller, Geo. Titchner, James White, McCarver Bros., John Rucker, Howard and Ferris, Gil Garay, Cicero Reed, Ben Moore, A. Henderson, Will Merritt, Jas. Morton, Lawrence Chenault, C. D. THE STANFORD MUSIC CO. publications are being introduced by the following performers: O'Neil and Sutherland, Kitty Nelson, Evans and Huffman, Ladell and Alvarez, Anna Driver, little May Bryant, John Lorenze, Maud Detty, Mabel Sisson, Lew Spencer and others. The company has in print "My Dear Janette," "Does I Love Ma Honey, Well I Guess I Do, I Do!" "My Pet Is a Charming Brunette," "The Blushing Girl" and others, which will be announced shortly.

NORMAN, frog man, is spending his vacation on the banks of Lake Erie. He is booked for a circuit of F. F. Proctor's houses in August.

MME. JUDIC, the French opera bouffe singer, is coming to this country next season, to appear in our leading music halls.

OLLIE YOUNG, club juggler, has signed with Al. G. Field's Minstrels for the coming season.

PAPINTA has made a decided success with her dances at the Orpheum, Los Angeles, Cal.

HELENE MORA closed her vaudeville season last week, and will spend the Summer at Atlantic City, N. J., as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidge. It is probable that she will, in conjunction with her sister, Fannie Mora, appear in light operettas and sketches for private entertainments during her sojourn at that watering place.

MADELINE MARSHALL and Kittie Nelson are winning favor at Hammerstein's Olympia Roof Garden, this city. They are now in their second week.

IRVIN T. BUSH has just concluded a three weeks' sojourn at Atlantic City, N. J., and opens at Ocean View, Va., July 13. His time is all filled till he joins Rice & Barton's Extravaganza Co., in August.

JAMES MULLIGAN has joined the Davenport Concert Co.

B. F. KEITH, who is in London, Eng., played the part of host to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston, July 11, when he tendered to "The Ancients" and their ladies a tally-ho drive through the London suburbs. Mr. Keith had seventeen handsome coaches in line, carrying over two hundred people in all. The affair was a social success. The continuous performance manager attended the reception at Marlborough House of the Ancients, and was also a guest at the banquet of the London Artillery Company to the Ancients, at which the Prince of Wales presided.

JAMES SAVOY, of the Savoys, informs us that owing to his injuring himself, July 6, at Wilmington, Del., during their performance, the team was obliged to cancel week of July 13, at Gordon Heights Park.

STEVE MIACO, of the Miaco family, met with a serious accident while performing at Perry's Pavilion, July 2. While waiting for his cue to go on the stage a careless property man discharged a shotgun point blank at Mr. Miaco's left hand, nearly severing the third finger and injuring the index finger. He is now under a physician's care at his sister in law's house, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

CAFFREY AND WEST closed a three weeks' engagement at Hergelroth's Pavilion Theatre, and opened at Atlantic City, N. J.

ALLAN H. WAAS writes: "I have joined A. H. Maddox, and we are doing a new act, entitled 'Fun in a Detective's Office.' We did so well at Hopkins' Theatre, Chicago, Ill., that we were re-engaged for two weeks, and have the Masonic Roof Garden to follow, also the Chicago Opera House and New Topic Theatre, Cripple Creek, Col."

MAJOR JAS. DOYLE was presented with a handsome elk tooth charm at the Elks' convention in Cincinnati, O., for being the shortest Elk in line.

THE HOLBROOKS are meeting with success in their new musical sketch, by Frank Dumont, entitled "The Musical Domestic." They are now in their fourth week at the Norwich, Ct., R. R. Co's. Park.

E. L. WILLIAMS writes from Indianapolis, Ind., that he is recovering from a stroke of paralysis, and expects to be able to return to business by the middle of August.

WILL H. FOX has made a hit in London, Eng., as he is re-engaged for the third time at the Palace Theatre.

THE SILVERS, descriptive vocalists, are successful singing the songs, "When the Lights Went Out," "There'll Come a Time" and "Better Than Gold," illustrating them with views taken from life, at Hammerstein's Olympia. The songs are from the pen of Charles K. Harris. The Silvers have been re-engaged for the week of July 13 at the above theatre.

"TITENIA," descriptive toe dancer, who recently filled a week's engagement at Hammerstein's Roof Garden, will next season be at the head of a strong vaudeville organization.

GUS A. WURZELL, Punch and Judy performer, and Prof. Lawrence, magician and illusionist, made their third annual appearance at the Fourth of July celebration held at Schenley Park, Pittsburg, Pa., and also entertained the inmates of the various orphan asylums at the excursion given them by Mrs. J. M. Gusky.

WILBUR MACK informs us that he was well received at the Park Pavilion, Cleveland, O., and will open on the Lake Erie Summer circuit at the Casino, Mansfield, O., July 27.

MARION BLAKE, female baritone, and Wilbur Mack, comedian and tenor, have formed a partnership, and will work together after Aug. 31.

JOHN NESTOR, descriptive tenor and baritone, is featuring Monroe H. Rosenfeld's popular song, "Those Wedding Bells Shall Not Ring Out!" with considerable success. During the past week he has made no less than a score of different records of it for the phonograph.

G. E. LOTHROP has cabled from London, Eng., to open the Howard Athenæum, Boston, Mass., Aug. 3.

THOS. W. PRIOR is now busily engaged in Chicago, Ill., booking attractions for the Ferris Wheel Park. The gigantic wheel, which was the principal feature of the World's Fair time in Chicago, has been planted in a commodious space in the north side of that city, and in connection with the wheel itself, which is a tremendous drawing factor, Mr. Prior proposes putting a big vaudeville show that will eclipse anything in Chicago.

GERTRUDE HAYNES, who is summering at Scott Lake, O., is booked to appear early in August at Jefferson Park, Detroit, Mich.

MOLLIE PHELPS goes with Jermon's "Black Crook" next season.

BUESS AND NORTHWOOD, comic acrobats and clowns, have joined the Walter L. Main Show at St. Johns for the remainder of the season.

HARRY LE CLAIR, in his new protean entertainment, entitled "People You Meet in Every Day Life," has just finished a week's engagement at the Central Opera House, this city. After closing the performance and keeping his audience seated for twenty-five minutes he was obliged to make speeches on several occasions. He has been re-engaged for a later week.

PROF. WM. F. FREIER, magician and hypnotist, now touring Minnesota, has engaged Millie La Mar for assistant and hypnotic subject for the Summer season.

HARRY ST. CLAIR is summering at Lancaster, Pa.

OZAV, juggler, opened July 13 at Charlotte Beach, Rochester, N. Y., for two weeks.

CELERON, near Jamestown, N. Y., has become a popular resort. Upon the grounds, directly over the lake, is situated the Open Air Theatre. The acoustic properties are perfect and every word is audible in the large pavilion. The theatre is under the management of Jules Delmar. The following people last week gave a show of high class: The Musgraves, Leary Sisters, Charley Case, and Samson and Zaccho.

THE THREE DE NOVAS, aerialists, and Kittie Houston, electric dancer, have just finished the circuit of the Texas Street R. R. Co. parks of ten weeks, and are now at Monroe Park, Mobile, Ala., where they will close July 14, and leave for the East. Mrs. Kittie Houston, wife of C. W. De Nova, will stop off at Decatur, Ill., to visit her mother in law, Mrs. L. B. Houston, and will join her husband in Chicago, Ill.

LOTTIE WILLIAMS has signed with Weber's Olympia Co. for next season. Lulu Williams has also signed with the company.

FRANK CLIFFORD, female impersonator, is in his fifth week at Ferry Bar, Baltimore, Md.

GOULD AND BURK inform us that they opened July 7, at Electric Park, Baltimore, Md., and met with instant success.

THE LA MORE BROS., acrobats and aerialists, are taking a three weeks' vacation at their home, in Dubuque, Ia.

PARKER AND RETARDO were each presented with gold watch chains and baskets of flowers while playing in Bridgeport, Ct., last week, by the Jerry Donovan Association.

DAISY SCHEBER, while dancing at Coney Island recently, was taken suddenly ill, and was removed to the St. Catherine's Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.

JENNIE FAYER informs us that she was recently divorced from John S. Moore, of the Academy of Music, Jersey City, N. J.

ANDY MORRIS and Charles H. Keesham are engaged at "Shooting the Chutes" in Chicago, Ill.

FLORENCE GILBERT, of the team Potter and Gilbert, has just closed a two weeks' successful engagement at the Park Pavilion, Cleveland, O., and is now at the Columbia Theatre, Sistersville, W. Va.

DAVE MARION will take a benefit July 21, at the Orpheus Music Hall, Chicago, Ill.

ELLA DUNBAR PALACHECK writes us that she has sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to go to Atlantic City, N. J., where she will spend the Summer with her husband.

THE SPENCER BROTHERS, Irish comedians, are at Rocky Springs Park, Lancaster, Pa., this week.

BROWN'S EXTRAVAGANZA NOTES.—We closed July 11, at Scranton, Pa., a very successful season of three weeks. We will not play extravaganza next season. The various members of our company have gone to their respective homes. Rehearsals for our new enterprise will begin Aug. 31, and the company will number seventy-eight people, with a brass band and orchestra. Our opening date will be announced later.

HARRY D'ESTA writes: "I am, in connection with J. M. Hoyt, of Hoyt's Theatre, So. Norwich, managing the Roton Point Auditorium, So. Norwich, Ct. Also sole manager for Shippan Point Casino, Stamford, Ct., six miles distant. By this arrangement I am able to offer two weeks to attractions. At Roton Point Auditorium, week of July 13: 'Chiparaoo,' high wire act; Little Carrie Seyfert, C. D. Fenton, Zac-Cart, frog contortionist; F. K. Dalton and Harry and L. Mai D'Esta. Wm. W. Rhoads' Mechanical Theatre is booked for July 27 and week. I received two hundred and eighty-seven answers to my little $2 'ad.' in THE CLIPPER. When I assumed management of Casino Mr. Bush, the proprietor, turned over to me eight hundred and fifty three letters received in five weeks from his $5 'ad.' in THE CLIPPER."

MANAGER JOE PHILLIP, who was at one time connected with Harry Martel in the management of the Star, Hoboken, N. J., has had a stroke of paralysis.

MAMIE DIAMOND, of the team known as The Diamonds, is seriously ill at her home, Park Avenue, Hoboken, N. J. A benefit is being arranged for her at Phillips' Casino, Aug. 10.

Under the Tents

BONHEUR BROS.' SHOW NOTES.—The Fourth of July was spent in a pleasant Minnesota town, where the main attraction was the new model show, and the turnout to the afternoon performance was good. In the evening the tent was packed, and a large percentage of the crowd remained for the concert. Charles De Frosto, female impersonator, joined the show there. His voice is pleasing and his dancing was vigorously applauded. The floral serpentine dance of Deda gained much favorable comment. Wen Thornton was a favorite in his witty Irish turns and old woman impersonations. The Walkers, C. T., Alice and Deda, made a pleasing impression. Albert Johnson, in Dutch specialties, brought forth rounds of applause. Maud Johnson and Elnora Dardis, vocalists, made many friends, and Sloan Edwards, as usual, came in for his share of public favor. Some of the Ringling working people came over from Spring Valley and Osage and joined the show, to work on canvas. Prof. C. A. Hibbard, wire walker, was spoken of as "a well balanced young man," and nothing but praise is accorded him in his juggling and equilibristic feats in midair. He has arranged to start a school of physical culture at his home, in Vermont, at the close of his season with this show. A splendid team of horses has been added to the stock. Everybody is happy and enjoying good health. Salary day is promptly attended by the man in white. At our Thursday night performance the tent was packed and the audience enthusiastic, and splendid bouquets of natural flowers were thrown at the feet of Deda and at Wen. Thornton, while silver coin was flung at the feet of Charles Froste by applauding admirers, who actually mistook him for a handsome young lady, his impersonation was so complete. The strong colored lights of changing hues, casting variegated shadows on the waving folds of his satin costume in the broad glare of gas lamps illuminating the tent, gives to his graceful figure great brilliancy. Another feature of the evening shows is the wonderful floral serpentine dance by Deda and the pleasing forecast of our next President, which elicits cheers of happy applauding at each presentation of this feature. Doc. Lee, the cook, bakes bread for the company while en route, and it knocks the alum baker's out. The show is doing a good business, in spite of harvest and hot weather.

CHARLES AND GLADYS ORVILLE recently joined the Van Amburg Circus.

CHARLES H. FERRON, known in the circus profession as Fanola, who committed suicide July 6, in Ludlow Street jail, this city, had been sentenced on that day to eleven months in the penitentiary for having counterfeited trade marks. He pleaded guilty. Some time ago, in connection with a man named Curtis, he formed a company known as the International Propaganda Co., and soon afterward the concern began to flood the market with imitations of the remedies produced by a medicine company. At the instance of that concern Ferron was arrested last April, on the charge of counterfeiting its trade marks. The company brought a civil action and obtained a judgment for $30,000 by default, and upon execution of this judgment Ferron was taken to Ludlow Street Jail to serve six months. This term had not expired when he was sentenced to the penitentiary.

NOTES FROM HOWE'S LONDON RAILROAD SHOW.—Geo. W. Richold's Circus and Howe's London Circus have combined under the above title. We will carry fourteen cages of animals, two elephants, two camels, new wagons and a calliope. We claim to have now the biggest show on the road of its class. We leave Chicago, Ill., for the road July 20, and will use six flat cars, four stock cars, two sleepers and two advance cars, carrying ninety head of stock. We are now showing in Chicago to packed tents.

NOTES FROM WOOD BROS.' UNITED SHOWS.—We arrived in Chicago, Ill., from the South April 18 and opened in that city 21, having had but three days' recreation since our opening last season. Our show has been strengthened by the following people: Cecil Lewando, principal and hurdle act; the Leon Children, acrobats and wire act; Maretta Sisters, triple traps and rings; King and Stinson, aerial ladder and traps; Powell, contortionist; Ed. Leon, bars, and Ed. Shipp, equestrian director. Geo. Wood's ponies are doing a great drill act, in addition to their old acts, which takes our patrons by storm. Newton Marks, with five assistants, has taken charge of the advance since our opening this season. We played sixty-three stands in Chicago, and are now touring Illinois. Business has been such that we have no cause for complaint. Our ever welcome friend, THE CLIPPER, arrives weekly.

ELLET AND RICKSON, triple bars and flying trapeze performers, are with D. U. Perrine's New Shows.

GEO. W. GALLAGHER, general agent of Scribner & Smith's Circus, writes us that Stanley De Lonzo is programme advertising manager of that show, and not advertising manager, as he was styled in our last issue. He further writes that C. E. White is contracting agent, with ten bill posters, as follow: Lew Currie, in charge of paper; Jas. D. Fay, lithographer; C. G. Weise, programmer; Joe Green, Fred Lohman, Jas. Kelley, Andy Strobel, Sam Elliott, Ike Ellis and E. J. Smithers, bill posters. Business continues good.

NOTES FROM MCCORMICK BROTHERS' SILVER Plate Show.—On the way from Ravenswood, W. Va., to Middleport, Ohio, the McCormicks experienced a most horrible night. July 3 a cloud burst, which lasted for about an hour, was considered to be the worst ever witnessed in this section of the country. The water dashed by in torrents, down the hillsides into the creek below, carrying bridges, sawmills, lumber and harvested crops before it, laying flat the corn and hay. Some places it followed along the roads, washing great ditches, into which the horses and heavy wagons were mired. Men and managers, band and all, worked from daylight till 5 A. M. building two bridges, in order to get through. The band wagon was in the lead and was compelled to stop. Fortunately a school house presented itself, which was very acceptable. Fire was made of benches and desks, and the art of ringing the water out of their clothes was tastefully displayed. Perhaps such a night was never before experienced. Lightning was very close, which made it disagreeable in managing the horses. Some of the lighter wagons passed over very dangerous places, but fortunately nobody was killed or hurt. We arrived in Middleport too late for an afternoon performance, but packed the canvas to overflowing at night, and gave satisfaction in every respect. We lay off this week for repairs and a good rest. The show is a grand success in all ways. The Horlatchers are lengthening their rigging for their return act this week, which makes the long leap of Burt Horlatcher to his partner's hands a distance of 32 feet instead of 28. Little Fritz Horlatcher will be used in the return act also. We make the second opening of this season at Gallipolis, Ohio, Saturday, July 11, and strike South.

NOTES FROM MCPHEE & KISER'S SHOWS.—We are now in our seventh week, and Dame Fortune still smiles upon us. The first three weeks we encountered hard rains and other disadvantages, but the past three weeks have been pleasant and business is good. The man in white and the OLD RELIABLE come with equal regularity. Hunting and fishing is the order of the day, Andrew McPhee excelling with the rifle and Dan Malcolm is a regular Svengali with the finny tribe, although Sheridan declares Dan buys the fish from the Indians. Fourth of July was celebrated in a creditable manner at Fort William. Fire crackers and ice cream were indulged in, and the band boys played the American national airs at the evening concert, closing with a short oration by Jas. Libby. We remain at Rat Portage, Ont., four days, and then fill a special engagement during the fair at Riverside Park, Winnipeg, Manitoba, where we will meet the Wallace Shows, and as some of our boys have many friends there they are looking forward for a pleasant visit and talks of Auld Lang Sayne. Our cars are receiving a new coating of paint and tasty decorations, together with a fine set of new scenery by our own special artist, which will enable us to cope with the best opera houses.

NOTES FROM THE GOLLMAR BROS.' CIRCUS AND Menagerie.—Business thus far is excellent and our show is giving great satisfaction. E. V. Hocum's somersault riding is making a hit. Buckskin Bill (Jas. Payne) and Ray Farrows are making a big success with their fancy shooting. Gilliam Family's aerial and acrobatic work is catching the people. Mlle. Eldredge's principal riding is a good act. Vulcan's hurdle and jockey riding goes with a vim. Jos. Fitzgerald's equilibristic juggling is clever; he also does an excellent club act. Our concert is making a hit and drawing well. Our annex is also doing a land office business. Prof. A. Bauscher and wife are the features. The Bauscher Club went fishing Sunday, and caught a large string of fish, but a big porker ate them up, so they say, but the boys found out they were fibbing, because the pig squealed on them. Mr. and Mrs. George Gollmar, the father and mother of the Gollmar Bros., their three sisters and Mrs. J. C. Gollmar and son visited us at Elroy, July 4.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Washington.—With only two theatres open—Rapley's National for comedy and Kernan's Lyceum for vaudeville—business was exceptionally good during last week, when it is considered that the town has been flooded with Christian Endeavorers, whose convention was going on during the entire week, and they have attracted many of our regular playgoers to their immense tents.

RAPLEY'S NATIONAL THEATRE.—The Washington Stock Company presented Mark Melford's comedy drama, "Turned Up," scoring the usual satisfactory results. Frederic Bond as Carraway Bones, the undertaker; William Boag as Nod Steddam, John Findlay as General Baltic, Charles Mackey as George Medway, Mary Sanders as Cleopatra, Agnes Findlay as Mrs. Pannoll, Edythe Chapman as Sabina Medway, Abbie Johnson as Mary Medway, and Bretta Marti as Ada Baltic, each played their respective roles well and made a very smooth and amusing performance. A curtain raiser by Paul Wilstach, the dramatic editor of The Washington Times, entitled "Bridget," proved very bright, and reflected great credit on its author. The three characters—Mr. and Mrs. Austin and Bridget—were taken by William Boag, Mary Sanders and Jean Lockwood, respectively, with credit alike to the little play and to themselves. This week, the fifth of the season, "Snowball" is being presented. "My Awful Dad," one of the greatest successes of this company in former seasons, follows July 20-25.

KERNAN'S LYCEUM THEATRE.—The sixth week of the Lyceum Stock Co., under the direction of John Grieves, was devoted to the presentation of a burlesque on "Pinafore," under the title of "Her Majesty's Safety Pin," and, like all others which have preceded it during the present season, was most admirably done, the characters being without exception well taken. The present week, 13-18, will be the last of the present season, and a burlesque on "Olivette," entitled "All Over It," is on.

LAFAYETTE SQUARE OPERA HOUSE.—A magnificently illustrated lecture on "The Passion Play of Oberammergau" was presented for the entertainment of the hosts of Christian Endeavorers, but was very poorly attended. It was repeated night of 13 with somewhat better financial results.

NOTES.—Frank Dumont stopped over here 9, visiting friends. He is en route to Columbus, O., whither he goes to rehearse Al. G. Field's "Darkest America" Co.....Tim Murphy rested at his home a portion of last week. He is making an unqualified success in his imitation of celebrated actors. His "Dream of Mathias," from "The Bells," is a strikingly life like impersonation of Sir Henry Irving in the character named. Mr. Murphy has a few more weeks in the continuous performance houses, but will head his own company again next season, for which he has secured a new play..... Hans Roberts, a remarkably clever young Washington actor, who for the past two seasons has been with Augustin Daly's Co., is resting at his home in this city. He has been re-engaged by Mr. Daly for next season.....James Manley goes with Tim Murphy again next season.....Giles Shine and wife (Lavinia Shannon) are summering here. Mr. Shine goes again next season with "The Fatal Card," having been re-engaged by Mr. Frohman. .....Annie Lewis, who was obliged to relinquish the stage all last season on account of a severe throat trouble, is rapidly recovering, and will undoubtedly resume her place in the profession early in the coming season.....Your correspondent, who was knocked down by a scorching bicycle, run over by an express wagon and pretty nearly "knocked out" two months ago, has so far recovered from his broken bones and bruises as to be able to "do the rounds" again. He desires to publicly acknowledge his sincere thanks to his chum, John T. Warde, for keeping up his weekly letter to the OLD RELIABLE during the eight weeks that he was not able to do it himself.

NEW JERSEY.

Jersey City.—Gentry's Dog and Pony Show closed a fair week here July 11. The show goes to Atlantic City for an indefinite period, opening 13. Prof. Gentry intends to play all the Summer resorts on the Atlantic coast.....Everything is quiet at the Academy. "The Merry World" is booked for the opening, Aug. 31.....The Bon Ton is being overhauled for next season. Messrs. Bell & Maguire have engaged Lew Shaw for business manager.....Manager Will Black, of the Hoboken Lyric, has removed to that city. The house will open the regular season Sept. 5 with a New York success.....Scenic Artist Joseph H. Hart is using the Lyric paint bridge for Jacob Litt's latest, "In Gay Coney Island.".....William R. Brown, of the Bastable Theatre, Syracuse, N. Y., will be Manager Black's treasurer....Manager John P. Colligan and his wife (Marie Schmidt), of the Hoboken Imperial, are mourning the loss of their little baby daughter, who died June 24.

Atlantic City.—At the Academy of Music the Young & Fralinger Opera Co. continues to please large audiences at the daily matinees and evening performances. This week "The Beggar Student" is the particular attraction. Sunday evening this house was crowded to witness a benefit performance tendered to Comedian Frank Woolley, who is at present in the Municipal Hospital. The programme was contributed by a number of the Young & Fralinger Company, and some professionals who are resting here. As a result a neat sum was turned over to Mr. Woolley.

THE EMPIRE.—Crowded houses rule at every performance. This week: Hines and Remington, Laura Bennett, three Lane Sisters, the Baggesens, John McCool, Emma Francis, John Lorenz and Emma Krause (fourth week). In addition to the regular company Col. C. C. Shelby and son appeared Sunday evening in an expose of Spiritualism.

GUVERNATOR'S THEATRE.—Big business morning, noon and night. This week's new faces: De Hollis and Valara, Culhane and St. Felix, Videlia and La Dell, McLean and Hall. Remaining: Curtis and Gordon, the Whites, Chappelle Sisters, Price and Watson, Louise Dempsey, Gus Mills, the Countiss Sisters and the Sheerans.

CLEVELAND'S IRON PIER.—Same company of minstrels and vaudeville performers remain.

OCEAN PIER.—Bessie Gilbert, cornettist, commenced a season's engagement July 11.

SCHWAMB'S GARDEN.—American Lady Orchestra and vaudeville.

ALBRECHT'S GARDEN.—Last week's company remains.

CHAT.—Kerslake's Circus, which has been an attraction on Brigantine Beach, adjoining Atlantic City, for the past two weeks, closed July 11..... Gentry's Dog and Pony Circus opens an indefinite engagement at Missouri and Pacific Avenues 13. .....Ben Lodge, comedian, joined the Young & Fralinger Opera Co. at the Academy last week, to play the role of Brother Pelican in "Falka." He is engaged for the remainder of the season..... There is now before the City Council an ordinance prohibiting the presentation of any dramatic or variety performance on Sunday. The matter has passed the second reading, and comes up for its final hearing July 13, and there is every reason to believe it will become a city law.

Elizabeth.—At the Drake Opera House Drake's Band concert, July 10, had a large audience. Mable Silliman, whistler, will be a soloist with band concert 17.

TIPS.—Washburn's Circus is dated for 15..... Contracts for the remodeling of the Drake Opera House were signed with Architect McElfatrick 10, and the work will begin Aug. 1, the last band concert in this theatre taking place July 31. The plans for remodeling, if carried out, show that the theatre will be one of the handsomest in New Jersey. It is thought a preliminary season will be opened Sept. 14. The regular season will open Oct. 6, Col. W. M. Morton manager. S. L. Lewis has been appointed superintendent to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Frederick Childs. Col. Morton is still sojourning at his Summer home in Riverhead, L. I. He made a flying visit to the theatre 10, and says he is well booked for coming season.....The season of 1896-7 of the Lyceum Theatre will open Aug. 12, with Tony Pastor. Manager Simonds, of this house, says he is well booked for the season with some of the strongest attractions.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston.—The amusement pages of our leading Sunday newspapers tell plainly enough the story of the "off" season in theatricals. Yet another theatre has been added to the list of those already closed for the torrid term—the Tremont, which ended its Summer season of operatic melange—vide "The Merry Go 'Round," night of July 11. A testimonial will be given 13 to manager Harry Askin, and in addition to the regular "Merry Go 'Round" Co. there are volunteers in the persons of Ward and Vokes, Dan Daly, Laura Bigger, Burt Haverly, Henshaw and Ten Broeck and numerous others. This week is advertised as the last but one of the Summer season at the Castle Square, and next week, beginning 20, is underlined as "great repertory festival week," when a change of bill will be given nightly. With the Castle Square closed, Keith's would indeed have a walk over. "Fatinitza" is being sung at the Castle Square Theatre this week.

KEITH'S THEATRE.—Week of July 13 still shows the fourteen members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra as the leading number, with the vitascope well up and these specialty people all running: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dixon, Newsboys' Quintet, Ed. Latell, Vassar Four, Rossi Bros., Sisters Devan, Cecil Spooner, Ward and Curran, Morrissey and Rich, Versatile Trio, Lavender and Thomson, Tom Hefron, Edward Boyle, three Helstons, Yuna and Wistana. AUSTIN & STONE'S.—The fighting bear, Muldoon, is a big card week of 13, together with Otto Petersen, strong man; Neapolitan Troubadours, Vermont midgets, Mons. Erni, Walter Wentworth and these performers in the stage shows: Three Bros. Kellino, the Pendys, Frank Riley, Trocadero Trio, Bennett and Hughes, Topsy Tuttle, Bartell and Morris, Kent Sisters, French Family, the Vidocqs, J. C. Hughes, Columbian Quartet, Herbert and Mons. Kola, Ada Connor, Roswell and Raymond, Tom Lawton. Underlined is Zaccho, strong woman.

NOTES.—Pain's Fireworks Carnival, which opened 8, had ill luck with the weather.....Boyton's "Shooting the Chutes" appears to be attracting great attention in the upper Huntington Avenue Grounds. .....E. J. Ratcliffe is enjoying the hospitality of Harrison Gray Otis, at Winthrop Beach.....Paul Boyton's Water Circus is to be exhibited on the chute grounds week of 20.....The Six Glinseretts are booked for Keith's in the Fall.....When the Park Theatre is reopened in the regular Fall season, under the new management of Eugene Tompkins, it is understood that Lawrence McCarty, Mr. Tompkins' lieutenant, will be the manager.....Chevalier's appearance in Boston will be made at the Hollis in the Fall season.....The Boston Museum will reopen Aug. 24, with Roland Reed as the first fortnight's attraction, and then May Irwin.....A gorgeous new series of living pictures are promised an early production at Keith's. M. Castel-Bert, the famous artist and designer of Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau's forces, has been specially engaged in their production.

Lowell.—At Lakeview Theatre Theodore Babcock's Stock Co., comprising Eva Taylor, Frank Walcott, Dollie Brooks, J. B. Everham and Theodore Babcock, presented "Poor Jim" and "My Lady Help" in a very satisfactory manner week ending July 11, and Will West, Marie Stuart and Doliy Brooks appeared in specialties, to very good houses. Opening 13: The stock company will present "Pink Dominoes" and the same variety performers hold over.

LAKEVIEW PARK.—Mons. Roberto and wife made daily balloon ascensions, with parachute leaps, last week. Coming 13, for week: Nooyah, the Martines, Evelyn, in open air performances. Francis Ferrari, proprietor of Noah's Ark and Gondolas, did a big ten days' business here, closing 11.

Grand Rapids.—The following people are booked at Godfroy's Summer Pavilion week July 13: Little Lulu, Beeson and Miles, Ryeford Sisters, Kerns and Cole, the Brahams and Chas. and Jennie Stewart.

CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles.—John Drew and his excellent company presented "Christopher Jr." and "The Squire of Dames" to large and highly pleased audiences at the Los Angeles Theatre June 30-July 4. Ethel Barrymore received kindly recognition, influenced largely, no doubt, by the circumstance of her mother's death at Santa Barbara a couple of years ago. "Miss Jerry" fills the bill 6, 7.....At the Orpheum Papinta, supplemented by a good bill, attracted standing room business week ending 5. New features 6: The vitascope, Hugh J. Emmett. Holdovers: Papinta, Meers Bros., Washburn Sisters, Lawrence and Harrington, Bimbo and Tehi. .....A rumor that Manager Harry C. Wyatt, of the Los Angeles Theatre, has secured control of the Burbank Theatre is denied by parties interested. In the meantime the house continues dark.....H. E. Oppenheimer, of San Francisco, lately arrived here, has entered into active competition with the City Bill Posting Co., of which Geo. P. McLain is proprietor, for business in that line.....Eva Forrest, said to have formerly been of the Forrest Sisters, variety performers, whose home was near Seattle, Wash., committed suicide here June 30, with laudanum.....Manager John C. Fisher, of San Diego, spent the Fourth of July here.

San Diego.—At Fisher's Opera House John Drew, in "Christopher Jr.," came June 29, to big business. Kittie Spencer Bloodgood, musical recital, comes July 9.

THE VIVIAN DE MONTO DRAMATIC CO. came 29. This company is doing phenomenal business at ten and twenty cent prices, under canvas.

OHIO.

Cincinnati.—With thousands of strangers in the city every resort profited by the gay influx. Delightful weather cheered the hearts of the amusement managers.

LUDLOW LAGOON.—Granto and Maud, the Three Albions, Emma Carns, and Stanley and Scanlon were the new faces in the amphitheatre July 12.

CHESTER PARK.—Pawnee Bill's Wild West will linger another week. The crowds are very large.

CONEY ISLAND.—The Pettie Earlscott Opera Co. has made an impression which is favorable. Little tots have not been seen here in opera before since the days of Col. R. E. J. Miles' revival of "Pinafore," by juvenile vocalists.

ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.—The Sioux appeared 12 in the spectacle, "The Battle of Wounded Knee." Sie Hassan Ben Ali, who walked with the New York Elks in the parade, is still in the amphitheatre with his Moorish acrobats.

HECK & AVERY'S MUSEUM.—Prof. A. G. Smith, "King of Checkers," the white negro, "Just a plain American Girl" and Bill Johnson, the human ostrich, were in curio hall 13. Stevens and King, Georgie Connors, Lottie Proctor, Minnie Malvern, Kenton and Willis, and Charles S. Knight took part in the olio.

WALNUT STREET THEATRE.—Miqne O'Brien's collection of celebrities appeared 8, for one performance only. The Players presented the farce, "The Garrick Fever."

SPRINGER HALL.—This edifice, recently remodeled, is to be supplied with new stage equipments. Samuel Hannaford, the architect, has completed the drawings for a sub arch, reducing the width of the proscenium arch to fifty feet; the present width, being seventy-two feet, was only intended to be used at great occasions, particularly musical festivals, when large numbers take part in the performance. The exact dimensions of the new stage will be as follows: Width of stage, wall to wall, 112ft.; depth of stage to organ, 50ft.; Height of stage to rigging loft, 72ft.; width of sub-proscenium arch, 50ft.; height of sub-proscenium arch, 39ft.; between girders, 50ft.; stage to fly gallery, 33ft. A. Howard Hinkle expects to meet Walter Damrosch in Bar Harbor, to arrange for the coming season of opera in Cincinnati.

GOSSIP.—Manager Harry Rainforth has gone to Old Point Comfort for recreation.....Manager John H. Havlin spent part of the week in St. Louis, on business.....There will be half a dozen changes in the personnel of the staff at the Fountain Square Theatre next season. Morris S. Schlesinger will not be in the box office. The ex-treasurer has gone to Atlantic City. He returns in the Fall, to accept a position at another Cincinnati house.....M. B. Raymond, late of the Fountain, is going to take Phil. Peters out in "The Marriage Broker.".....G. H. Hartford and Frank Neville, property man of the Fountain Square for the past three years, are going out with Murray and Mack.....Albert Garno and Maud H. Demoss have been attending the convention of music teachers at Denver, Col.....George Stottell, of Heuck's, is head ticket seller at League Park.....Charlie Zimmerman is in Latonia's box office.....Frank Jones is going out again in "In Old Madrid.".....Tom Hampton is ill in this city.....Mrs. John Noonan is convalescing after a serious illness.

Dayton.—The National Amusement Park tested the capacity of its big tent during the week of July 5 with one of the best vaudeville shows that has yet been offered, including the Prentices, May Walsh Ireland, the three Barretts, club swingers; Miles and Ireland, Sid Black, trick bicycle act; Gertrude West, De Bessell, clay worker; the Columbia Trio, and Hanley, Logan and Hanley. Patronage is on the increase and the high class of entertainment tends to bigger business.

SOLDIERS' HOME THEATRE.—Rhea and her company will open here 14, for a four weeks' engagement, giving two performances a week. The company includes: Edmund L. Connor, C. W. McDonald, Joseph Omeara, L. M. B. Pratt, Wm. Blackmore, N. H. Hackett, M. Talbot, Edgar Lane, Pomeroy Sidney, Villiers Randal, M. C. Bowers, Helen Singer, Ruth McCauily, Nancy Gibson and Grace Evans. The opening play will be "Nell Gwynne."

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETIC PARK.—The fireworks display was postponed from 4 to 7, and was well attended by a large crowd.

FAIR GROUNDS.—Despite the hardest rain we have had this season, Buffalo Bill's Wild West gave two exhibitions 6, to immense audiences.

SIPE & DOLMAN'S DOG AND PONY SHOW opened 8, for four nights, at Main and Herman Avenues. Business was good, considering the extremely inclement weather they had to contend with.

Mansfield.—Buffalo Bill's Wild West pleased an immense crowd July 11.

LAKE PARK CASINO opened 6, to good business, and had good patronage all week with the following people: Billy Jackson, Gertie Seloan, the Dempseys, G. P. Watton, Dick and Alice McAboy and the Norwood Bros. Prince O'Kabe's Imperial Japanese troupe of performers will be at this resort week commencing 13.

JOSEPH K. HAWORTH is here visiting his brother. He will go to New York next week.

Zanesville.—At Maplewood Park, for week July 13, there will be a special company from Pittsburg, Pa.

Sandusky.—At Cedar Point Pleasure Resort Conterno's Band comes July 14, 15.

SHOW GROUNDS.—Buffalo Bill's Wild West July 22.

Cleveland.—With a splendid drawing card in "Olivette" and almost perfect weather Haltnorth's Gardens were filled every evening during the past week. Beginning July 13 "Fra Diavolo" will be put on for a week, and Helen Bertram will make her first appearance with the company, singing the part of Zerlina. "Ship Ahoy" is promised for the week commencing 20.....A new bid for public favor is that of Edison's vitascope, supplemented by an excellent vaudeville company, at Saengerfest Hall. The attraction is doing even more than holding its own.....The Academy of Music still presents its vaudeville bill to the people who prefer to come down town for their amusement.....Buffalo Bill's Wild West is underlined for 20, 21. The old scout is a big favorite in Cleveland, and his reception will no doubt be a warm one.

COLORADO.

Denver.—At Elitch Gardens, week of July 7, "The Galley Slave," with Jessaline Rodgers and Jennie Kennark in the leading roles, had big houses. Walter Edwards comes to the garden 14. Every Monday is set apart for a children's dancing class. Over two hundred were present 6.

MANHATTAN BEACH.—Week of 7 "A Scrap of Paper," by the Stock Co., did good business.

Pueblo.—At the Grand up to date there is nothing booked, and the house has been dark for nearly two weeks.

THE COLUMBIA continues dark, and will probably remain so until Fall.

NOTES.—An "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Co. made its appearance July 4, unheralded and barely advertised two days before, and gave two performances under a tent. Both performances were well patronized, but the show was not worth the patronage it received.....J. E. Boyle, the representative for Forepaugh & Sells Bros.' Great Show, was in this city July 1. The date of the appearance of the show here has been changed again, and now the concern is plentifully billed for 25.

— "Lost in Siberia," the new Russian play which Thomas H. Davis and William T. Keogh will give an early production, will contain, it is said, many realistic scenes, including a view of the historic Kremlin, in Moscow; an outpost in Siberia and a panoramic view of the wild steppes on the Russian-Siberian road, where prisoners escaping from Siberia race for life, pursued by packs of wolves.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia.—Business continues prosperous at our three Summer theatres, and present indications point to their continuance all Summer.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—"The Bohemian Girl" is the current bill of the Castle Square Opera Co., Mlle. Fatmah Diard and Rose Leighton, Chas. Bassett, Thos. E. Green, W. H. Clark and Will H. Hatter reappearing after an absence of several weeks. The performances of "Fatinitza" last week were well attended. July 7 was the fiftieth performance by the company. Next week, "The Daughter of the Regiment." The double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pinafore" is announced for early production.

BIJOU.—The vitascope this week will show Bowling Green, Passaic Falls, New Jersey, the Bicycle Parade and a number of the scenes before exhibited. Four Nelson Sisters, Clifford and Huth, Harry Gilfoil, Fred Leslie's dogs, Ely and Gardiner, W. J. Denny, Wills and Halpin, Kate Michelena, Johnson Trio, John T. Powers, Quatters and O'Donnell, W. A. Kelly, Ella Morris and Ray Burton constitute a very strong vaudeville bill. Attendance continues large here, the house being crowded afternoon and evening. Raymon Moore is announced for next week.

LYCEUM.—Turner's English Girls appear at this house this week in burlesques and specialties. The May Shaw Burlesque Co. did good business all last week.

NOTES.—Geo. F. Fish, for two years press representative at Forepaugh's Theatre, will next season be assistant manager in addition to his newspaper work.....Madeline Carroll, a trapezist, had a narrow escape from death early Friday morning, July 10. She took an overdose of laudanum by accident, in her room on Wood Street, which, but for prompt medical assistance, would have resulted fatally. .....Next season will begin James A. Willard's eighteenth year as a musical director at Forepaugh's Theatre.

Harrisburg.—Rain has greatly interfered with business at Paxtong Park. The Quaker City Vaudeville comes week of July 13.

WASHBURN'S CIRCUS encountered bad weather 9, and the attendance was small.

NOTES.—The usual preparations are being made for the opening of the Opera House during the latter part of August. A number of improvements will be made.....Manager Nathan Appell, of the amusement firm of Markley & Appell, this city, who is also interested in the "A Night at the Circus" with Coyle & Co., has closed negotiations for the use of Washburn's baby elephant during the Winter. He also has engaged Heinz and Colby, acrobats, with the Washburn Show. .....William Harris, an attache of Washburn's Circus, was arrested and heavily fined for assault and battery on two officers..... The New Ideal Circus went to pieces in this city, and its outfit was sold. The aggregation was not long on the road.....Madame Decca (Mrs. Charles Macauley Smith) will leave July 16 for Chautauqua Lake, N. Y., where she will sing at several concerts. .....The Vassar Quartet is making a big hit, and will probably continue together throughout the Winter. The quartet includes Cora Macy, Blanche Chapman, Josie Intropodi and James Sturgis..... J. G. Foley, ex-manager of the Eden Musee, is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a boy at his Pittsburg home. His Elk friends here telegraphed him their best wishes.....District Attorney Meade D. Detweiler, who was recently elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks at Cincinnati, O., will be tendered a reception and banquet by Exalted Ruler A. Wilson Norris, of the local lodge of Elks, No. 241, Tuesday evening, 14.

Pittsburg.—With every regular place of amusement in our burgh closed as tightly as a tomb, and a Summer theatre in Schenley Park, the only theatrical diversion that can now be enjoyed here, there is little or nothing for a CLIPPER scribe to do.

CASINO THEATRE.—"The Chimes of Normandy" this week. "Erminie" drew big crowds last week.

NOTES.—There is talk of making some alterations in Carnegie Hall. The low roof will be raised and the seating capacity increased if Mr. Carnegie will consent.....Manager Harry C. Schwab, of the New Grand, is in New York.....An agent of Ringling Bros.' Show was here last week, making arrangements for an exhibition here in a few weeks. .....General Agent C. W. Boyd, of the Barnum & Bailey Show, was here last week, arranging for its coming in September.

Altoona.—At Lakemount Park Theatre Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels had the largest attendance of the season week of July 6. This week the Acme Comic Opera Co., in repertory.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee.—The Summer opera season at Schlitz Park opens July 16 with "The Black Hussar." The company, comprising William Broderick, Sig. Montegriffo, Mme. Cottrelly, Stuart Harold, Celia Ellis, Myra Morella, Wm. Howard, Eddie Smith, Carl Farmes and a chorus of forty, have been here several days, rehearsing, and as most all are old favorites at this resort a prosperous season is assured. "Fra Diavolo" is down for the second bill. Dr. Carver's Water Carnival closed a satisfactory nine days' engagement 12. The exhibition given was very commendable.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—As the return of the stock company for week ending 11 was attended with some success, Manager E. L. Webster holds them over another week, the bill being "The Two Orphans," with an olio consisting of Golden, Chalfant and Golden, Grinnell and Fostelle, Bady Johnson and Carrie Scott. The company played "Queen's Evidence" 5-8 and "Wells Fargo Messenger" 9-11.

WONDERLAND MUSEE.—The season closed at this house 6, and it will open the regular season Aug. 22, under the same management.

NOTES.—Manager E. D. Stair and wife, of Detroit, Mich., were in the city last week, and, with Geo. H. Nicolai and wife, is the guest of Manager Rudolph Giljohan, of the Exposition Music Hall, at his Summer residence, Pewaukee Lake, Wis., where they will remain for a short while.....Sherman Brown, manager of the Davidson Theatre, is home with an excellent line of bookings, opening Sept. 7 with Julia Marlowe-Taber.....Chas. P. Elliot, late manager of the Grand Opera House, Boston, and Hopkins' Theatre, Chicago, Ill., is managing the Nelson-Millard Stock Co., now at the Academy ..... John B. Wills' Roof Garden High Class Vaudeville Company opens its season Aug. 17, at Pittsburg, Pa.....Donald McLaren is home for the Summer and will next season go with Gillette's "Secret Service.".....As stated in these columns last Winter, the new place of amusement being built for Manager O. F. Miller by the Mihlein Brothers, of Schlitz Brewing Co., is to be called the Alhambra Theatre. The building on the corner of Grand Avenue and Fourth Street is fast being completed, and will be a credit to our city.

OREGON.

Portland.—The Marquam Grand is dark. The Fall season will be opened by Rose Coghlan, who will appear the latter part of August.

CORDRAY'S THEATRE.—A Vaudeville Co. closed July 4. The business during the week was fair. The theatre is dark and will remain so during the remainder of the Summer. The fall season will be opened about Oct. 1.

ANHEUSER.—The Clayton Sisters, Agnes Dunlo, Lydia Purdy and Ella Hall.

LOUVRE.—Louvre Lady Orchestra.

UTAH.

Salt Lake City.—At the Lyceum the Payton Comedy Co. played week of June 29, to big business. This house is now playing road attractions, week stands, at popular prices.

GRAND.—A. Y. Pearson's Company gave "The White Squadron," week of 29, to good houses. The company remains another week, playing "Land of the Midnight Sun" week of July 6.

NOTES.—The Midsummer Carnival, July 2-4, was an immense success. The large crowds that filled the city helped out the theatre attractions..... Forepaugh & Sell's Circus is billed for July 29.

THE ELKS IN SESSION.

Annual Meeting of the Grand Lodge in Cincinnati.

All last week the Elks were in possession in Cincinnati, the Queen City of the West. Everything within the gates of Ohio's metropolis has been dedicated to the visiting brethren of that order, and the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the B. P. O. E. has already been chronicled as one of the greatest in its history. Early arrivals found the entire city profusely decorated and the streets brilliantly illuminated. Vine Street especially was ablaze after dark, and from the Elks' retreat, hidden behind clouds of bunting, a great arch stretched its fiery arms across the Rialto and emphasized the cheer to be found within the portals. Cincinnati redeemed every promissory note given the Grand Lodge, redeemed them with interest. The gorgeous badges of the members of that high body proved to be passports recognized everywhere, and even the street railway magnates, usually not prone to unbend, ordered the Knights of the Punch to shut their eyes and pass on when their passengers were fortified with the bit of white ribbon upon the blue. Hundreds of the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the Cincinnati Elks united in making the reunion a notable one. The ladies had their own reception committees, and they worked as hard, as faithfully and as cheerfully as those they loved who had "taken the degrees" and wore the horns. Every band in town—and there was a score or more—played "Auld Lang Syne" at some time or other, and the air always evoked cheers from the listeners. Covington and Newport vied with Cincinnati in entertaining the visiting brethren. There were some happy members of the fraternity whose joy was guaged by the number of badges they wore, and a few were not content until they had landed a whole collection to wear across their coats, vests and on their hats. The sessions of the Grand Lodge were held at the Grand Opera House, which had been profusely decorated. The exercises commenced 7, when the delegates were welcomed and tendered the freedom of the city by Mayor John A. Caldwell. John Galvin, exalted ruler of Cincinnati Lodge, also spoke warm words of welcome, to which earnest response was made by Grand Exalted Ruler William G. Meyers. P. G. E. R. E. B. Hay, was also called upon, and he made an eloquent address. While the grand lodge members were getting down to work the thousands of visiting members who were out to see the sights were royally entertained. The first day's programme included a trip through Eden Park, a visit to the Art Museum and a run out to Norwood, the picturesque "Gem of the Highlands." Others went out to Chester Park and Spring Grove Cemetery, and a third delegation crossed the Eighth Street Viaduct and experienced an electric climb up the Elberon Avenue line—a triumph of engineering skill—and a run over Price Hill. The Zoological Gardens claimed the delegates the second night. A great jam was experienced, and in addition to the musical fete there was a magnificent pyrotechnic display. Wednesday, the contest for visiting bands occurred at Chester Park, and at its conclusion the Elks' Reunion March, composed especially for the occasion by Herman Bellstedt Jr., the cornetist, was played by the assembled bands under his direction. The Louisville band took the first prize, $125. That afternoon great delegations accepted the hospitality of the Covington and Newport Lodges and enjoyed the trip to St. Thomas, the most delightful electric car ride in the United States, through the highlands of Kentucky. There were dozens of side issues. Every day was "Elks Day" at League Park. Tuesday Indianapolis Lodge and their band honored John T. Brush, and the Fourteenth Regiment Band and the Columbus Elks also came out to play and root for the Reds, commanded by an Elk, William Buckingham Ewing. Wednesday night's celebration at the Lagoon was interrupted by the rain, but that did not prevent 30,000 people from going to that Kentucky resort, and some of them were compelled to walk home. It was impossible to provide adequate service.

When the missionaries from Porkopolis were urging the selection of Cincinnati for the reunion of '96 they vowed by their antlers that people there slept under blankets in July. The clerk of the weather made it possible for those who had pleaded their cause so well to put on the badges of the Sons of Truth. There wasn't a hot night on the calendar, and after the all night pour, s, the succeeding morn dawned damp and chilly enough to make Spring overcoats comfortable. That was the morning selected for the parade, but at the hour for starting the heavens were still weeping, and a postponement until afternoon was sanctioned. At noon Old Sol broke through the clouds, and in a little while the mercury had jumped from the sixtieth degree mark closer to the Summer guage, and on time the column moved over a line of march covering five miles. Grand Esquire Thomas F. McNulty, of Baltimore, acted as grand marshal of the procession. Robert J. Patton was his chief of staff and he had twenty other aids. The Elks moved through solid lines of people, who were generous with their plaudits. The Findlay boys all wore papier mache elk's heads instead of hats, and for a baby lodge the boys of Newport, Ky., made a magnificent showing in their white uniforms. The prizes were awarded as follow:

First prize to Muncie (Ind.) Lodge, Elks' banner, valued at $200. Second prize to Louisville (Ky.) Lodge, Elks' flag, valued at $100. Third prize to Toledo Lodge, American flag, valued at $100. Fourth prize to Indianapolis Lodge, solid silver cup. Fifth prize to New York Lodge, a beautiful bronze stag. Individual prizes were awarded as follow: To the Elk coming the greatest distance, C. J. Curtis, of Astoria, Ore. To the tallest Elk, J. F. Barton, Findlay, O. To the shortest Elk, Major Doyle, of New York. To the heaviest Elk, W. F. Leich, of Fargo, N. D.

While the majority were enjoying themselves the delegates to the Grand Lodge were attending to business. Grand Exalted Ruler William G. Meyers, of Philadelphia, issued his annual message, and was followed by Grand Secretary George A. Reynolds, who presented a complete financial and statistical report for the year ending March 31 last. The principal statistics are as follow: Number of members March 31, 1895, or at institution, 27,044; number initiated or affiliated during lodge year, 6,439; number suspended or expelled, 195; number stricken from the roll for nonpayment of dues, 2,085; number of demitted during lodge year, 578; number deceased during lodge year, 295; increase during lodge year, 4,393; deduct from this the decrease for lodge year, 999, shows a net increase of 3,403, and a total membership on March 31 last of 30,447, with 24 lodges, having a membership of from 1,200 to 1,500 not yet reported.

The largest increase in any subordinate lodge during the year was in New York, No. 1, which shows a growth of 221. Grand Rapids, Mich., is second, with an increase of 190. The five largest lodges in the country are in their order as follow: New York, Baltimore, Minneapolis, Chicago and Cincinnati. The financial showing of the subordinate lodges is a most excellent one. Not including the twenty-four lodges that have not yet reported, the cash on hand in the treasuries of the subordinate lodges is $108,790.53. The value of subordinate lodge property is $640,313.34. The amount expended during the year for charity was $35,616.99.

Grand Treasurer Percy G. Williams reported a cash balance of over $6,000. There were over 425 grand lodge members in attendance, 150 more than was ever registered at any preceding session. Minneapolis defeated Indianapolis in the scramble for the meeting of '97—July 7, 8 and 9. L. Apperly, who was once expelled, was reinstated, but Allen O. Myers failed. Favorable action, it is believed, will be taken next year.

The Committee on Ritual presented a resolution, which was at once passed by the Grand Lodge, asking the subordinate lodges to return to the old ritual adopted at Detroit in 1893. All lodges having destroyed the old paraphernalia can use their own option as to whether they shall continue with the new or the old ritual during the coming year. There is but little difference, except in paraphernalia, between the two rituals.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of the following: Grand exalted ruler, Meade D. Detweiler, of Harrisburg, Pa.; grand secretary, George A. Reynolds, Saginaw, Mich.; grand esteemed leading knight, B. M. Allen, Birmingham, Ala.; grand esteemed loyal knight, Louis Haussen, Newark, N. J.; grand esteemed lecturing knight, Charles M. Foote, Minneapolis Minn.; grand trustees—Jerome B. Fisher, Jamestown, N. Y.; Hunter A. V. Craycroft, Dallas, Tex.; George B. Cronk, Omaha, Neb.; grand treasurer, E. S. Orris, Beaver, Pennsylvania; court of appeals—Thomas F. Turner, chairman, Canton, O.; James A. McHenry, Cumberland, Md.; Willard C. Vanderlip, Boston, Mass.; grand tyler, Scott Holmes, Cincinnati, O.

On the evening after the parade the pilgrimage to Coney Island on the new steamer Island Queen was a feature. With a banquet there the festivities closed, although scores of Elks still remained within Cincinnati's confines.

NEW YORK CITY.

Last Week's Events.—The condition of affairs in the local amusement field seems to be continually going from bad to worse. The weather when not absolutely rainy is damp and depressing, prohibiting pleasure in roof gardens and interfering seriously with the attendance at all resorts. Although the prospect for the coming road season is not very encouraging, there are now many evidences of active preparation for the Fall tours. Business has quickened somewhat at the agencies, and carpenters, scene painters and printers are getting to work upon the new equipments....... The continued attractions for the week ending July 11 were: "El Capitan" at the BROADWAY, "In Gay New York" at the CASINO, German Opera at TERRACE GARDEN, and Bentley's Circus under canvas on the East side.......Variety entertainment was furnished at TONY PASTOR'S, the UNION SQUARE, PROCTOR'S, the CENTRAL OPERA HOUSE, PROCTOR'S PLEASURE PALACE and the following roof gardens: KOSTER & BIAL'S, OLYMPIA, the CASINO, the MADISON SQUARE, the AMERICAN and the GRAND CENTRAL PALACE......The new corporation, Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, Limited, was incorporated July 6, and at a meeting of the directors held July 9 officers were elected as follow: Wm. Steinway, president; Robert Dunlap, vice president. Messrs. Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau were then elected managing directors of the corporation, and Ernest Goerlitz was appointed temporary secretary and treasurer. By laws were adopted, the new lease with the Metropolitan Opera House was approved, and a resolution was adopted authorizing Maurice Grau to accept the management of Covent Garden Theatre, London, Eng., and the direction of the Royal Italian Opera in that city. His late partners will not be associated with him in that venture.......The New York Quartette Club celebrated its first anniversary at the GRAND CENTRAL PALACE ROOF GARDEN afternoon and night of July 11. Several singing societies assisted in furnishing the entertainment......The fiftieth performance of "In Gay New York" was given at the CASINO July 10. Lizard skin card cases were presented as souvenirs......At the HERALD SQUARE THEATRE, on July 10, a performance of "Patience" was given, with an all star cast, for the benefit of Messrs. Steindorf and Ebert, managers of the light opera company which recently reached the end of its career at that house. The roles were thus assumed: Patience, Lillian Russell; Lady Angela, Sadie Martinot; Lady Saphir, Dorothy Morton; Lady Ella, Lillian Swain; Lady Jane, Flora Finlayson; Reginald Bunthorne, Henry E. Dixey; Archibald Grosvenor, W. T. Carleton; Colonel Calverly, William McLaughlin; Duke of Dunstable, J. F. Sheehan; Major Murgatroyd, Aubrey Boucicault. Many well known professionals sang in the chorus.

PROCTOR'S THEATRE.—Despite the warm weather this resort continues to be well attended. The bill for July 13, and week, was fully up to the standard of the house, and met with favor on the opening day and evening. Rose Melville and Claude Gillingwater appeared in a sketch, and won their way in the favor of their audience. Belle Black, in character changes, returned, and found herself among friends. Sadie Connolly and Moye, in an Irish sketch, did well. Eva Vincent sang a number of ballads, which were illustrated with stereopticon views. The Weston Sisters, in songs and dances, were well liked. Larsen and Palmer, in a sketch, were entertaining and merited the recognition bestowed upon them for their work. Others on the bill were: Turner and Russell, black face comedians; Meeker and Mack, in a sketch; the Carters, illusionists; Bonnie Goodwin, serio comic; Lillian Heckler, comedienne; Gould and Burt, in a sketch; May Lovington, serio comic; Ray Bixley, musical tramp, and Louise Valentine, comedienne. The regular Sunday concert was given 12.

HAMMERSTEIN'S OLYMPIC ROOF GARDEN.—Good business continues to rule at this resort. Fregoli, still the stellar attraction, entered July 13 on his tenth week, and his clever performance of his new sketch, "El Dorado," continued to win hearty approval of his audience. May Howard, comedienne, began her fourth week a popular favorite. Her various songs always find favor with her audience, and hearty applause is accorded her at every performance. The Lamoyne Brothers gave a clever grotesque horizontal bar act, and Sadie Fox was well received for her singing. Marshall and Nelson, in songs and dances, found favor for their work, and the Silves, with illustrated songs, did well. Mazuz and Mazette did some very clever acrobatic and contortion work on a pyramid, and well earned the applause accorded them. O'Neil and Sutherland, very clever dancers, won full recognition for their work, and Dewelle, a gymnast, who did balancing on the flying trapeze, proved himself to be in the front rank of his class. Herr Techow, with his trained cats, ninth week; the Olympia Grand Opera Quartet, and Charles B. Ward, descriptive singer, were holdover favorites. The third Sunday concert was given 12.

CHARLES FROHMAN has accepted an offer of the Madison Square Garden Company to manage the Garden Theatre for them. He will assume the management of the house Oct. 1, and will for a brief time play combinations. It is his intention, however, to make his own productions at the Garden Theatre, as he does in the other houses which he manages in this city. He is considering the advisability of forming a permanent stock organization for the house, playing a certain number of months each season. He has cabled Hoyt & McKee concerning his comedy company, which will open at their theatre, Sept. 3, but which he wishes to move to the Garden Theatre after they have played the month of September at Hoyt's. A proposition has been received from another attraction, which will make it possible for Hoyt & McKee to fill out the time between the close of the comedy company's September engagement and the opening of Mr. Hoyt's own play, "A Contented Woman," in his own theatre.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—The season at this house will open Aug. 31, with John Drew in "Rosemary," a new play, now running in London, Eng. At the close of his present season in California Mr. Drew will return with his company direct to this city to begin rehearsals of the new play. The cast of "Rosemary" will include, besides Mr. Drew, Maud Adams, Harry Harwood, Arthur Byron, Joseph Humphreys, Frank Lamb and Annie Adams.

CASINO ROOF GARDEN.—For the current week the following people are in the bill: Pearl Andrews, Willis P. Sweatnam, Jeannie Yeamans, Thomas and Quinn, Tony Fernandez, American Two Macs, Bobby Burns, Gilson and Mathews, Edwin French, Heeley and Marba, Catherine Howe, Harry Crandall, Jennie Whitbeck and Ed. J. Heffernan.

J. H. WALLICK will make an elaborate production of his new play, "When London Sleeps," Aug. 31, at the Fourteenth Street Theatre. Ernest Albert is painting new scenery for the play which, it is claimed, will cost $4,300, and new costumes are being made by Mme. Revier. The company will include: Perdita Hudspeth, Florence Ashbrooke, Lou Brandon, G. Evans, Ella Le Noie, Ella Baker, Geo. Fisher and A. Frawley, a wire walker.

CLOSED.—Empire, Abbey's, Garrick, Palmer's, Lyceum, Hoyt's, Bijou, Fifth Avenue, Daly's, Star, Standard, Academy of Music, Garden, Fourteenth Street, American, People's, Sanford's, Grand Opera House, Gaiety, Miner's Bowery, Miner's Eighth Avenue, Irving Place, Germania, Harlem Opera House, Columbus, Windsor and Thalia.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—De Wolf Hopper began on July 13 the thirteenth week of his engagement in "El Capitan." The business is still satisfactory, but the increasing heat and Mr. Hopper's need of rest have brought forth the announcement that the engagement will close in two weeks.

AMERICAN THEATRE ROOF GARDEN.—The list of people here this week includes Ed. J. Heffernan, Jennie Whitbeck, Harry Crandall, Katherine Howe, Heeley and Marba, Jennie Yeamans, Edwin French, Gilson and Matthews, Bobby Burns, the American Two Macs, Tony Fernandez, Thomas and Quinn, and Willis P. Sweatnam.

FRANK J. WILSTACH has resigned from F. F. Proctor's forces to become the press agent for Weber & Fields' Broadway Music Hall.

JOHN F. HARLEY has signed to take entire charge of the booking and routing department of McConnell's Theatrical Exchange.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE THEATRE.—To Mr. Keith's latest importation, the cinematograph, is given credit for filling this house to its fullest seating capacity these warm evenings. Last week standing room was scarce at several performances. The house on Monday evening, July 13, was well filled and the numerous views, adequately described by Mr. Shaw, created much wonder. The military scenes, especially the cavalry charge, caused enthusiastic applause. This picture, which is appreciated fully by those who have witnessed the full front approach of the cavalry portion of Mr. Cody's Wild West Show, is startlingly realistic. Several little home scenes also appeal strongly to the audience. Besides this trump attraction, there are presented this week a number of strong acts. Ed. S. Abeles and Helene Lowell, whose debut in the vaudevilles is chronicled on this occasion, present a comedy sketch; Miss Lowell's singing and Mr. Abeles' imitation of Richard Mansfield, in the closing scene of "A Parisian Romance," were applauded. Caron and Herbert, comedy acrobats, introduced some new tricks, and the Nawns were seen in a new comedy sketch, "The Politician." Richard Pilrot, the well known mimic, made his reappearance in America after a prolonged absence and presented many leading characters. Guyer and Goodwin, in a farce, wherein Mr. Guyer displays some agile acrobatic manœuvres, were applauded. The Electric Quartet, Borani Brothers, Burt Jordan, dancer; Romalo Brothers, head balancers; the Fitzgibbon Trio, May Wentworth, in musical monologue; Mlle. Chester and her trained dog, Lillie, and Charles H. Bowers, baritone vocalist, furnished delectable bits of vaudeville.

KOSTER & BIAL'S ROOF GARDEN.—An ideal hot weather bill is the one provided for the week beginning July 13, though there was but a meagre attendance on that date, owing to the unfavorable weather conditions, which made it necessary to give the performance in the auditorium proper. Those present, however, were by no means backward in giving their sanction to the good things provided, and the volume of applause would have done credit to a much larger assemblage. The Trio Bearnais, Swiss singers, are continued, and opened the bill in a satisfactory manner. Jennie Valmore, another retained performer, followed, to the usual expression of favor, and she in turn gave way to Leon Fleming and Grace Russell, in a new sketch, called "Training a Star," which proved interesting, and also offered Mrs. Fleming an opportunity to give several imitations. Waldo, who calls himself "The Instrumental Man," proved entertaining in his various imitations of musical instruments and animals, and the Manhattan Comedy Four, though continued here for some time, proved one of the most entertaining and the heartiest encored number on the programme. Josephine Sabel rendered her various songs in her own inimitable manner, and Jules Levy was liberally rewarded for his efforts, as was Marie Dressler, whose work was of the top notch order. M. Baigh and S. Ianos offered a violin and cymbal solo, and the Rogers Bros. found their humorous dialect sketch in great demand and were regretfully taken leave of. The vitascope brought the bill to a close with a long list of well displayed views.

TONY PASTOR'S THEATRE.—The attendance at this house suffered in proportion to the condition of the weather on Monday, July 13, which made it a hard task for anyone to enjoy a show given in any place but the open. A fairly well filled house greeted the evening performance. A bill is provided for this week which fully repaid those who sat it out. Bonnie Thornton remains the favorite, and her songs found the usual encores. Jas. B. and Fannie Donovan returned and received hearty encouragement, being well remembered for their former successes at this house. Lew Bloom, eccentric comedian, in a new specialty, caused hearty laughter by his genteel tramp make up. Lydia Barry, descriptive singer; Tony Pastor, in some new and timely topical songs and parodies; Billy Carter, with banjo and fun; Annie Buckley, in character and Irish songs; Mlle. Carline and her well trained troupe of dogs and monkeys; Eleanor Falk, character singer; Dan Kelly and Bessie Grey, in a clever comedy sketch, entitled "The Stage Struck Maiden;" Andy Lewis and Maud Elliott, sketch team; Halliday and O'Brien, parody singers; Potter, Stoddard and St. John, comedy trio, in "A Silent Woman," and James Casey and Maggie Le Clair, "The Irish Tenants," concluded the bill.

PROCTOR'S PLEASURE PALACE.—The combination of the Palm and Roof Gardens and the main auditorium, and the excellent vaudeville provided by Manager Proctor, forms an alluring inducement to the pleasure seeker these hot nights, and as a consequence good attendance rules at this popular resort. The bill presented July 13 for week included many pleasing features. John W. Ransone, who is ever a strong metropolitan favorite, introduced some new hits on the political situation, and with his witty sayings and songs captured his audience completely. Terry and Elmer, sensational dancers, found many admirers, and Alice Howard, serio comic singer, was well liked. The Cee Mees, aerialists, continued to give entire satisfaction with their clever feats. Bobby Mack, Irish comedian, did well, and Eloise Willard and Jennie Lissenden, in plantation songs and dances, found favor. The Pantzer Brothers, head and hand balancers, were as popular as ever, their various feats winning unstinted applause. Nellie Sylvester and Edward Jackson, in a dancing turn, won approval, and Forbes and Quinn, harmonica soloists, won recognition for their playing. George Lockhart's trained elephants were still prime favorites and the ballets "Espanita" and "Basquavola," continued to please.

GRAND CENTRAL PALACE ROOF GARDEN.—This resort is gaining rapidly in popularity, and, judging from the nature of the entertainment provided, the management seems determined to enter into earnest competition with the leading places. An excellent bill is offered for this week, commencing July 13, embracing the following: Jarbeau, Mlle. Mercedes, eccentric dancer; John R. Harty, juggling waiter; the Misses Rice and Halver, two lively dancers; Meyer Cohn, descriptive baritone; Adelaide Zee, whistler; Stuart, male soprano, and Blocksom and Page, in their laughable knockabout act. The high altitude of the covered music hall permits free access of the breezes, with delightful results. The military promenade concerts after the performance remain a pleasing feature. Manager Amberg reports excellent business thus far.

HUBER'S PALACE MUSEUM.—This resort was lightly patronized Monday evening, July 13, and the lady sprinters, who are retained for this week, went through their exercises before small but appreciative audiences. The list of attractions booked for the stage include some clever people. F. Welsh, Ray Brosche, Cooper and Stewart, Mons. Forber, Georgie Mozart, Sheridan and Cline, and Nolan and McShane contribute specialties. In the curio hall, besides the pedestrian exhibition, appear Capt. Vetrio, the poison eater; Lala Coolila, styled "The Man Venus;" Prince Albini, Lieut. Sauns, sword manipulator, and Sam Livingston, accordion performer. The Electric Carousel, recently added, is a strong attraction.

HOYT'S THEATRE will open Sept. 3 instead of 7, as previously announced. The opening attraction will be Alexander Bisson's comedy, "The Liar."

GARRICK THEATRE.—This house will open Sept. 7 with a vaudeville organization headed by Chevalier. Charles Frohman announces that the various attractions booked for the theatre, which include Mr. Mansfield and Mr. Hare, will appear as announced.

CASINO.—"In Gay New York" began on July 13, the eighth week of its run with popularity undiminished, but with no changes requiring comment.

MADISON SQUARE ROOF GARDEN.—The bill this week is made up of the following people: Fields and Lewis, Falke and Semon, Nellie Seymour, Press Eldridge, Francis Rousseau, Johnson and Deane, Laura Vaughn, Maud Nugent, the Three Delevenes, and Haines and Pettingill.

WEBER & FIELDS have engaged Joseph W. Herbert to write burlesques for their Broadway Music Hall.

LIVINGSTON RUSSELL has been engaged as press agent of the Grand Central Palace Roof Garden.

NEW YORK STATE.

Brooklyn.—The sudden and unexpected warm spell that came during the past few days was heartily welcomed by the managers of the Summer amusements. It proved a financial boom to them, as the people of Greater New York flocked to the seaside and Summer resorts in search of cooler weather, and the managers of the various places of amusement had all that could be desired in the way of business.

MANHATTAN BEACH.—There is such a variety and such abundance of amusement at this fashionable resort that every one can find something to suit his taste. Sousa's full band concerts are still one of the successes of the season, while "Evangeline" continues to draw packed houses at each performance, and promises to do so all Summer. Rice's Carnival Circus presents new features each week, and Pain's "Cuba" is pronounced the greatest success of anything of the kind ever seen down there.

BRIGHTON BEACH.—An entirely new programme has been arranged for the Seidl concerts for this week. There will be a large number of special features, including the much talked of "Ocean Programme" on Wednesday night. The Wagner night will be Thursday, when the Wagner selections will be presented. The symphony night will be Friday.

WEST BRIGHTON.—The amusements provided at this popular seaside resort are too numerous to mention. Everything in the way of Summer entertainments can be had, but the most popular of all the attractive features down there is "Shooting the Chutes," and its popularity increases each week.

BERGEN BEACH.—The new feature added this week is Donald Burns' Wild Animal and Athletic Carnival. At the Casino an entire new bill has been arranged for this week, and includes Bryant and Saville, Donald and Martell, Valdo, Maie Rhea, Allyn and Lingard, Bella Vivian, the Tremonts, Daisy Randall, Bruno Arnim and Bertha Wagner. Paul Boyton's World's Water Show continues to do a large business. The double bill here includes "Pinafore," which is given on board of a schooner yacht, and has met with success from the first performance. Several new people, together with camels and donkeys, have been added to the Egyptian Encampment. The other features are the Palace of Illusion, the Mystic Moorish Maze, the big Bergen Beach wheel, the mammoth scenic railway, the Dark America and Wildest West, the royal automaton theatre, the carrousels, Edison's vitascope, etc.

BROOKLYN MUSIC HALL.—The attractions for this week are: Emmons, Emerson and Emmons, Kilroy and Rawson, Gus Richards, Ward and Lynch, Belle Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, Freeze Brothers, Vivian Dell and the Marvelous Schrodes.

A LACROSSE MATCH, for the championship, was played by the teams of the Cornwall and Toronto Club, at the Rosedale Grounds, in Toronto, Can., July 11, the visitors winning by a score of five goals to one.

The Typos' Annual Outing

Took place at Sulzer's Harlem River Park, this city, on Saturday afternoon and evening, July 11, when the annual picnic and games, under the auspices of the Printers' Benevolent Association, were held there. As usual, the craft was largely represented on the occasion, and there was also a large attendance of the outside element, while the delegation of well known amateur athletes who mustered for the sports ensured the complete success of this interesting feature of the affair. The hero of the day was Ernie Hjertberg, who carried off both the one mile and two mile runs in capital style. The events afforded unbounded pleasure to the spectators, as they were well contested throughout, and some of the finishes were quite exciting. Summary:

One hundred yards run.—Won by W. H. Rose, Y. M. C. A., 3yds.; C. J. Sulzer, New Jersey A. C., 1yd., second, and R. F. McKinny, Pastime A. C., 5 1/2yds., third. Time, 10 1/5s.

TOMMY CONNEFF, the champion runner, sailed from Boston, Mass., for Ireland on Monday, July 13. It is hardly likely that this popular amateur athlete will ever again run a race in America, as he has decided to enter Dublin University in the Fall, to begin the study of medicine. During the past year he was a special student at the Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., fitting himself to enter the university. He said before leaving that he was undecided as to accepting the challenge recently issued by Bacon, the English runner, for a series of professional races, but that if he did conclude to accept, the races would have to take place abroad.

A GOLF MATCH, four men a side, was played by the picked men of the Paterson and New Brunswick Clubs at New Brunswick, N. J., on the afternoon of July 11, the former team winning by a score of 11 to 3.

The Scottish Championships.

The annual field meeting for the decision of the championships of Scotland was held at the Powderhall Grounds, in Edinburgh, on Saturday afternoon, June 27, and brought into competition the picked athletes of the leading amateur clubs of the country, although only four of last year's winners appeared to defend their titles. Unfortunately an unfavorable wind militated against the making of fast times, nevertheless the performances as a rule were most excellent. Three dual winners marked the afternoon's proceedings, J. K. Ballantyne, a cousin of A. R. Downer, winning the two sprints, H. Welsh carrying off the one mile and half mile runs, and J. D. McIntosh being successful in both the shot put and hammer throw. C. Fenwick maintained his right to the high jump honors by winning for the third successive year, and H. Barr, who finished second to Ballantyne in the sprints, created a new Scottish record by clearing 22ft. 2in. in the running broad jump. Summary:

Hurdle race, 120yds.—A. B. Timms, Edinburgh University A. C., first; W. Dove, Edinburgh Academicals F. C., second; W. C. S. Taylor, Queen's Park F. C., third. Time, 19s.

The Wheel in the Everglades.

Probably two thousand persons paid admission to Panama Park, in Jacksonville, Fla., on Tuesday afternoon, July 7, when an excellent programme embracing a dozen events, was presented, and was successfully run off under the auspices of the local organizations. The principal event of the afternoon was a five miles race for the Southern championship, which was last on the card, was paced by three tandems, and was won by F. D. Powers by half a wheel from G. N. Adams, the struggle between whom was very close and exciting. An accident occurred in the opening event, the only mishap to mar the entire success of the meeting. Half a dozen riders were spilled, H. H. Montgomery sustaining several cuts and bruises and having his collar bone dislocated, and the other riders being more or less injured. Summary:

News From the Antipodes.

A dispatch from Vancouver, B. C., dated July 11, says the following Australian 'cycling news has been received there: "The feature of the riding at the Parramatta (N. S. W.) meeting was the brilliant performance of the American, William Martin, who won the final of the Birthday Handicap from McCoombe and Meadham, and also secured the prize for the lap trial of 420yds., which he did in 28⅗s. The ten miles championship of New South Wales was also secured by the American, who covered the distance in 28m. 6⅗s., beating the colonial cracks, Meadham and Simpson. J. O. Shorland recently lowered the 100 miles Australian record at Lancaster Park, N. Z., to 4h. 39m. 51s., which reduces the former record held by Turner, of Melbourne, by about fifty-five minutes. The fifty miles was ridden in 2h. 14m. 40s., which is seven minutes better than Parsons' record. Shorland finished very strong, doing the last mile in 2m. 28s."

Racing on Long Island.

The members of the South Brooklyn Wheelmen engaged in a series of races at Bay Ridge, L. I., on Saturday afternoon, July 11, in good weather and on a fairly good track, the events resulting as appears in the summary below:

Maryland Club team race, one mile.—Clifton Wheelmen first. Time, 3m. 9⅗s.

TWO OF THE RACES in the match between John S. Johnson, the celebrated American professional rider, and the equally famous Welsh wheelman, Jimmy Michael, came off at the Wood Green track, in London, Eng., on Saturday afternoon, July 11, in the presence of a tremendous crowd, many people coming from Paris and the continent. The first was at one mile, and this was easily captured by Johnson by twenty yards, his opponent never having a look in. The other was at ten miles and this was quite as easily taken by the Welshman, who is a grand stayer. Both men were loudly cheered. Johnson intends to have a few trials at record breaking this week, and then will return to the French capital, where Tom Eck hopes to get him on a few matches with Jacquelin, Eden and Morin, for short distances.

THE MEMBERS of the Mercer County (N. J.) Wheelmen held a century run from Trenton to Asbury Park and return. The club had 372 starters, of whom 350 went the journey. The total number of starters was 532, a score of them being of the gentler sex. The start was made at 5.17 A. M., and, with the exception of three men, all reached Asbury Park, where they were made the guests of the Asbury Park Wheelmen. During the return trip the riders had to face a heavy wind, which, with the extreme heat, caused many to fall out between Freehold and Trenton, many returning from the former place by rail.

R. H. CARLISLE started on the morning of June 23 on what is known as the end to end record ride, from Land's End, in Cornwall, Eng., to John o'Groat's, the most northerly point in Scotland. Carlisle wished to reduce Mills' record of 3d. 5h. 49m., the distance to be covered being 876 miles. The would be record breaker went very well until he reached Carlisle (474 miles), in 37h. 23m., half an hour in front of Mills' time. Here Carlisle was palpably beaten, but he struggled on to Edinburgh (about 100 miles further on), and then gave up. The roads were very bad.

JOHN S. JOHNSON appeared at the Catford track, in London, Eng., on the afternoon of July 10, and in a trial against time rode a half mile from a standing start, paced, in 54⅗s., beating his own previous best on record, 55⅕s., and doing the quarter in 29⅗s. Afterwards, in a trial from a flying start, paced, Johnson rode a quarter mile in 24⅗s. and a half mile in 49⅕s. He has a record of 48s. for the half, under like conditions.

PROTIN, the fast French professional rider, and Farman were among the starters in two international races at Liege, Fr., on June 14. The first was at one thousand metres, and it was won by Farman. The second was at five thousand metres, and resulted in a dead heat between them. They arranged another match, at two thousand metres, immediately afterwards, for decision in two weeks, at the same place.

R. PALMER, Silverdale 'Cycling Club, was the winner of the Century Cup race at the Herne Hill track, London, Eng., June 27, under the auspices of the London County C. and A. C., and in winning he created new amateur records from eleven to one hundred miles and beat the world's best professional times from fifty-one miles to the finish, the total time being 3h. 47m. 47⅗s.

H. B. WEST, of Philadelphia, Pa., claims to have made the run from that city to Jersey City, on July 3, in six hours and thirty-one minutes. He left the north side of City Hall in Quakertown, at 6 A. M., and arrived at Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City, at 12.31 M. If the claim is susceptible of substantiation, the time stands as the best recorded between those points.

THE IROQUOIS ROAD RACE, ten miles, came off over the Tonawanda Boulevard, at Buffalo, N. Y., on Tuesday, July 7, F. F. Schade, 3m. 30s., winning, in 28m. 30s.; Fred Moffett, 3m., second, 28m. 30⅗s.; Eugene Galvin, 3m. 30s., third, 29m. 30½s. Louis Striker, scratch, won the first time prize, riding the course in 26m. 42s.

THE STAR WHEELMEN held a ten miles road race on the Elizabeth-Rahway, N. J., course on Saturday, July 11. Nick Pfeuffer, scratch, equaled the county record held by William Bettner by covering the distance in 27m. 17s. The race was won by Louis Weislogel, 4m., in 29m.; William Seeger, 4m., second, in 30m. 15s.; Pfeuffer third.

Pedaling by the Sad Sea Waves.

Although a comparatively small gathering attended the races of the Riverside Wheelmen, of this city, at Manhattan Beach, Coney Island, on Saturday afternoon, July 11, the contestants in the several races were of excellent class, and some fine sport was enjoyed by those who did go to the track. The weather was extremely sultry in the metropolis, but at the track the ocean breezes tempered the burning rays of the fiery sun, and the spectators found the afternoon very pleasantly spent on the grand stand. As a general thing the competitions were highly interesting, and in some instances excited the spectators to a high pitch. Summary:

One mile, novice.—First heat: Won by Charles Uhlyk, Brooklyn; H. A. Anderson, Brooklyn, second; F. H. Judd Jr., Mercury Wheel Club, third. Time, 2m. 32⅗s. Second heat: Won by Charles C. Bald Wins at Battle Creek.

The greatest field of starters yet seen at a national circuit meet came together in the professional half mile race, scratch, at Battle Creek, Mich., on Monday afternoon, July 13, Gardiner and Zeigler being the only absentees. The contest, unfortunately was marred by an accident in the final heat, in which the order on the pole was: Bald, Cooper, Loughead, Schrein, L. C. Johnson, E. C. Johnson, W. C. Sanger, Baker and Parker. Winesett paced, and E. C. Johnson won the pacemaker's rear wheel, with Bliss and L. C. Johnson following. Parker ran up the line and forced into the next place, and Bald and Cooper fell in behind Parker. Johnson was leading at the sprint, but Parker shot up on the pole, closely followed by Bald and Cooper. When in the lead at the last turn Parker's chain broke and Bald and Cooper were forced way wide of the bunch. Bald was first under way after the accident, and Cooper came quickly after, but two lengths to the bad. Bald opened up two more lengths, and dashed over the tape four to the good, Cooper second and Bliss and Loughead inches apart for third. Loughead was given third, but the position was later awarded to Bliss. Sanger ran eighth in the field, disconcerted also by the accident and unable to get under way before his rivals had gone too far to be overtaken. Six thousand people attended. Summary:

One mile, novice.—Won by Frank Burgay, Goshen, Ind.; Hal S. Legg, Cold Water, second; S. C. White, Battle Creek, third. Time, 2m. 35⅗s.

Half mile, professional.—First heat: Won by Cooper, Schrein second, E. C. Johnson third. Time, 1m. 17⅗s. Second heat: Won by Bald, Loughead second, Baker third. Time, 1m. 12⅘s. Third heat: Won by Bliss, L. C. Johnson second, Sanger third. Time, 1m. 18s. Final heat: Bald first, Cooper second, Bliss third, Loughead fourth. Time, 1m. 4s.

One mile.—First heat: Won by F. T. Lamsberg, Kalamazoo; H. D. Eddy, Otsego, second; Clark Brown, Butler, Ind., third. Time, 2m. 35⅗s. Second heat: Won by Kop Wilder, Battle Creek; Louis T. Ott, Chicago, second; W. E. Swendeman, Battle Creek, third. Time, 2m. 42⅗s. Third heat: Won by Glen P. Thayer, Carson City; H. B. Marsh, Dowagiac, second; J. C. Tinkham, Grand Rapids, third. Time, 2m. 51⅗s. Final heat: Won by Marsh, Wilder second, Thayer third. Time, 2m. 18⅗s.

Two miles, professional.—Won by Mertens, 80yds.; Baker, 100yds., second; Kennedy, 10yds., third; Clark, 120yds., fourth. Time, 4m. 35⅗s.

The Wheel in Delaware.

About three thousand persons, many of them being ladies, went to Riverview, Del., on Saturday afternoon, July 11, attracted by the races held under the auspices of the Wilmington Bicycle Club, which produced good contests and some exciting finishes. Summary:

One mile, novice.—First, W. D. Kelly; second, George M. Marshall. Time, 2m. 45⅗s.

One mile, club.—First, B. F. McDaniel, 240yds.; second, J. A. Burton, 240yds.; third, F. M. Boyle, 80yds.; fourth, Clifford Greenman, 240yds. Time, 3m. ⅗s.

One mile.—First, Walter M. Trott, Philadelphia; second, Frank Turner, Wilmington; third, William S. Ray, Chester. Time, 2m. 50s.

One mile, professional.—First, H. E. Bartholomew, Philadelphia, 40yds.; second, C. A. Church, Chester, scratch; third, Clarence Bowers, Riverton. Time, 2m. 18s.

Two miles.—First, W. R. Goodley, 70yds.; second, Walter M. Trott, scratch; third, E. C. Goodley, 140yds. Time, 5m. ⅗s.

Five miles, professional.—First, Clarence Bowers, Riverton, 35 yds. handicap; second, C. A. Church, Chester, scratch; third, W. A. Wenzel, Philadelphia, 375yds. Time, 12m. 17⅗s.

The Sport in the Bison City.

The Press 'Cycling Club, of Buffalo, N. Y., opened their new cement quarter mile track on Saturday afternoon, July 11, when some of the finest racing ever witnessed in that city took place in the presence of a large assemblage. The winning by Eddie Bald of the one mile open professional event, by a close shave from Tom Butler, was highly popular, for Eddie is a true Bison, and he received an ovation as he crossed the tape. Summary:

One mile, novice.—M. Cornell won, C. J. Miller second, J. R. Jones third. Time, 2m. 36⅗s. Declared no race.

Half mile.—W. J. Waters won, C. W. Davis second, H. Brunner third. Time, 1m. 2⅗s.

One mile, professional.—E. C. Bald won, Tom Butler second, L. A. Callahan third. Time, 2m. 11s.

One mile.—E. E. Denniston won, C. W. Davis second, A. A. Kaliska third. Time, 2m. 1⅗s.

Five miles, professional.—Nat Butler won, J. Eaton second, W. J. Helfert third. Time, 12m. 21s.

Two miles.—C. C. Dirnberger won, John Penseyres second, Harry Deckett third. Time, 4m. 52⅘s.

Orient relay trophy, ten miles.—Won by Press 'Cycling Club, Buffalo; Parkside Club second, Wanderers third. Time not given.

THE Eagle 'Cycle Club, of Springfield, Mass., elected the following officers last week: President, H. E. Howard; vice president, C. E. Burns; secretary, W. G. Tait; treasurer, R. B. Martin; captain, T. R. Stevens; first lieutenant, C. B. Clark; second lieutenant, F. P. Strout.

LOUIS GIMM again won the Cleveland-Pittsburg road race, 130½ miles, on July 11, covering the distance in 19h. 9m., beating his former record. Ralph Walter finished eighteen minutes later, and J. W. Crawford finished third, there being forty-nine starters.

J. W. STOCKS won a twelve hours' race at the Catford track, London, Eng., July 11, riding 296 miles 1,715 yards and breaking all previous records for the time.

JOHN LA FRANCE AND NORMAN DE DEUX arrived at San Francisco, Cal., at 8.30 P. M., July 8, claiming to have ridden from New York City on their bicyles in 37d. 14h. 30m., having left the metropolis at 9.15 A. M. June 1. The stated number of miles covered was 3,635¼, being an average of nearly one hundred miles per day.

THE UNION COUNTY ROADSTERS held a ten mile road handicap over the Elizabeth-Rahway, N. J., course, on Saturday, July 11. Six started, and the winner turned up in W. J. Mooney, Josh Cuttle being second and Clinton Gilbert third. The winner started from the scratch, and his time was 27m. 51s.

AQUATIC.

THE HALF RATER CHAMPIONSHIP.

The Canadian Craft Defeats the American Boat for the Seawanhaka Trophy.

The initial race of the series between the Canadian 15-footer Glencairn and the Yankee El Heirie, of the same class, for the challenge cup of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, emblematic of the half rater championship, took place on the waters of Long Island Sound on Monday, July 13, and the result was a decided victory for the challenging yacht, which quite surprised our yachtsmen by the speed she showed throughout the race. She was well handled, and she behaved most admirably during several squalls encountered during the progress of the contest. It is worthy of remark here that the visitor from beyond the St. Lawrence possesses considerable advantage over her rival in that she is enabled to carry about fifty square feet more sail than the El Heirie through, having an over all length of 23ft. while being but 12ft. 6in. on the water line, having greater breadth of beam, and her mast being about three feet longer than that of the American craft. The wind was light from West by North at the time of starting, and there was considerable delay before gun fire. The Commodore's flagship, the Iroquois, the cutters Bedouin and Nerota, a number of steam yacht and a big fleet of naphtha launches, were gathered about the starting point, off Centre Island buoy, all laden with deeply interested spectators.

The preliminary signal was sounded at 12.20, but the preparatory whistle was not given until 12.50. Five minutes later the boats started with spinnakers to port. Glencairn gained four seconds on her rival at the start. While El Heirie's spinnaker was set more smartly at the start than that of the Canuck, the last named set a balloon jib, in addition to her spinnaker, which helped her much, and under the spell of her larger sail area and her greater length, she went away to the leeward mark largely in the lead. The second mark was passed thus: Glencairn, 1h. 31m. 4s., and El Heirie, 1h. 32m. 1s. Both downed their balloon sails, and, with sheets flat on the starboard tack, stood over to the Long Island shore.

The contest was exciting enough, but El Heirie kept losing ground; so much, indeed, that she was practically out of the race when Lloyd's Neck was rounded. The tide was strong against them, but close in shore they got an eddy in their favor, which was duly worked. The mark was reached thus: Glencairn, 2h. 42m. 50s.; El Heirie, 2h. 49m. 45s.; showing 6m. 55s. difference between the two boats, in the beat back. It was then a trip over the course again, with the Canadian boat increasing her lead all the time. At the second mark on the second round, Glencairn was timed at 3h. 18m. 54s., and El Heirie at 3h. 28m., the Canadian being 9m. 6s. ahead. El Heirie went on the port tack soon after rounding the mark, and stood over to the westward for luck. Glencairn worked along the Long Island shore and came out a winner. The official summary.

Summer Girls on the Yachts.

Saturday, July 11, was ladies' day with the gallant members of the Knickerbocker Yacht Club, and the regatta held in their honor on the Sound was a thorough success. On board of each yacht participating in the regatta were at least two ladies beside the regular crew, and to them were given the prizes won. The course was triangular, four and one half miles long, sailed twice over, and the start was off the club station, at College Point. The wind was west and fresh, and the picture was a pretty one as the yachts with their fair passengers flew over the short course. Two popular victories were those of Melita, owned by O. H. Chelburg, chairman of the regatta committee, and Commodore J. D. Ballard's Tempus. The summary follows:

Yachting in a Spanking Breeze.

A most enjoyable regatta was held by the Hempstead Bay Yacht Club on Long Island Sound on Saturday, July 11. It was the annual ladies' day outing of the organization, and upon each of the boats engaged in the ten miles race were young ladies, bossing the tiller, while several hundred of their sisters watched the regatta from the club house. The wind came good and strong from the northeast, making the double reefed craft hum through the waves, and the regatta proved the most successful yet held by the club. Summary:

THEATRICAL.

O. C.—The opera, "Rob Roy," had its first production Oct. 1, 1894, at the Detroit, Mich., Opera House. The following people were in the company: Wm. Pruette, Barron Berthold, Richard F. Carroll, Lizzie MacNichol, Juliette Corden, Harry Parker, Anna O'Keefe, Hugh Chilvers, Joseph Herbert, Julie Senae, Janet Perrie, Carrie Atherton, Louise Crane, Frankie Leonard and Anita Austin.

M. E. G., Auburn.—Address the party in care of THE CLIPPER.

G. A. L., Madison.—The California Theatre, San Francisco, Cal.

G. C. P., Worcester.—Donaldson's Guide, published by W. H. Donaldson, Cincinnati, O.

NIXON, Philadelphia.—Address the party in our care.

ESTELLE W.—He has not claimed any mail sent to him in our care recently.

H. R. V., Fishkill on Hudson.—The play is public property.

W. A. R.—The party is unknown to us. Address letter in our care and we will advertise it.

J. S. R., Minden.—Address H. Wolf & Co., 246 to 252 East Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.

G. ST. L., Ottawa.—1. The act is somewhat novel. 2. From thirty to thirty five dollars per week. 3. From twenty to twenty five dollars per week.

F. M. S., Kansas City.—Owing to the illegibility of your communication we cannot discover what information you desire. Write again and with greater care.

ROSCOE.—Address Thos. A. Edison, Menlo Park, N. J.

F. J. T., Phœnix.—We do not know who owns the play, and consequently cannot tell you where it may be obtained.

C. F., Washington.—We do not know the company concerning which you inquire.

R. N. W., Newark.—Gaspard Maeder, scene painter, died in this city Jan. 18, 1892.

AUTHOR, Lansing.—The title has already been copyrighted and used.

MRS. R. P., Warren.—See route list in this issue.

R. B., Cameron.—Address the parties in care of THE CLIPPER.

S. D. T., Detroit.—The music hall in this city now known as Koster & Bial's, was built by Oscar Hammerstein, and was opened by him as the Manhattan Opera House. He afterwards leased it to Koster & Bial and became a partner with them in the conduct of the house. Having retired from such partnership, he built Olympia.

K. T.—We have received no information concerning the time fixed for beginning rehearsals of that company.

J. P. F., Baltimore.—1. We know of no one of that name. 2. Yes.

V. M., Easton.—Address the party in care of THE CLIPPER.

F. J. B., Hampton.—Carl Fisher, 6 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

C. E. B., Washington.—You would have to come here and interview managers, and would then in all probability find it impossible to secure anything better than a chorus position, at eighteen dollars per week.

R. D. P., New Orleans.—The company went to South America some weeks ago, but we have never received its roster or route.

CARDS.

P. B. F., Glens Falls.—From Francis P. Harper, 17 East Sixteenth Street, New York City.

T. J. G., Rochester.—If A, having but one point to make, played high, low, jack or game, he won, despite the fact that B, wanting thirteen, made in play what he needed. The points count in rotation, as above given, and no player can count anything until he has made in play what he bid.

CASSINO, Carbondale.—B was wrong. At cassino, if a player makes a build, his opponent cannot raise the build by employing for that purpose any card on the board; the denomination of a build cannot be changed except by a card played from the hand.

READER, Boonville.—No player has any such right. A's claim is preposterous.

V. DE L., Lancaster.—1. It does not, so long as the limit is not exceeded. 2. In draw poker, when the dealer exposes a card in the draw, the player to whom such card was given cannot accept it, but it must be placed on the bottom of the deck, and the said player be given the next card from the top of the deck, and before any player to his left is helped. Your friend is mistaken, THE CLIPPER never decided this question any other way than this.

J. C. L., St. Thomas.—You were not playing the regular game of pedro, but B, having but one point to make, won game with low, which takes precedence over everything but high in value. It did not matter that A made in play the points he bid.

CRIBB, Minneapolis.—In 7, 7, 8, 9 there is a run of three for the last card, 9.

M. G. S., Anacortes.—1. Your second statement of the case differs from the first, placing the question in a different light. A wins the pot with his pair of jacks, there being no call. Here is the rule that applies to the case: "If a player bets, or raises a bet, and no other player goes better or calls him, he wins the pool and cannot be compelled to show his hand." 2. Read this: "If a player makes a bet, and an adversary raises him, and the player who made the the previous bet has not money sufficient to see the raise, he can put up all the funds he may have and call for a show for that amount. If a player calling for a show of hands has himself the best hand he wins the ante and an amount from each player who bets over him equal to the sum he himself has bet."

BASEBALL, CRICKET, ETC.

G. S., Kaslo.—1. Ramsey, pitching for the Louisville Club, struck out sixteen of the champion St. Louis team, June 30, 1887, under the four strike rule in vogue that season, that being equivalent to striking out twenty one under the old and the present three strike rule. 2. Ramsey's best record was striking out seventeen of the Cleveland team under the four strike rule, June 2, 1887.

J. W., Kaslo.—1. Charles Sweeney, pitcher for the Providence Club, retired nineteen of the Boston team on strikes, June 7, 1884. 2. See answer to G. S.

T. C. B., Philadelphia. The side which goes in second in a one day cricket match must follow their inning if they have scored 60 runs less than the opposite side.

B. E. F.—A loses. The tie game is of no account in the wager.

P. S. H., Brooklyn.—All bets abide by the umpire's decision.

E. J. G., Attleboro Falls.—You should be more exact about the time. Your question extends over too great a period, and it would require too much valuable time to look the matter up.

H. B. H.—The second game is generally conceded to be the scheduled, or regular, contest, and all bets abide by its result.

ATHLETIC.

READER, Fort Sill.—The shot must be "put," not thrown, from the shoulder with one hand, and in making the attempt it must be above and not behind the shoulder. You can obtain a copy of the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union by addressing J. E. Sullivan, 241 Broadway, New York City; price, twenty five cents.

R. J. C., Bordentown.—The jumper must toe the scratch line, and the measurement is taken from the scratch line to the nearest break in the ground caused by any part of the jumper's person.

W. B., Winona.—William Muldoon, the wrestler, resides on a farm at Belfast, N. Y. A letter addressed in care of this office will reach him.

RING.

P. J. C., Brookfield.—John L. Sullivan won the championship of America by defeating Paddy Ryan at Mississippi City, Miss., on Feb. 7, 1882. He forfeited the title by failing to accept a challenge issued by Jake Kilrain on May 7, 1887, and never afterwards held it, although he defeated Kilrain at Richburg, Miss., July 8, 1889, the latter fight being for the championship of the world, under the old rules.

F. W. H., Cincinnati.—The referee's decision was in favor of McAuliffe, and all bets made by his backers on the result of the battle were won by them.

M. D., Duluth.—John L. Sullivan and the late Jack Dempsey never sparred together, at least in public.

C. M. B., Boston.—Charles Mitchell still holds the boxing championship of England, as does Jim Smith the title of champion under the old rules, the latter requiring that the contestants fight with bare knuckles.

H. S., Chicago.—The fight between John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain, for the championship of the world, under the regular P. R. rules, with bare knuckles, took place in Mississippi, July 8, 1889, and was won by Sullivan. Seventy-five rounds were fought in 2h. 16m. 23s.

ADMIRER OF SPORT, Galveston.—No; that would not be fair fighting.

TURF.

H. C. M., Montclair.—The first three horses in the Brooklyn Jockey Club Handicap, in the years 1887, 1888, 1889, were as follow: 1887, Dry Monopole, Blue Wing, Hidalgo; 1888, The Bard, Hanover, Exile; 1889, Exile, Prince Royal, Terra Cotta.

J. G. S., Massillon.—The proprietors of pool rooms make arbitrary laws, which govern their transactions with bettors. In case of a walkover, however, the general rule is that the horse is a winner.

R. H., Nashua.—You can probably obtain the information you are in quest of by addressing Walter T. Chester, 42-52 Times Building, New York City.

MISCELLANEOUS.

E. K., New Haven.—1. Write to the Scott Stamp and Coin Co., 18 East Twenty-third Street, New York City. 2. Not that we are aware of.

W. E. W., Harrison.—He would no longer be eligible to compete as an amateur.

BLACK (Amateur.

WHITE (Mr. B.) announces mate in two moves.

(*) [He may be "strong," but certainly is not chivalrous.]

(a) Could win the Q P, but White would gain a powerful attack; and 9..Castles, followed by P to Q 3 was preferable to the text.

(b) Has the preferable game already. [A beautiful parallel to Mr. Bird's P sacrifice above.] Of course Black should not have captured the P, but developed his pieces.

(c) Caught in a little trap. White cannot × Kt at once, on account of Q × B +. Black, however, did not notice the threatening R to Kt sq, which subsequently won the Kt.

(!) Brilliant and sound, and forces a win in very short order. The game all through was splendidly played by young Mr. Bilgram.

The Brooklyn Club.

The first notable thing to attract attention this week was an article under the heading "Weary of Strife," introducing the statement that Mr. Marean had resigned the presidency of the B. C. C. We at once said why what will the Brooklyn Club be without its greatest of great presidents? Mr. M.'s reasons for this step seem to be summed up in this—he is a very busy man, and is tired of spending time and money in composing differences between the members. He reminds the club that he took its presidency when it was not more than a third rate chess organization, and with justifiable pride points to the achievement of having led its fortunes to the present commanding position. Its succession of special triumphs are known and read of all (chess) men, and need no recapitulation.

We see that a special general meeting was called at which it was hoped that such adjustment could be made as would still render it possible to retain the invaluable services of Mr. Marean as the club's president.

The chess editor of The Tribune has prefaced some account of the matter in a manner not merely appropriate to the subject in hand, but with so solid a statement of general truth that we have especial pleasure in copying most of it. He says: "Quarrels in chess circles are not likely to popularize the noble game, and writers who make it their business to report any controversies in clubs are not doing the right thing. This practice ought to be condemned all the more when it is found that malice is the real reason for publishing reports which must necessarily hurt the club in particular, and chess in general. Sometimes, of course, it is the duty of a writer to expose weak government of an organization and explain to the public why a club which ought to be successful experiences failures. Such exposures are brought about for the sole purpose of mending the ways and policies of those to whom the members of a club have entrusted the government of any particular organization. Things, however, are different in the Brooklyn Chess Club, which organization, under the guidance of President Marean and his lieutenant, Mr. Elwell, has done more for chess in America than any other dozen clubs taken together." * * * Mr. Pillsbury, inter alia, made the following very suggestive remarks: "If things do not adjust themselves properly at the Brooklyn C. C., it is possible that some of the other Brooklyn clubs will take up the subject; or, perhaps, if fortune favors at Nuremberg, we may have a chess club in New York next Winter which will play these matches. If the B. C. C. acts as I believe it will, such a club would probably be affiliated with it, and may have perhaps a common membership. One thing is certain, the American chess players will stand by President Marean and Mr. Elwell, and will be only too glad to play for America as these gentlemen may advise. Mr. Marean has been an ideal chess club president and his resignation, if he be not induced to resume office again, is the most serious blow chess has ever received in America; but I hope the club will deal with [these matters] in such a way as to induce President Marean to return and conduct the affairs of the club."

What We Gather.

In regard to himself, Mr. Pillsbury makes some statements which the whole American chess world will be eager to hear. He says: "I am going this time entirely foot free, and not as at St. Petersburg harassed by journalistic cares. [A very important and most praiseworthy decision.] I am in excellent health, and hope to give a good account of myself. If I don't win, I shall do the best I can, and have no excuses to offer for the result, whatever it may be. Americans will take a greater interest in this than in any previous European tournament, for the reason that Showalter will also be there and, next to my own, I shall take interest in his score. How difficult winning will be may be judged by the ability of the splendid company we shall meet."......La Strategie, just at this last moment at hand, gives the first direct hint we have seen of Dr. Tarrasch's purpose not to compete in what might almost be called his own tournament, on account of his onerous duties as organizer and general manager. If that is so, Dr. T. must be accorded the very unusual praise of having displayed sounder judgment, more self control and a juster appreciation of the practical ability of the human frame and human intellect to undertake burdens and encounter responsibilities than has been bestowed upon most men—chess men especially. And this we say, knowing how anxious the chess world is to see Dr. Tarrasch again in competition with the greatest living masters. He himself must be equally desirous and confident of improving his last score at Hastings—but not with the cares and burdens that will be upon him at Nuremberg, some of which must fairly be noted as harassing......M. Janowski is named as the representative of France at Nuremberg, where he is looked upon as booked to win new laurels......M. J.'s special rival, Herr Mieses, has been engaged to devote himself especially to the task of sending the best games, as they occur daily, for publication in this country. Good!......Everybody praises the new arrangement of playing one even game a day, and that to a finish instead of the more burdensome method in vogue with former German congresses......The number of competitors has been limited to eighteen—or twenty at most. It looks as though there would be more than thirty candidates......The annual championship tourney of the Cafe de la Regence is ended. It was a two round tilt with twelve entrants. The five prize winners, in succession, were M. Janowski, with twenty wins out of a possible twenty-two, his only actual loss being one game to M. Goetz; A. Goetz, 17½; J. Arnous de Rivier, 17; M. Rosen, 15½; and M. Silbert, 11½. Then follow M. Maurat, 9½; MM. Artigue and Billecard, 8½; Alexandre, 8; Lee, 6½; Tauber, 6; and Levy, 3½......The last handicap of the Grand Cercle des Echecs was very sharply contested, and finally resulted in the victory of M. Nodler, class II; Dr. Porte, class III, second. Class I must have been pretty severely handicapped—overweighted, in fact......M. S Rosenthal, in Le Monde Illustre, frankly admits that it will be difficult to engage a team of six from the native French players who can be counted on as altogether the equal of such Americans as Pillsbury, Showalter, Burille, Barry, Hymes, Hodges, etc.; but pluckily declares the thing not impossible, and with true French chivalry enters upon the proposed cable match, and not only that but stands ready to offer a grand object of art as a point d'appui round, and for which the battle shall rage. Bravo! gallant French Kts of Caissa......Bro. Preti is very much of our opinion about Mr. Richardson's wonderful solution of Problem 2,055. He repeats the solution in La Strategie, saying the misprint did not in the least disconcert Mr. R., who, all the same, discovered a solution in the stipulated nineteen moves. The accident has furnished M. P. another most brilliant problem; and, in his enthusiasm, Bro. Preti christens our contributor the Christopher Columbus of Chess!......Our distinguished French contributor, M. Emile Pradignat, has been conquering new worlds of fame if he hasn't discovered any. In Piccolo Scacchista he received second hon. mention in two moves; but it remained for him to achieve a brilliant triumph in the recent problem tourney of the Danish Illustret Familie Journal for three moves. From a competition including Rev. J. Jespérsen (third prize), A. M. Dahl (second hon. mention), Larsen, Ros, Nielsen, Vetesnik, Tuzar, Moller, Erlin, Nemo, Feigl, and others, M. Pradignat won, first and second prizes, and first hon. mention!

CHECKERS.

News of the Game.

Jordan is now the title holder according to the Scotch side of the argument, and is willing to play Reed, Barker or any other who recognizes his right to the title. Jordan's action has been manly and straightforward, no evasions about him. Scotland may well be proud of Jordan and Stewart, and, in fact, of all of her younger checker talent......The tournament at Southland, New Zealand, is finished with the following result: Souness wins the title of champion and £5, Beecot wins second prize of £4. Now is their time for indoor games, and checkers are booming......A. J. Heffner, ex-champion of America, has won first prize in the Boston handicap tourney......The Pomeroy-Priest games show nothing new. It plainly indicates that they both were playing for draws. One was afraid and the other "dasent." When people stick to old book lines it evidences the fact that their skill in playing is controlled by their memory. ......Well, the young man from Providence went to Boston and presented Grover with his $100 just as we said he would. The score was: Grover, 6; Lawson, 0; drawn, 9. Mr. Grover could easily have conceded Lawson the draws. The first four games were won by Grover, and then in order to make it pleasant for Lawson, he played him easy. Mr. Parrow could easily have played Mr. L. It would not have required any previous preparation. E. A. Durgin desired to get on a match with Lawson, and no doubt it would be quite interesting, as they are both in the same class......The N. A. C. B. for July is at hand filled with interesting matter and play for the amateur and expert, with a sketch of Dr. Ritter. Also a cut of Jordan, of Edinburgh......The New York handicap tourney is finished. The final series was played between Dr. Schaefer and L. S. Head. The score was one win each and four drawn games. The following are the scores of the ten leading players:

	Won.	Lost.	P.C.		Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Harry Hughes	29	3	.906	S. J. Simpson.	24⅜	7⅝	.765
Dr. Schaefer..	28	4	.875	W. Billingsley.	23½	8½	.734
L. S. Head.....	27½	4½	.859	I. Cohen	21½	10⅝	.672
A. J. De Freest	25½	6½	.797	S. Nay	20⅝	11⅜	.641
R. P. Ostrander	25	7	.781	C. A. Blandin	20	12	.625

The tourney ended with all players, with one or two exception, well satisfied. In a tourney with forty entries it is a difficult matter to please every one. It has taught the players just this, that instead of every player playing every other player, that it is much better for the players to be placed in two sections. That is in case of six classes, the first three to be in section one, and the next three classes to be in section two. Each section to finish up among themselves, then the two leaders of each class to play in one final section to determine the winners. This way we get the results without being compelled to play for six months.

ATHLETIC.

The Curlers in Session.

The annual convention of the Grand National Curling Club of America was held at the Caledonian Club, Horatio Street, this city, on Wednesday, July 8, the following delegates being present: Caledonian Curling Club, New York, John E. Hamilton; New York Curling Club, Charles S. Ogden; Jersey City Curling Club, James Stevens; St. Andrew's Curling Club, N. Y., William H. Smith; Yonkers Curling Club, N. Y., James Kellock; Thistle Curling Club, N. Y., Alexander Fraser; Empire City Curling Club, N. Y., Adam Manwell; Ivanhoe Curling Club, Paterson, N. J., Robert Smith; American Curling Club, N. Y., George Grube; St. Paul Curling Club, Minnesota, David Foulis (proxy); Empire City Curling Club, Albany, N. Y., Robert Strathdel; John O'Groat Curling Club, N. Y., George Bain; United Curling Club, Pittston, Pa., Neil Doble; Thistle-Lackawanna Curling Club, Lackawanna, Pa., Duncan McMurtrie; Wilkesbarre Curling Club, Wilkesbarre, Pa., Thomas Nicholson (proxy); Thistle Curling Club, Inkermann, Pa., William Thompson (proxy); Van Cortlandt Curling Club, Van Cortlandt, N. Y., George Fraser.

Secretary David Foulis was instructed to try and have the Morristown and Pittsfield, Mass., clubs join the national body. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the international match between the United States and Canada, which will be played early next Winter at Toronto. The match is played every five years. Hereafter the Mitchell Medal match will be contested with two rinks from each club. Only one rink represented a club in the past. The new rule will act as a sort of stimulus among novice curlers. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, John McCulloch, St. Paul Curling Club; first vice president, Alexander Thompson; second vice president, George Bain; treasurer, James F. Conley; secretary, David Foulis.

The following matches for district medals, arranged by the committee, will take place during next season: Caledonian, N.Y., vs. Jersey City, N. J.; St. Andrew, N. Y., vs. Thistle, Lackawanna, Pa.; Wilkesbarre, Pa., vs. Boston, Mass.; Utica, N. Y., vs. Albany City, N. Y.; Yonkers, N. Y., vs. Thistle, N.Y.; Empire City, N. Y., vs. Manhattan, N. Y.; Long Island City vs. Van Cortlandt; Empire, of Albany, vs. New York; Excelsior, L. I., vs. Ivanhoe, N. J.; American, of Albany, vs. Tuxedo, N. J.; Newark, N. J., vs. Inkermann, Pa.; United Pittson, Pa., vs. John O'Groat, N. Y. The St. Paul Club being located such a long distance from the other clubs, it was decided to award a special medal to it, which will be put to use as they seem fit.

The Bell Quoiting Trophy

Was contended for at Van Cortlandt Park on Thursday, July 9, under the auspices of the Grand National Curling Club of America, the tournament for the possession of the cup being always held on the day following the annual business meeting of that organization. The respective winners each year since 1868, when the trophy was first played for, were: John Templeton, David Bell, John R. Smith, David Bell, John R. Smith, William McCowan, Alexander Dalrymple, J. Templeton, Alexander McGregor, Shaw Stewart, George Greves, George Henderson, David Bell, Alexander McGregor, G. Henderson, G. Henderson, James McLaren, Robert Curry, James McLaren, John T. Raffer, James McLaren, James S. Stevens, James G. Malcolm, Thomas Wigley, George Gaines, Thomas Wigley, Thomas Wigley, Neil Dobee and William Thompson. The summary of this year's competition, which was won by William Thompson, follows:

First round.—Robert Boyd, 21; Robert Kellock, 21; George Telfer, 21; James McLaren, 21; Frank Dykes, 21; J. F. Connelly, 21; James Kellock, 21; A. McLaren, 21; J. McMillan, 21; George Frazier, 21; W. Thompson, 21; A. Gillies, 21; Neil Dobee, 17; Duncan McMurtrie, 13; T. T. Archibald, 20; J. L. McEwen, 15; Robert Ellen, 20; P. F. Gilmartin, 19; J. B. Cole, 15; R. McBeth, 14; W. Henderson, 9; A. Manwell, 4; A. Thompson, 9; A. Pratt, 5; Thomas Nicholson, bye.

Second round.—James McLaren, 21; James Kellock, 21; T. Nicholson, 21; R. Kellock, 21; J. F. Connelly, 21; George Tilfer, 21; Robert Boyd, 7; A. McLaren, 7; George Frazier, 13; J. McMillan, 7; Frank Dykes, 7; A. Gillis, 9; William Thompson, bye.

Third round.—Thomas Nicholson, 21; W. Thompson, 21; James Kellock, 21; J. F. Connelly, 14; Robert Kellock, 13; George Telfer, 16; James McLaren, bye.

Fourth round.—James Kellock, 21; W. Thompson, 21; James McLaren, 3; Thomas Nickolson, 12.

Final round.—W. Thompson, 21; J. Kellock, 7.

The Suspended English Amateurs.

Concerning the summary action recently taken by the governing amateur athletic body in England, in suspending some of the more prominent among the suspected runners on the eve of the annual championship meeting, the sporting press of London has the following to say, which will furnish good reading for American amateurs, in view of the question raised by British editors as to the true standing of some of our victors in the international contests of last year. Says The London Sporting Life of June 29:

A meeting of the Southern Committee of the A. A. A. was held on Friday night. There was a full attendance of some twenty delegates. Montague Sherman was in the chair, and another vice-president, T. M. Abraham, was also present. C. A. Bradley, F. E. Bacon, A. R. Downer, G. Crossland, H. Watkins and A. Blair Jr. were called before the committee to answer the evidence previously placed before the committee as to their demanding and receiving from various sports committees—the promoting bodies—certain sums of money for competing as amateurs at the sports of those committees, contrary to the rules of the Amateur Athletic Association. All but Blair and Crossland attended. The latter wrote and stated he was unable to be present, and the former entrusted a statement, admitting the receipt of certain sums for expenses, to his brother, who explained the details to the committee. The others attended, admitted the charges, and after a long debate the following resolutions were put and carried: "That Crossland be suspended pending his personal explanation." "That Bradley, Bacon, Downer, Watkins and Blair be suspended, the term of their sentence to be left to a special general committee of the association, to be called July 25 next, in London." Following the usual practice of the committee, the supensions were not to take effect until after the following day (Saturday), June 27.

In the same paper, of July 1, appears the following from the pen of "Old Blue:"

It has never before fallen to the lot of any of the committees of the A. A. A. to show such stern action as that of the Southern Committee on Friday evening last, in the suspension of half a dozen leading athletes of the day. The decision arrived at will certainly dispel the mistrust which the public have been showing in the association as the censor of amateur sport. For some time past it has been demanded on all sides that the Association should arouse itself and bring some of the offenders against its laws to book, but few were prepared to hear that investigations had progressed sufficiently for such summary action as that of Friday to be possible. To disqualify champions wholesale a week before the championships shows that the A. A. A. is not so keen about its gate money as are some of the clubs who profess to support its laws. It will ill satisfy some sportsmen if the organizations who have been holding out tempting baits to the disqualified men are not also called over the coals. The acquiescence of these clubs in the breaking of the rules has brought the sport into such loose order that it is not surprising to find men careless as to compliance with the A. A. A. requirements, while little troubles as to expenses could be got over without the least difficulty.

The suspended persons are indeed the scapegoats of a rotten state of affairs in athletics. By the decline of professional sport clubs have been foisted on the A. A. A. which are amateurs (save the mark) in character simply because it is quite impossible to exist under any other conditions. So far from having any sympathy with amateurism, some of the present day runners could hardly give a sensible plea in its favor, and undoubtedly, if only a strong movement against the A. A. A. could be set on foot tomorrow, a fair section of the British clubs would be pleased to throw off the restrictions which they now have to bear.

While amateurism is conducted on perfect lines there is not much gate money in the business. If the men who have been taken off the path had met with the displeasure of the A. A. A. earlier in the season we fancy the receipts at some of the meetings where they have performed would have shown a much leaner appearance. The crowd demands first class men, and if they are no longer to have them, good bye to big balances. Only a few days have to pass before evidence of this fact will be obtained.

The action of the committee is in some respects not as clear as it might be. It is laid down in A. A. A. laws "that a competitor who asks for or receives expenses ceases to be an amateur." Consequently, upon admission of such an offence a delinquent can only be regarded by the A. A. A. as a professional, and, as such, is hardly a subject upon whom suspension can logically be inflicted. Nor would it appear that such a person could be again admitted to the amateur ranks, for under the rules reinstatement is possible only for those who have broken the laws in ignorance. Notwithstanding these facts the Southern Committee announce that the terms of suspension will be fixed by the General Committee on July 25. Probably by that time some of the men will have decided to trouble the A. A. A. no further in the matter.

As these suspensions are the work of the Southern Committee alone, and are presumably only for offenses committed in the southern district, it may be that similar revelations will be the outcome of the next committee meeting of the Northern Counties Athletic Association, which, it is rumored, is acting in concert with the Southern Committee.

The Eureka Athletic Club

Held an outing at Astoria, L. I., on Thursday afternoon and evening, July 9, the friends of the members turning out in large numbers and the affair being very enjoyable. The games which constituted a feature of the affair were watched with manifest interest. Summary:

One mile run.—Won by Parker Ellis, Merrick Welsh second, Jesse Perry third. Time, 5m. 17⅗s.

Throwing baseball.—Won by W. H. Stewart, 279ft.; Hiram Hunt second, 273ft.; Martin Stone third, 263ft.

Running broad jump.—Won by George Phillips, 19ft.; Harry Strong second, 18ft. 11in.; Merrick Welsh third, 18ft.

Running high jump.—Won by Samuel Finch, 5ft. 3in.; Frank Blair second, 5ft.; Charles Brown third, 4ft. 8½in.

Putting 56lb weight.—Won by Merrick Welsh, 20ft. 10in.; Martin Stone second, 20ft.; Henry Hanson third, 19ft. 10in.

The Macy Mutual Aid,

An organization composed of the employes of R. H. Macy & Co., of this city, will hold its annual outing and athletic games at Ulmer Park, Bath Beach, L. I., on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, July 25, the sports to commence at three o'clock. The following events will be open to all amateurs, A. A. U. rules to govern: One hundred yards run, handicap; two hundred and twenty yards run, handicap; four hundred and forty yards run, handicap; half mile run, handicap; one mile run, handicap; half mile run, novice, for all those who have never won a prize in a race; one mile run, scratch, for championship of all dry goods houses, all competitors eligible who have been employed in the house from which they enter at least two months prior to games. The following events will be open only to the employes of R. H. Macy & Co.: One hundred yards run, two hundred and twenty yards run, four hundred and forty yards run, three-quarter mile run, putting 12lb shot, throwing 56lb weight. A tug of war between two teams, composed of six men each, representing respectively the china and delivery departments, for six prizes. Handsome prizes will be awarded to first and second in each event. An entrance fee of fifty cents must accompany entry for each event. Entries close July 18, with Alex. McLean, secretary Macy Mutual Aid, Macy's, Sixth Avenue and Fourteenth Street, New York. Each lady, on entering the grounds, will be allowed a chance from a grab bag for a handsome costume.

LEAGUE-ASSOCIATION.

New York Wins Two and Loses Three in the West—Other Games.

St. Louis vs. New York.

Loose fielding on the part of St. Louis and opportune batting by the New Yorks enabled the latter to score an apparently easy victory over the former on July 7, at St. Louis, Mo. Clark pitched good ball, with the exception of the fifth and eighth innings, when he was touched up for five earned runs. Hart was freely batted from start to finish, while his support was poor. The visitors earned only three of the twelve runs scored by them. Meekin and Murphy umpired in the absence of one of the regular officials. In the fifth inning Captain Gleason threw a new ball into the lake because a spectator would not throw out an old ball which had gone into the grand stand. W. Clark led in batting, while the long safe hits were triple baggers by Van Haltren and Zearfoss and doubles by W. Clark, Dowd and Cross.

Better all around work helped the New Yorks to another victory on July 8. Breitenstein pitched for the home club, and at times showed all his old skill, but the visitors managed to make safe hits with men on the bases. Meekin, who did the pitching for the New Yorks, was in excellent form, and, after the the third inning, was practically invincible. Meyers, the St. Louis third baseman, did not report for duty, and President Von der Ahe fined him $100, and threatened to blacklist him if he did not report on the following day. It had been intended to play two games, but the slim crowd led to a change of plans, and the tie game of July 7 will be played off at the Polo Grounds, in New York City, when the St. Louis team is on their next Eastern trip. The long safe hits were a home run by Van Haltren, and double baggers by Gleason and McFarland.

Louisville vs. Boston.

Better all around work enabled the Bostons to defeat the Louisvilles on July 7, at Louisville, Ky. Crooks and Rogers, formerly with the Washingtons, made their first appearance with the home team, and both made a favorable impression. Rogers plays first base and Crooks takes O'Brien's place at second base. Hill was rather erratic in his delivery. He was hit hard when he did get the ball over the plate, and was replaced by Cunningham; but the game was virtually lost when the change was made. Then, too, the fielding of the home team was wretched, as the Bostons earned only two of the ten runs credited to them. The long safe hits were a home run by Cunninghan, triple baggers by Stivetts and Long, and doubles by Duffy, Lowe, Crooks and Cunningham.

The Louisvilles out played the Bostons at all points and won as they pleased on July 8. Frazer held the visitors down to five safe hits, and only for his wildness in giving bases on balls in the second inning the Bostons would have been shut out without a run. Nichols proved an easy mark to the home team, and his pitching was batted in a lively manner, especially in the first and eighth innings, when eight of the ten runs credited to the home team were made. The long safe hits were double baggers by Tucker, Miller (twice) and Dexter. Miller's batting and Tenney's throwing to the bases were features.

Cleveland vs. Brooklyn.

The Clevelands defeated the Brooklyns on July 7, at Cleveland, O., in a contest that had a close and exciting finish. Cuppy pitched superbly, and for eight innings the visitors made only one safe hit off him, while not a run had been scored by them. In the ninth, however, they tallied five runs and saved themselves from a shut out. Griffin singled and scored on Anderson's triple bagger. Shindle was given a base on balls. Corcoran reached first on an error by Childs and Anderson scored. Lachance batted the ball over the fence for a home run, sending in Shindle and Corcoran ahead of him. Griffin made a sensational catch off a hard and apparently safe hit by McKean. Abbey, too, pitched good ball, but the home team managed to bunch their hits in the sixth and eighth innings and earn five runs.

Superior batting and faultless fielding helped the Brooklyns to reverse the above result on July 8. Wallace was put in with the expectation that he could defeat the visitors for the second time in the present series, but he failed most lamentably. The Brooklyns pounded his delivery, while his support was none of the best. Daub, too, was freely batted, but perfect fielding helped him to keep the hits well apart, except in the ninth inning, when the home team bunched three singles and a triple bagger and earned three runs. The long safe hits were triple baggers by McAleer and McKean and doubles by Anderson and Shoch.

Cincinnati vs. Philadelphia.

Superior all around work enabled the Cincinnatis to defeat the Philadelphias on July 7, at Cincinnati, O. Carsey pitched good ball up to the sixth inning, holding the home team down to one run. In the sixth, however, after making a wild throw to first base, which seemed to rattle him, before the side was put out nine runs were credited to Cincinnati. Dwyer pitched magnificently, holding the visitors down to six safe hits. Smith's fielding was a feature, he accepting all of twelve chances at short stop. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by Miller, and doubles by Thompson, Miller and Vaughn.

The Cincinnatis again won on July 8, after a close and exciting finish. Two safe hits and a daring steal after two men were out in the eighth inning, gave the home team what proved the winning run. Both teams profitted by a base on balls, but in one inning only—the fourth—could the Philadelphias bunch their hits off Ehret. Wittrock, who made his first appearance with the visitors, also did good work in the pitcher's position, but was batted safely when hits were needed. The base running done by the Cincinnatis was a feature. The only long safe hit was a triple bagger by Grady.

Washington vs. Pittsburg.

The Pittsburgs outplayed the Washingtons at all points, and won as they pleased on July 7, at Washington, D. C. After the first inning the home team could do nothing with Killen's delivery, while he was faultlessly supported. McJames, too, did good work, but several costly errors by Joyce, and timely batting by the visitors, helped the latter to win. Donovan led in batting. His three hits included a double bagger, it being the only long safe hit of the game. Truby, late of the Chicagos, played his first game with the Pittsburgs and did well.

The Washingtons were shut out without a run on July 8, when the scene was shifted to Pittsburg, Pa. The game was played in the rain. Mercer had no control of the ball and was hit hard. Umpire Hurst refused to call the game and it was played to a finish, despite the protests of players and spectators. Hughey wrenched his hip in the third inning and Hawley relieved him. The long safe hits were double baggers by Cartwright (twice), Mack and Hawley.

GEORGE HARPER

George Harper, one of the pitchers of the Brooklyn Club, of the National League and American Association, who has been loaned to the Scranton Club, of the Eastern League, and who will without doubt soon be recalled to help out the Brooklyn team in its pitching department, was born Aug. 17, 1866, at Milwaukee, Wis., and learned to play ball with the amateur teams around his native place. His first professional engagement was with the Stockton Club, of the California League, in 1888, he taking part that year in twenty-seven championship contests, and greatly aiding in landing his team in first place in the race for the pennant. He remained with the Stocktons during the season of 1889, and participated that year in forty-seven championship games. In 1890 he was with the Sacramento team, of the same league, and his club finished second in the championship race. In 1891 he was a member of the San Jose team, of the California League, participating in eighty-three championship contests, and materially helping his club to win the pennant offered by that league. He continued with the San Jose Club throughout the season of 1892. In 1893 he was with the Stockton Club, of the same league. In 1894 he began the season with the Nashville Club, of the Southern League, and did so well that he attracted the attention of the officials of the Philadelphia Club, of the National League and American Association, who obtained his release, and he finished the season with the Philadelphia team, participating in nine championship contests, six of which resulted in victories and three in defeats. He won two from Boston and one each from Brooklyn, New York, Cleveland and Pittsburg, while his three defeats were by the Brooklyns, Chicagos and Cincinnatis. In 1895 he was connected with the Rochester team, of the Eastern League, and was considered by some persons as one of the best pitchers in that league. He was highly recommended to the Brooklyn Club, and his release was purchased last Winter. As the latter club had more pitchers on its pay roll than it could conveniently utilize, Harper was loaned to the Scranton Club, and has been doing exceedingly well. Among some of his noteworthy batting and pitching feats was making a safe hit each of the five times he went to the bat in a game against the Wilkesbarres, June 28, 1895, at Wilkesbarre, Pa. On June 6, 1895, at Rochester, N. Y., he held the Torontos down to six safe hits, and struck out fourteen of them. During that season he held a number of teams down to six hits or less, including the Buffalos to five safe hits, and the Syracuse to six safe hits.

Chicago vs. Baltimore.

Heavy batting marked the contest between the Baltimore and Chicago teams on July 7, at Chicago, Ill., in which the latter excelled. Clarkson was batted out of the pitcher's position in the sixth inning, and Pond, who succeeded him, fared little better. Griffith, too, was freely batted, but faced the music until the game was finished. Dahlen and Pfeffer led in batting, each being credited with four safe hits. The fielding feature was a sensational one handed catch of a hard line ball by Dahlen, who then touched Kelley, making a double play unassisted.

These teams gave another exhibition of heavy batting on July 8, in which the Baltimores excelled, and by bunching their hits in the first, third and seventh innings managed to reverse the above result. Both Briggs and McMahon were so feebly batted that they retired at the end of the second inning. Friend was substituted for the former and Hemming for the latter. The long safe hits were home runs by Brodie, Decker and Friend, triple baggers by Kelley, Jennings, Doyle, Dahlen and Ryan, and doubles by Hemming (twice) and Clarke. The features were the double plays by Chicago and Brodie's fielding.

St. Louis vs Boston.

The St. Louis Browns, strengthened by the acquisition of Sullivan and Turner, late of the Philadelphias, defeated the Bostons on July 9, at St. Louis, Mo. Sullivan, who started in to pitch for the visitors, was hit hard from the start and finally knocked out of the pitcher's position in the fifth inning. He was replaced by Stivetts, who fared little better. Donahue was hit equally as often as the other two, but the hits were less productive of runs. Myers reported for duty and thus saved himself from the threatened black list. His all around work was excellent. The long safe hits were a home run by Connor, triple baggers by Turner, Parrott and Meyers and a two baser by Turner.

The home team again won on July 10, although outbatted by the visitors. The latter's errors, however, proved costly; besides, Lewis was rather erratic in his delivery, giving five men their bases on balls, and as safe hits invariably followed the bases on balls, or the errors make by the Bostons, the Browns had little trouble in winning. The long safe hits were home runs by Dowd and Bergen, triple baggers by Hamilton, Long and Harrington, and doubles by Parrott, Hart, Hamilton (twice), Lowe, Tucker and Lewis.

Two games were played by these teams on July 11, when each was credited with a victory. The opening game was one postponed by rain on May 19, and was won by Boston by superior batting. Breitenstein was erratic in his delivery, giving six men their base on balls, and was freely batted from start to finish. Nichols pitched good ball, outside the third and fourth innings, when the home team batted in four of the five runs credited to them. Dowd injured a finger and gave way to Douglass, who was sent to left field, Sullivan being shifted to second base. The long safe hits were home runs by Turner and Long, triple baggers by Lowe and Tucker, and doubles by Cross, Breitenstein, Bannon, Long, Duffy and Bergen.

Superior batting enabled the Browns to reverse the above result in the second game, which was the regularly scheduled one. Twenty safe hits for a total of twenty-eight bases were made off Stivetts. Kisinger, too, was freely batted, but after the third inning was very effective. The long safe hits were a home run by Connor, a triple bagger by Lowe and doubles by Duffy, Douglass, Turner, Parrott, Meyers and Cross. The batting done by the home team was the chief feature.

Chicago vs. New York.

The Chicagos defeated the New Yorks with apparent ease on July 9, at Chicago, Ill., by bunching their hits in the fifth and eighth innings, when they scored all of their runs. Up to the fifth inning the New Yorks had a lead of one run to nothing and looked like probable winners. In the fifth, however, the Chicagos fell upon Mike Sullivan's delivery, batted it all over the field and virtually won the game then and there. They added two more in the eighth, but did not need them to win. Terry pitched a fine game, keeping the hits well scattered. His error gave the New Yorks their only run. The long safe hits were a home run by Lange, a triple bagger by Terry, and doubles by Davis, Everitt, Dahlen and Ryan. The fielding of Pfeffer and Dahlen was a feature.

Faultless fielding and timely batting enabled the Chicagos to again win on July 10, when these teams met for the eighth time this season, and the home team evened up the victories, each winning four. Both pitchers were freely batted, but the Chicagos were more fortunate in bunching their hits, while the New Yorks' hits were well scattered throughout and unproductive. The long safe hits were a home run by Pfeffer, triple baggers by Davis and Dahlen, and doubles by Tiernan and Decker. Davis and Everitt led their respective teams in batting. After the first inning there was not a time the visitors had a ghost of a show to win.

It took twelve innings before a result was reached on July 11, the Chicagos winning on a double bagger by Donahue, a sacrifice by Friend and a balk by Meekin, and thereby enabling them to make it three straight over the New Yorks. The visitors outbatted the home team, but could not bunch their hits or make them when men were on the bases, eleven men being left. The Chicagos took a lead of two runs early in the game and held it until the ninth, when the New Yorks tied it on Van Haltren's single and a two bagger by Stafford. Both Meekin and Friend pitched effectively, but the latter received the better support, and he did not give so many bases on balls as did Meekin, although he was batted oftener than was the New York pitcher. The long safe hits were a home run by Everitt and doubles by Stafford, Gleason, Dahlen, Ryan, Decker and Donahue.

Louisville vs. Philadelphia.

The Louisvilles scored an unlooked for victory over the Philadelphias on July 9, at Louisville, Ky., with apparent ease. Both teams played loosely in the field, while the batting was pretty nearly even, although that done by the home team was more productive. Hill was pretty effective when men were on the bases, the visitors having seven men left when a few timely hits would have sent most, if not all, of them across the plate. Keener was batted hard, the Louisvilles making a total of twenty-five bases off ten safe hits. The long safe hits were home runs by Delehanty, Crooks, Clarke and Dexter, two triple baggers by McCreary and doubles by Hulen, Holmes and Clingman.

The Louisvilles again won on July 10 by timely batting. They bunched their hits in the second, third and fourth innings, and took a lead that the Philadelphias could not overcome, although they made a strong uphill fight by scoring four more runs in the eighth, and succeeded in knocking McDermott out of the pitcher's position. Up to that point they had not been able to do much with McDermott's delivery. Cunningham succeeded him in the ninth and prevented the visitors from again scoring. The long safe hits were a home run by McCreary, a triple by Clements and doubles by Holmes and Delehanty.

Faultless fielding and timely batting by the home team, aided by loose fielding by the visitors, enabled the former to defeat the latter on July 11, and score their third consecutive victory over them. Frazer pitched effectively, and the excellent support he received helped him to hold the visitors down to a single run, which was made in the ninth inning, and thereby save themselves from a shut out. Taylor was batted safely at the right time, and was put out of the game for incessant kicking and striking Catcher Dexter in the seventh inning. He was replaced by Wittrock. The long safe hits were triple baggers by McCreary, Clarke and Holmes, and doubles by Delehanty, Hallman and Dexter.

Cleveland vs. Baltimore.

The Baltimores were shut out without a run by the Clevelands on July 9, at Cleveland, O. Young pitched effectively, allowing the champions only seven scattering singles, while Pond was freely batted, Childs leading with a safe hit each of the four times he went to the bat. Burkett also batted well, making three safe hits. The fielding of McKean, Childs and McGarr, with the batting of Childs and Burkett, and Young's pitching, were the features.

The double programme was enacted by these teams on July 10, and each was credited with a victory. The opening game was one postponed by rain on May 19, and resulted in another shut out for the visitors. Nearly ten thousand persons were present to witness the two games. Cuppy pitched effectively in the opening contest, and he had the champions completely at his mercy, holding them down to seven scattering singles. Esper was pounded hard from start to finish, the Clevelands making twenty two safe hits for a total of thirty-two bases. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by Blake, and doubles by Burkett (twice), McKean, Childs (twice), Tebeau, Blake and Zimmer.

The Baltimores succeeded in reversing the above result in the second game, after a hard uphill fight, by scoring four runs in the ninth inning. The home team again outbatted the visitors, but effective pitching by Clarkson at critical stages made many of the hits unproductive. The game had a very exciting finish; many of the spectators surged upon the field and tried to have it called before the ninth inning was finished, but Umpire Hurst would not call it, and it took a squad of policeman quite a while to get the people off the field.

The Baltimores outplayed the Clevelands at all points on July 11 and won with apparent ease in the presence of nearly nine thousand people. Young proved an easy mark and was hammered in a heart breaking manner, while Hoffer proved an enigma to the home team, who made only five safe hits off his delivery, enough of which were bunched in the third inning to earn their only run. Doyle led in batting, making four safe hits, including a double bagger. The other long safe hits were double baggers by Kelley, Brodie, Donnelly, Clarke and Hoffer. Doyle's batting and the fielding of Jennings and Childs were the features. The former accepted all of eleven chances at short stop, and the latter accepted all of thirteen at second base. Jennings' fielding was of the sensational order.

Cincinnati vs. Washington.

Two games for one admission were played by these teams on July 10, when the locals were credited with a double victory. In the opening game, which was postponed by rain on July 9, the Cincinnatis won by superior fielding, timely batting and clever base running, although outbatted by the visitors; but the latter could only bunch their hits to any extent in the sixth inning, when they scored four of the six runs credited to them. A scene seldom witnessed on a ball field occurred during the fifth inning of the first game. There were fully twelve thousand persons present. The bulletin board boy chalked up the words "Bryan nominated" where every one could see them. There were a few scattered cheers. Some one then proposed three cheers for McKinley, and every man, woman and child in the grand stand and bleachers arose and let their voices ring for fully five minutes. The game was stopped temporarily to allow the crowd to [illegible] their noise. Then the home team batted [illegible] runs and clinched the game.

Mercer's ineffective pitching, and costly errors behind him, enabled the home team to score another and an apparently easy victory over the Washingtons on July 11, although outbatted by the latter. Mercer's wild throws gave the Cincinnatis five runs in the fifth inning and such a lead that the visitors could not overcome it. Dwyer was batted hard, but sharp fielding at critical times kept the hits well scattered, and many of them went for naught. The long safe hits were triple baggers by Lush and Dwyer, and doubles by Abbey, Burke and Hoy.

Pittsburg vs. Brooklyn.

Costly errors by Corcoran, erratic pitching by Kennedy and timely batting by the home team enabled the latter to defeat the Brooklyns on July 9, at Pittsburg, Pa., in what proved to be a close and exciting contest. Killen was quite freely batted, but sharp fielding, aided by effective pitching at critical stages, helped to keep down the visitors' score. A high wind prevailed throughout and affected both pitchers. The long safe hits were double baggers by Jones, Griffin and Corcoran.

Two games for one admission were played by these teams on July 10, when each was credited with a victory. The opening one was a game postponed by rain on May 18, and was won by the Brooklyns, who outplayed the home team at all points. Payne pitched effectively, allowing the Pittsburgs only five safe hits, from which they earned one run. The visitors bunched their hits in the fifth and eighth innings, and earned three of the four runs scored. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by Ely, and a double by Lachance, Merritt, Lyons and Mack.

In the second game the Pittsburgs, by timely batting and sharp fielding, succeeded in reversing the above result. Abbey, who started in to pitch for the visitors, was so freely batted in the third inning that he was succeeded by Daub in the fourth, but the latter was no improvement; he had poor command of the ball and was hit hard at the right time. The long safe hits were triple baggers by Ely (twice), Smith and Sugden, and doubles by Griffin, Stenzel and Lyons.

The Brooklyns had little trouble in defeating the Pittsburgs on July 11, in a well played and an exceedingly interesting game. The home team made a desperate effort to win the final game of the present series, and prevent the Brooklyns from breaking even, but Kennedy was too much for them, holding them down to five safe hits, including a triple bagger. It should have been a shut out, and would have been had Shindle not fumbled a grounder by Stenzel in the sixth inning, after two men were out. Smith followed with a triple bagger to right field and and Stenzel crossed the plate—the home team's only run. The fielding of the Brooklyns was of the highest order, Griffin particularly distinguishing himself by several sensational catches of difficult fly balls. The only other long safe hit was a triple bagger by Jones. Hastings was batted safely when hits were needed, although he was fairly effective at other times.

Pittsburg vs. Boston.

The Bostons snatched a victory out of the fire, as it were, on July 13, at Pittsburg, Pa. The home team held the lead up to the eighth inning and looked like possible winners. In their half of the eighth the Bostons batted in four runs and virtually settled the contest. Two singles, a low throw by Lyons, a double by Duffy, a steal by the latter and an out gave the Bostons four runs and a lead that the Pittsburgs could not overcome, although they added one more run to their credit in the ninth. Stenzel had to retire in the first inning on account of a sore leg, which has been troubling him for a week or more. The long safe hits were triple baggers by Bergen, Donovan and Beckley, and doubles by Duffy, Ely and Mack.

Cleveland vs. New York.

Timely batting helped the New Yorks to defeat the Clevelands on July 13, at Cleveland, O., in a contest that was limited to five innings on account of rain. During the morning Umpire Hurst received a telegram from President N. E. Young, instructing him that Captain Tebeau was ineligible to play, and telling him the game was liable to protest. Hurst did not know whether to umpire the game or not, so Tebeau hustled down town, went into court and an injunction was issued against Hurst, restraining him from interfering with the order of the court, which had already enjoined the major league from collecting the fine assessed against Tebeau. President Robison sat on the players' bench when Officer Stegkemper served the injunction on the umpire. Hurst then ignored President Young's instructions and went on with the game. In addition to the injunction on Hurst restraining him from interfering with Tebeau, restraining orders were also served on Manager Arthur Irwin and Captain Gleason, of the New Yorks, enjoining them from collecting the fine levied on Tebeau. Irwin decided to protest the game in order to protect his club, in spite of the probability that he might be arrested on the charge of contempt of court. He figured that should the Cleveland Club defeat the New Yorks, and the National and American Association maintain its position in the Tebeau matter, the major league would have to give the game to the New Yorks, as Tebeau was not eligible to play with the Clevelands. However, the New Yorks won the game, and the protest will probably never be acted upon. Umpire Hurst, after being also served with a restraining order, did not tell Tebeau that he was ineligible to play, despite President Young's message to do so. Sullivan was a puzzle that the home team could not solve, while Cuppy was pounded for five hits in the fourth inning, which won New York the game. With one Cleveland player out in the last half of the sixth inning, Hurst called the game on account of rain, which did not cease, and the game reverted to the fifth inning.

Cincinnati vs. Brooklyn.

A timely bunching of hits by the Cincinnatis in the eight inning of the game played on July 12, at Cincinnati, O., enabled them to defeat the Brooklyns for the sixth time this season. It was nip and tuck from the start until the close of the seventh inning, the visitors tieing the score in that inning, but a batting rally in the eighth by the home team put the result beyond a doubt. The long safe hits were a home run by Miller, triple baggers by Jones, Shindle and Burke, and doubles by Miller, McPhee, Irwin and Ehret. Burke's fielding and a sensational catch by Miller of Anderson's apparently safe hit were the features.

Notwithstanding that the Brooklyns played an errorless game, and made more safe hits than the home team did, on July 13, they were again beaten, and that, too, by nearly the same figures as on the preceding day. McCarthy took Jones' place in right field, as the latter was suffering from a badly swollen finger, the result of a collision in the game of the day before. Ewing started in to play, but after the Brooklyn's half of the first inning was finished he gave way to Vaughn. Burke led in the batting, while the long safe hits were a triple bagger by Smith and doubles by Griffin, Miller and Vaughn.

Louisville vs. Baltimore.

The Baltimores played the Louisvilles to a stand still on July 12, at Louisville, Ky., and won as they pleased. The home team lost a number of chances for scoring by stupid base running. Donnelly and Rogers led their respective teams in batting, while the long safe hits were a triple bagger by Clingman and doubles by Doyle, Brodie, Donnelly and McMahon. The fielding of Crooks and F. Clarke, the latter making a sensational running catch, and Donnelly's batting were the features.

The Baltimores again won on July 13, after a fine uphill fight. The home team bunched their hits on Hemming in the first inning, when four hits, aided by two bases on balls and an error by Kelley, netted them five runs. After that they could do nothing with his delivery, making only three scattering safe hits in the remaining eight innings. Frazer was batted hard and at the right time. Miller was hit over the eye in the first inning by a thrown ball and rendered unconscious. Four stitches were necessary to close the wound. Kinslow, whose notice of release has expired, took his place. Brodie was fined $15 for having too much to say. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by McCreary and doubles by Doyle and Hemming.

Chicago vs. Philadelphia.

A timely bunching of hits in the third and fifth innings of the game played on July 13, at Chicago, Ill., helped the home team to defeat the Philadelphias. Delehanty's batting was a feature. He made four home runs and a single out of five times at bat. Luck, however, was against the visitors, and only once did they have any one on the bases when he made his long safe hits. The other long safe hits were triple baggers by Lange and Pfeffer and doubles by Lange, Decker and Terry.

Chicago vs. Cleveland.

The Clevelands defeated the Chicagos on July 12, at Chicago, Ill., by a timely bunching of their hits in the fifth inning, when they scored more than enough runs to give them a victory. After two men had scored and two hands were out in the fifth inning Wallace, of the visiting team, backed away from the plate, but the ball struck his bat and bounded into right field, giving him two bases. Then McAleer sent a high fly to left field, on which he reached third base, as Decker could not see the ball on account of the sun. This lead the home team could not overcome.

St. Louis vs. Washington.

Superior batting on the part of the Washingtons, and loose fielding by the home team, enabled the former to defeat the latter on July 13, at St. Louis, Mo. Donahue proved the easiest kind of a mark, and the visitors took advantage of it to fatten their batting averages. King, on the other hand, allowed the Browns only four safe hits, but was rather wild in giving bases on balls and hitting another batsman with a pitched ball. The long safe hits were double baggers by Joyce, McGuire (twice), King and McFarland.

Twelve innings were necessary before a result was reached by these teams on July 13, the home team winning by Demont's dropping an easy fly, with Cross on third and only one out. The error allowed Cross to score. Hart was steadier and more effective than McJames in all except the seventh inning, when the visitors earned three runs on two singles and a home run. McJames was very erratic in his delivery, sending ten men to their base on balls. The long safe hits were a home run by Demont, a triple by O'Brien and doubles by Sullivan and Connor.

ATLANTIC LEAGUE MEETING.

Metropolitans Expelled and New Haven Drops Out.

A special meeting of the Atlantic League was held on July 10, in this city, with President Crane in the chair. Those present were: Horace A. Bonnell and F. M. Knowles, representing the Metropolitans; D. A. Long, Wilmington; G. E. and Albert Ellis, Newark; E. G. Burrows and A. A. McKee, Paterson; T. P. Sullivan, New Haven, and William Barnie, Hartford. It was proposed and carried by an unanimous vote that the Metropolitan Club be expelled. The Athletic Club, Philadelphia, a member of the Pennsylvania State League, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the dropping of the "Mets." The recent action of President Freedman has been very distasteful to the representatives of other clubs, and their summary action last night clearly showed their feeling in the matter. The trouble dates from June 18, when Freedman took on himself to lecture the umpire of a game at the Polo Grounds between the "Mets" and Washingtons, whereupon the captain of the latter suggested that Freedman don a uniform if he desired to take part in the game. In retaliation Freedman barred the player from again entering the Polo Grounds. Delegate Bonnell intimated that Freedman would bring suit. President Crane said that he expected such a move, but did not fear the result. Knowles said it was a cut and dried affair, claiming that the different clubs are scheduled to play at the Polo Grounds during the next three weeks, and as they, according to agreement, are not to receive any money, the "Mets" were ousted for that cause.

New Haven was also dropped from the Atlantic League circuit for various reasons, the most pertinent being that the members favored Lancaster, another member of the unfortunate Pennsylvania State League. New Haven has not been a money maker. Lancaster takes up New Haven's schedules. President Crane said that the Metropolitan Club had paid its dues. He said further that everything that the Metropolitans had paid into the League, including the $250 forfeit to finish the season, would be paid back to the club.

President Young, of the National League and American Association, in speaking recently about the Tebeau fine, which has not been paid as yet, said: "I have not received one word from Mr. Robison or Manager Tebeau since the fine was imposed, and the only means I have of knowing that the official communication of the major league reached its destination is what I have read in the newspapers. I do not understand what object Mr. Robison has in serving injunctions upon the Washington and other clubs, unless it be his intention to make all of the major league clubs parties of the suit he proposes to bring in the courts. The players and managers of the various major league clubs are in no way responsible for the decrees of the board of directors of the major league, and it seems to me that Mr. Robison is being injudiciously advised. The major league, through its authorized officials, will enforce the law as laid down in our constitution, and in accordance with the common law. We have a right under our constitution to impose fines upon players when they are guilty of misconduct, and in the Tebeau case we have not exceeded the baseball law. There seems to be a misapprehension as to the date upon which the ten days given Tebeau to pay his fine expires. My letter was mailed to him on July 2, and, therefore, the time does not expire until July 12. I fully expect that the fine will be paid, but if it is not, Tebeau will be declared ineligible by the umpire, who is in charge of the game. If the game is at Cleveland and the Cleveland management persists in playing the objectionable player, notwithstanding the decree of the major league, the opposing club may protest the game pending further action by the organization. There is no trouble about the law in this case, and it will be settled in accordance with the merits involved. Tebeau cannot afford to set the major league at defiance, nor can that body afford to permit its discipline to be impaired and trampled under foot by one of its players."

The New Bedford Baseball team has been given a shaking up, and since new life has been infused in the work of the players, now they are playing winning ball. Sheible and Hollowell, two pitchers, were released. The latter was engaged by the Fall Rivers and pitted against his old team, the New Bedfords, in the morning game of July 4, and to the surprise of everybody he pitched a phenomenal game, and pulled the Fall Rivers out winners by the score of 5 to 4. Slattery, who hails from South Boston, has been replaced in right field by Rudolph. Ezra Lincoln, who has been on the Fall Rivers' pitching staff for five years past, was released last week and immediately signed by the New Bedford management. More releases are likely to take effect within two more weeks. The New Bedfords and Bangors played a fourteen inning game July 8, the former winning by 4 to 3. The following day they won again from Bangors by 12 to 11. Further changes with a view of strengthening the team will be made at third base, left and right field.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern League was held on July 3, at Albany, N. Y. Those present were: President P. T. Powers, C. T. Sheehan, Springfield, Mass.; C. A. Limgrenber, Rochester, N. Y.; A. C. Buckenburger, Albany, N. Y., and H. P. Simpson, Scranton, Pa., by proxy. The board sanctioned the transfer of the Toronto, Can., Club to Albany and the change of its name, and also ruled that all games won and lost by the Toronto Club should go to the credit of the Albany Club.

Gray prevented the Wilmingtons from making more than two safe hits on July 12, at Paterson, N. J., the Patersons winning by 8 to 1.

King held the St. Louis Browns down to four safe hits July 12, at St. Louis, Mo., the Washingtons winning by 14 to 1.

T. J. Keefe, the veteran ex-professional pitcher, resigned on July 7 as an official umpire of the National League and American Association. In speaking about it Keefe said: "My sole reason for leaving the field on July 7, at St. Louis, Mo., and for then and there determining to sever my connection with the national game forever, is that baseball has reached a stage where it is absolutely disgraceful. It is the fashion now for every player engaged in the game to froth at the mouth and emit shrieks of anguish whenever a decision is given which is adverse to the interests of the club to which he belongs. This may not be wearying to the general public, but it is certainly disgusting to the umpire who gives decisions disinterestedly, and as he sees the plays. The continual senseless kicking at every decision has been infinitely trying to me and I have been considering for some time whether I had not better resign. I can apparently please nobody. I have no immediate plans for the future. I shall first of all return to New York."

President Robison, of the Cleveland Club, on July 8, secured an injunction restraining the directors of the National League and American Association from collecting the $200 fine imposed on Manager Tebeau, of the Cleveland team, for alleged bad conduct on the ball field.

Smith prevented the Cape May team from making more than two safe hits on July 9, at Cape May, N. J., the Ashbury Park nine winning by 4 to 1.

Denzer held the Grand Rapids down to three safe hits on July 8, at St. Paul, Minn., the St. Pauls winning by 8 to 3.

Colburn allowed the Peorias only four safe hits July 7, at St. Joseph, Mo., the St. Josephs winning by 5 to 0.

Henry Long, pitcher of the Hagerstown Club, of the Cumberland Valley League, died in that place on July 11, from injuries received while trying to board a freight train on the preceding morning. Long had missed the regular train for Hanover, where the team was to play, and tried to jump on a passing freight train, but fell under the wheels and his right arm was crushed. Late that night the arm was amputated, but Long sank rapidly and died in the hospital. Long is about 26 years old and came from Chicago. He recently played with the Sunbury, Mt. Carmel and Shamokin teams. He has a brother, Herman Long, who is short stop of the Boston team, of the National League and American Association. Henry Long's lameness was due to having his leg broken recently while playing ball and its not being properly reset.

Cuppy prevented the Brooklyns from making more than four safe hits, including a home run and a triple bagger, on July 7, at Cleveland, O., the Clevelands winning by 6 to 5.

George Smith, of the Cincinnatis, accepted all of twelve chances in a game with the Philadelphias on July 7, at Cincinnati, O.

G. Murphy prevented the Englewood Field Club from making a solitary safe hit on July 8, at Hackensack, N. J., the Oritani Field Club winning by 8 to 0.

Hickman prevented the Youngstowns from making more than four safe hits July 7, at New Castle, the New Castles winning by 9 to 0.

Con Dailey has been given his release by the Chicago Club.

Staples allowed the Fort Worths only four safe hits July 5, at Dallas, Tex., the Dallas team winning by 3 to 1.

Korwin held the Lewistons down to four safe hits July 6, at Brockton, Mass., the Brocktons winning by 8 to 0.

Voorhees prevented the Cape Mays from making more than three safe hits on July 13, at Cape May, N. J., the Atlantic Citys winning by 9 to 4.

Captain Ewing, of the Cincinnatis, helped to land two major league pennants for the New Yorks when he was connected with them. Wonder if he will be satisfied to give Cincinnati one, as that city is not so large as Gotham is.

MAURICE DALY, the popular billiardist, accompanied by his wife and Maurice Daly Jr., sailed on the steamer Normannia, July 9, for Hamburg, Ger. He intends to remain abroad a couple of months, during which he will visit London, Paris and the principal cities and places of interest to tourists on the continent. Many friends wished him a pleasant and safe trip.

W. WAKEHAM'S entry won the homing pigeon race, of over five hundred miles, under the auspices of the North Road Federation, June 29, the time being ten hours for 506 miles, being the fastest race, it is said, in which five hundred miles was ever flown in Great Britain in one day by a homing pigeon.

CRICKET.

The Tour of the Haverford College Team.

Another draw when victory seemed certain was the result of the game played July 6, at Hertford, Eng., the Haverford College team then having as opponents the Haileybury College eleven. The visitors batted first, Captain Lester having again won the toss, and A. B. Mifflin and D. H. Adams at the outset made a long stand before the former was bowled for 86. Adams cleverly compiled 123 before he was caught, and then, after C. H. Howson had been bowled before scoring, C. R. Hinchman joined J. A. Lester, and the total was brought up to 245 for the loss of three wickets, and the inning was declared closed. The Haileybury College team made a total of 137, with three wickets down, before the stumps were drawn, J. F. Carter and A. H. Spooner batting well for their respective scores of 48 and 47, not out. The visitors were next scheduled to meet the Marlborough College team, July 7 and 8, at Marlborough, but rain prevented any playing on the former day, and the weather was threatening the next day, when one inning each was finished, the Haverford College team making a total of 273 to their opponents' total of 230. The visitors were willing before the game started that it should be decided on the first inning, but the captain of the home team would not agree to this, and another draw was recorded instead of a virtual victory for the Haverford College team. J. A. Lester, with 91, and D. H. Adams, with 78, made a long stand for the visitors, while W. Prest, with 57, and T. N. Rogers, with 53, were the highest scorers for the home team. Adams was the most successful bowler, taking seven of the wickets of the home team. The visitors left after the match for London, where they contended with an amateur eleven of the Marylebone July 9, at Lord's Ground. The Marylebone team batted first, and ran up a total of 169, of which F. Lee was credited with 42, A. E. Latham with 27, not out, and A. Gifford 30. J. H. Scattergood kept wicket in fine form for the visitors, stumping two and catching two very cleverly. The Haverford College team scored a creditable victory, making a total of 373. J. A. Lester again distinguished himself, making 105 by free, hard hitting, it being his second century of the tour. The first seven men who went to the wickets each scored over 25 runs, and A. Haines, the last man, by making 12 runs also reached double figures. The Haverford College team take a rest until July 15, witnessing in the interval the game between Eton and Harrow schools and the annual contest between the Gentleman and Players of England at Lord's.

IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES of the New York Association the Paterson Club has the lead. Four games were played July 11, the one between the Paterson and Kings County St. George Clubs, at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, resulting in a draw. The Paterson team declared their inning closed after scoring 135 with six wickets down, but failed to take, before the call of time, more than five wickets of th home team, who had a total of 82. On the same ground the second eleven of the Manhattan Club defeated the first eleven of the Brooklyn Club by 94 to 25. Two games were also played at Central Park, this city, the Harlem Club scoring its first victory, defeating the Columbia Club by 66 to 42, the totals of the first inning. The first eleven of the St. George Athletic Club defeated the second eleven of the New Jersey Athletic Club by 31 to 24, in a one inning game. In the second inning the St. George team made 46, and the New Jersey team had scored 37 for the loss of six wickets when the stumps were drawn.

TWO CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES were commenced July 11 at Philadelphia, Pa., and vicinity, and both were left unfinished. The contest between the Belmont and Tioga teams terminated unsatisfactorily owing to an alleged misunderstanding on the part of the captain of the latter team as to the hour of drawing stumps. The Belmont team made 126, and the Tioga team had a total of 59 for six wickets at 6 P. M. The Belmont team claimed that the agreement was to stop at 6.30 P. M. At Haverford, the Germantown team batted all afternoon, having made a total of 311 for nine wickets in their contest with the Merion eleven. G. S. Patterson made 14 in almost faultless form, and W. W. Noble cleverly compiled 52. The game will be finished this week.

THE NEW JERSEY ATHLETIC CLUB, which has the lead in the championship race of the Metropolitan District League, scored a victory over the Staten Island Club July 11, at Bergen Point, N. J., by 103 to 77, the totals of the first inning. F. F. Kelly, with 24, and H. N. Townsend, with 23, were the highest scorers for their respective teams. Another championship game was played at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, N. Y., between the Manhattan and New York Clubs, the former winning by the totals of the first inning, 121 to 36. J. Adam and J. Mart scored respectively 33 and 29 for the Manhattan team, and also bowled very effectively throughout.

A. RICE, of the visiting Roseville Club, bowled effectively against the Perth Amboy Club, July 11, at Perth Amboy, N. J., capturing no fewer than eight wickets, all of which were clean bowled, at the cost of only one run. At one time he took four wickets with four consecutive balls. The home team made a total of 15, of which M. Higgins scored 10. The Roseville Club made a total of 68, A. Rice being also the highest scorer, getting 20 before he was caught.

IN A CONTEST between so called second elevens of the Chicago and St. George Clubs, July 4, at Chicago, Ill., the Rev. T. D. Phillips, of Canadian celebrity, compiled 100, not out, of a total of 231 made for six wickets before the inning was declared closed, it being the first century he ever scored during his long career of over fifty seasons on the cricket field. The St. George team made 120 for nine wickets.

IT MAY hardly be necessary to explain that the bowling feats credited to Pougher and Hearne were performed in the match between the Marylebone Club and Ground and the Australians, and not in the test contest between England and Australia, as mentioned in our last issue, the transposition being selfevident, especially as full details of both games were given in preceding issues.

THE Belmont Club, of Philadelphia, Pa., will play three games in the metropolitan district this week, meeting the New Jersey Athletic Club at Bergen Point, N. J., July 16; Manhattan at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, N. Y., July 17, and Staten Island Club at Livingston, Staten Island, N. Y., July 18.

J. M. LAING scored 125 of a total of 344 for seven wickets credited to the Toronto team in a game with the Paris eleven, July 8, at Paris, Ont. This is the third Canadian century of the present season, M. Walker having recently scored 101, not out, for the London team against the Guelph team.

THE Boston team defeated the Boston Athletic Association's eleven on the latter's grounds at Boston, Mass., July 11, by 96 to 52, in a one inning game. Villers, with 21, and George Wright, with 19, were the highest scorers for their respective teams.

AN exciting contest took place July 11, at Lawrence, Mass., the Merrimac Club, of that city, defeating the visiting Lowell Club by 66 to 65, the totals of the first inning. The game was well attended, the gate receipts thereof being donated to the Lawrence Hospital.

THE annual international contest between representative elevens of the United States and Canada will be played early in September next, at Philadelphia, Pa.

Death of George Law.

George Law, the well known street railroad man and lover of all around sports, died at his residence in this city, on Tuesday afternoon, July 7. He had been ill for three weeks, and during the greater part of that time his life had been despaired of. An affection of the stomach was the primary complaint, and this developed into acute meningitis, and for three or four days before his death he was unconscious. He was the son of George Law, and was born in this city fifty-three years ago, receiving his early education in the public schools, and being graduated from Columbia College. He spent several months as a street car driver on the lines owned by his father, was afterwards a clerk in the office of the company, and then was made superintendent of the Ninth Avenue line. Upon the death of his father he inherited an immense fortune, which he for a time spent lavishly, bestowing many presents in cash and jewelry on his friends in sporting circles, but always attending carefully to the management of the car lines over which he had sole control. He was fond of athletic sports, being an especial admirer of boxing, and a score of years ago few sparring entertainments took place in the metropolis, at which he was not an interested spectator. He was a personal friend of the late Joe Coburn, at one time champion of America, and many other prominent sporting men were on familiar terms with him, and at various times were the recipients o his favors.

THE TURF.

Thoroughbreds near Chicago.

The meeting at the Sheffield track, a few miles from the Silver City, continued during the past week, and enjoyed increased patronage, owing to the presence of many strangers in attendance on the 16 to 1 Democratic convention. The entries have been sufficient in number and good enough in quality to provide good sport, and the powers that be are consequently well satisfied. The events decided since our last report are herewith summarised:

July 7.—First race—Five and one-half furlongs—Highland Fling, 90, Magnusen, 25 to 1, first; Billy Kinney, 97, Newcom, 12 to 1, second; George B. Swift, 92, Davis, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:08¾......Second race—Four and one-half furlongs—Miss Ames, 96, Magnusen, 100 to 1, first; Loulou R., 96, Dorsey, 5 to 1, second; Chenille, 101, L. Soden, 4 to 5, third. The Ruppert String at Auction.

On Monday afternoon, July 6, a public sale was held at Sheepshead Bay, L. I., at which was sold the entire racing stable of Jac. Ruppert, the sporting brewer. Gotham, with a number of good performances to his credit, brought $6,100 as the top price of the sale, being purchased by J. J. McCafferty, who also secured Counter Tenor for $1,000. The six year old gelding Sport, a horse which at one time was a dangerous rival for a majority of the runners of his time, was secured by W. B. Gilpin, his former owner, for $50. Prices averaged low, as there was not much of a crowd in attendance, and the sale had not attracted much attention. Summary:

The Lakeside Jockey Club

Opened its second fifteen days' meeting of the present season on July 11, at Roby, Ind., following Sheffield, which closed on the preceding afternoon. There was an attendance numbering about five thousand to start with, which was nearly equaled on the following day. The racing on both afternoons was of a character to suit the visitors, and the prospect of a remunerative meeting is excellent. Summary of the events so far decided:

July 11.—First race—Six furlongs—Effie T., 94, Willis, 30 to 1, won; Peep o' Day II, 95, Davis, 3 to 1, second; Ovation, 101, H. Ward, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:15½......Second race—Five furlongs—Sutton, 103, Dorsey, 1 to 2, won; Marie C., 100, Everett, 7 to 1, second; Elizabeth B., 96, D. Davis, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:01¾......Third race—Seven furlongs—Redskin, 114, L. Soden, 2 to 5, won; Cæsarian, 112, Dorsey, 5 to 2, second; Second Attempt, 107, Macklin, 60 to 1, third. Time, 1:26¼......Fourth race—One mile and twenty yards—Doctor C., 92, Cleary, 20 to 1, won; St. Lee, 98, D. Davis, 6 to 5, second; Sunny, 94, Dorsey, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:41¾......Fifth race—Five and a half furlongs—Judge Baker, 98, W. Jones, 40 to 1, won; May Fern, 99, Caywood, 4 to 1, second; Pinchback, 92, Newcom, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:07¼......Sixth race—Six furlongs—Millie M., 93, Newcom, 8 to 5, won; Serena, 95, Dorsey, 5 to 2, second; Terra Archer, 97, F. Penny, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:15.

July 13.—First race—Seven furlongs—Image, 98, W. Jones, 5 to 2, won; Correlia, 92, Magnusen, 12 to 1, second; Scamp, 103, L. Soden, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:30......Second race—Four and a half furlongs—Holy Terror, 100, P. Clay, 6 to 1, won; Lottie Wimmer, 97, Caywood, even, second; C. H. Whelan, 95, Nagnuson, 6 to 1, third. Time, 0:55......Third race—One mile—Onalaska, 101, Sullivan, 15 to 1, won; Belvour, 104, H. Ward, 6 to 1, second; Judge Baker, 104, W. Jones, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:42......Fourth race—One mile—Urania, 97, Caywood, 8 to 5, won; Redskin, 117, L. Soden, 4 to 5, second; St. Leo, 102, D. Davis, 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:40¼......Fifth race—Four and a half furlongs—Siegfried, 103, Cleary, 3 to 1, won; Chenille, 98, Soden, 3 to 2, second; Foncliff, 103, Dorsey, 12 to 1, third. Time, 0:56......Sixth race—Six furlongs—Walkover, 105, Dorsey, 11 to 5, won; Pinchback, 97, Newcom, 2 to 1, second; Canewood, 105, W. Jones, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:14¾.

Racing at St. Louis.

The sporting propensities of the residents of the Mound City have so far resulted beneficially for the managers of the present race meeting of the St. Louis Fair Grounds Association, the course having been visited each day by several thousand persons, generally fortified with the necessary material with which to support their opinions, and as the fields have as a rule been good, and the sport quite up to the mark, the financial returns have so far been to the liking of those specially interested in the success of the meeting. Summary of events decided during the past week:

July 7.—First race—One mile—Shining Belle, 102, Schorr, 4 to 1, won; Foreseen, 89, T. Williams, 7 to 1, second; Golden Crown, 109, Hinkey, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:45¾......Second race—Three-quarters of a mile—Frontier, 128, Webster, 5 to 2, won; Romance, 123, Penn, 3 to 1, second; Towerst, 128, Taber, 6 to 5, third. The Opening at Aqueduct.

The race goers that visited the track of the Queens County Jockey Club, at Aqueduct, L. I., on Monday afternoon, July 13, the opening day of the Summer meeting, will long remember it, for the reason that the heat was "something awful," while the track was dusty, and the gentle breeze that came in puffs was not from a direction to afford relief to the four thousand specimens of sweltering humanity gathered in the grand stand, the betting quarters and along the rail. However, the racing was so good, taken as a whole, that the spectators considered themselves well repaid for the discomforts they were unable to avoid. The chief event on the card was the Carter Handicap, at a mile and a furlong, for which Lehman, with Taral up, was made a favorite, but a good race resulted in the success of Deerslayer, ably piloted by Doggett. Four of the other events were won by the favorites, so that the "talent" had a fair day's innings. Summary:

DAVID ROBERGE died at his residence at Van Sicklen, Coney Island, on July 9, aged seventy one years. He was a native of Montreal, Can., but had resided in the United States the greater part of his life. He made a study of the horse, and was the originator of many devices for correcting an unbalanced foot, to which he attributed almost all lameness in the horse, and he obtained patents on the same in this and other countries. He was the author of "The Foot of the Horse," which he dedicated to Robert Bonner. Two years or so ago he was called to the chair of foot pathology in the New York College of Veterinary Surgeons, a position which he was compelled to resign in consequence of ill health. He married Sarah E. Stowe in 1850, and nine of their eleven children are now living.

THE CONEY ISLAND JOCKEY CLUB announce the following stakes for the Autumn meeting, to close with Clerk of the Course Crickmore on Aug. 1: For two year olds and upward—Flight Stakes, $2,500, seven furlongs. For three year olds—September Stakes, $2,500, one mile and three furlongs. For two year olds—Flatbush Stakes, $2,500, seven furlongs, and the Great Eastern Handicap, $5,000, Futurity course. Entries for the special race for three year olds at $500 a corner, to which $7,000 will be added, will close on July 15.

J. J. MCCAFFERTY has announced his intention to dispose of his string of horses next Autumn, preparatory to going abroad, to remain a year or more, during which period he will devote himself to sight seeing and getting rid of some of the stake and purse money he lands this season with his stable of good 'uns.

G. H. HUBER'S ARISTOTLE won the 2:18 class at Rutland, Vt., on July 4, his three heats being trotted in 2:23¼, 2:23¼, 2:26. Little Gem won the 2:28 pace. Mr. Huber informs us that there is plenty of good trotting and pacing to be seen in that part of the Nutmeg State.

DORIAN, which the Blemton Stable paid $17,000 for, and which turned out a grievous disappointment, has been disposed of privately to Mr. Matthews, the price paid not being made public.

THE RING.

BILLY MCLEAN, the veteran boxer and baseball umpire, for some years past proprietor of a sparring academy in Philadelphia, Pa., was arrested July 10, charged with striking a seven year old boy, named Stephen McFarland, with a brick, causing a fracture of the skull. It appears that McLean, while under the influence of liquor, was annoyed on the street by some boys, one of whom threw a piece of brick at him, and he threw it back into the crowd, with the unfortunate result stated. At the station house, next morning, McLean stated that he did not remember anything about the occurrence, and was very sorry for what he had done. He was held to await the result of the boy's injuries.

ALBERT GRIFFITHS, alias "Griffo," and Jack Everhardt entertained a big crowd of sports at the Lyceum Theatre, Buffalo, N. Y., night of July 10. They were announced to box twenty Queensberry rounds for a purse, and this they did, the first fifteen rounds being rather tame, but after that matters were made a bit more lively, although neither were hurt when the time expired, and the referee declared it a draw.

GEORGE ("KID") LAVIGNE returned from England on board the steamer St. Louis, of the American line, which arrived at this port on Friday evening, July 10. He was accompanied by his manager, Sam Fitzpatrick. He was met at the dock by Jim Kennedy, of the Empire Athletic Club, and a few other friends, who extended a cordial welcome, and all that that implies.

F. P. SLAVIN made quick work of the dusky Philadelphia boxer, Joe Butler, when they met in a glove bout before the Caledonian Club night of July 13. He caught the Quaker with his right on the point of the jaw at the third essay, and henceforth the surroundings had no further interest for Mr. Butler, who was oblivious for several minutes.

YOUNG BURKE AND "KID" DEVLIN, ambitious youngsters, met in a ring at a New Jersey resort on Tuesday morning, July 7, an up and down fight resulting in a victory for the former in the ninth round.

THE Hollywood Futurity Cup was contended for by pigeon poppers at the grounds at Long Branch, N. J., July 11, each contestant shooting at twenty five birds, handicap rise, and the winner being Phil Daly Jr., 27yds., who knocked over his twenty-five without a miss; Davis, 30yds., second, 24; Cubberty, 28yds., third, 24; Money, 28yds., fourth, 22.

THE open tennis tournament of the Buffalo T. C. closed on July 11, the winners being as follow: Singles, championship, final round—Edwin P. Fischer beat Leo E. Ware. Doubles—L. F. Ware and W. M. Scudder, Harvard University, beat Lieuts. R. P. Davis and W. A. Bethel, West Point.

THE TURF.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY MEETING.

Requital Gallops Away with the Realization Stakes—Ornament's Double Event.

Although the weather was again very threatening, and it was known that the track was in bad condition from the previous rainfalls, in the neighborhood of four thousand persons, in the main members of the "regular" division, visited the track of the Coney Island Jockey Club on Tuesday afternoon, July 7. The card was not such a one as excites the deep interest of turfites, and the attendants were impelled to make the journey through a desire to see McCafferty's speedy filly, Winged Foot, run away with the Pansy Stakes, and note how Requital, the favorite for the Realization Stakes, looked and performed in a handicap over a mile and three-sixteenths, in which he was made to concede much weight to other good 'uns. What they saw satisfied them, as both horses, each an odds on favorite, easily maintained their reputation by winning handily. McCafferty's mount enriched the owner-jockey to the tune of $1,200 in stake money. The other events were all won by horses against which good odds were on offer, Taral heading the list by guiding Shakespeare II to victory in the initial event, with the comfortable odds of 4 to 1 against him, beating the heavily backed favorite, Rubicon, 4 to 5, by a few inches. During the afternoon the announcement was made that "After a thorough investigation of the recent races of Tinge, Zanone and Forget, the stewards of the Coney Island Jockey Club have ordered that the entries of the Lauretta Stable be refused in the future, under rule 43 of the racing rules. They find no reason to censure the owners or trainers of Tinge or Zanone." Summary:

There was little, if any, improvement in the weather that prevailed on Wednerday afternoon, 8, and the track was in very bad condition, while the grounds were soaked with rain and the surroundings were the opposite of cheerful, wraps for the outer man and woman, and stimulating beverages for the "innards," were in constant demand during the progress of the races. A poor card was presented, the fields were small, and taken as a whole the sport was far from interesting, although considerable excitement was occasioned by the closeness of the finish between M. F. Dwyer's good filly, Suisun, which then made its first appearance in the East, and C. F. Patterson's colt, Burlesque, whose quality had been previously proven. They ran a dead heat, and the owner of Burlesque, which caught the filly at the wire, desired to divide rather than subject his game colt to the strain of another run over such a track, but Dwyer insisted on a run over, and upon Patterson withdrawing his horse he (Dwyer) got the purse and won the bets he had placed. The other events were fraught with but little interest, two of them being taken by favorites and the other three by outsiders. The Foam Stakes was won by Intermission, a prohibitive odds favorite, as he had nothing but Cassette and Religion to defeat. Summary:

For two year olds, a sweepstakes of $15 each, with $500 added, of which $100 to the second and $50 to the third, five furlongs.
M. F. Dwyer's br. f. Suisun, by Strathmore Beatrice, 120; 4 to 5 .... Simms*1

A welcome improvement in the meteorological conditions sufficed to greatly increase the box office takings on Thursday afternoon, 9, the crowd in attendance being quite large, and the ladies once again venturing out in considerable numbers. It was decidedly a bookies' day, as only two favorites, one of them being at prohibitive odds, realized the expectations of their sanguine supporters, while the quotations against the winners of the other events ranged from 6 to 15 to 1. J. J. McCafferty owned and rode both the winning favorites, Winged Foot having hard work to beat the filly Distinction, and Gotham disposing of Tramargo and others in handy fashion. St. Maxim ruled first choice for the Long Island Handicap, at 8 to 5, but broke down a quarter mile from the finish, and Lucania, Rogers' speedy Sir Modred filly, won the first time of asking this season. The track was somewhat improved, but was still quite heavy. Summary:

Ten thousand persons visited the course on Saturday, 11, the concluding day of the meeting, the star attraction of the afternoon being the Realization Stakes, for which the Brookdale Stable's sturdy and speedy racer, Requital, winner of the Futurity in 1895, was a strong favorite over such good 'uns as Hastings, Merry Prince, Counselor Howe and Formal. It was not until the eleventh hour that Hastings was announced as a sure starter, this grand animal having been under the care of Dr. Sheppard since he met with the mishap which it was feared would prevent his starting for the rich event. He was well supported for the race, as in his preliminary gallop he showed up well, and the odds against him were but eight to five. The result proved that the judgment of the majority of speculators was not at fault, as the favorite, ridden by Clayton, after biding his time until the upper turn was reached, was sent along at a livelier rate of speed, with Hastings as his racing companion, and as the turn into the stretch was entered Clayton gave him his head and he rushed to the front at once, the race being then all over, as he simply galloped during the closing furlong, eventually winning by three lengths or more, while Peep o' Day came with a well timed sprint past the stand, securing the place honors by a still greater distance. The winner ran the mile and five furlongs in the fast time of 2:49⅘, a performance, finishing as he did, which stamps him as about the best distance racer now on the American turf. Had he been pressed he could have beaten the record, which is 2:48. The race was worth $17,655 to the winner. The other most interesting event of the day was the Double Event, for two year olds, for which the penciling fraternity quoted odds of three to one against both Winged Foot and Don De Oro, but neither of them proved equal to the occasion, the fast Westerner, Ornament, with the odds of 16 to 5 against him, and splendidly ridden by the veteran pilot, Garrison, landed the race by half a length from The Friar, while Winged Foot beat Don de Oro a length for third place. As Ornament also won the first race he received, in addition to $4,000 in stakes, $1,000 for winning both races. Of the other winners during the afternoon only one, Kennel, was a favorite, the others being but little considered in the betting. The weather was clear and warm, with a pleasant breeze, and the track was in excellent condition. Summary:

A Bookmaker Arrested.

Joseph E. Ullman, the well known bookmaker, whose office is at 19 West Twenty-sixth Street, this city, and his clerk, Fred Fisher, were each held in $1,000 bail for examination in the Jefferson Market Police Court, July 8. The complaint against them was made by Detective Costigan, attached to the Jefferson Market Court. Costigan called at Ullman's office on 4, and asked Fisher to take ten dollars to the Sheepshead track and put it on Irish Reel. No record was made of the money having been accepted at the office, nor were any odds quoted. The money was placed at the track at an even bet. Irish Reel won, and Costigan was ten dollars ahead. Costigan went to Ullman's office 8, armed with a warrant for his and his clerk's arrest. Ullman was not in at the time, and the detective locked up the place, refusing admission or egress to any one. One of his friends summoned Ullman, and he and his clerk accompanied Costigan to court. Ullman denounced his arrest as an outrage, and said the acceptance of Costigan's money was no more a violation of the law than it would be if a friend should meet him on the street and give him some money to place at the track.

Amending the Rules.

The stewards of the Jockey Club held a meeting at the Sheepshead Bay track on July 9, when the action of the Coney Island Jockey Club stewards in refusing the entries of Lohman & Co. was approved and was extended to all tracks under the Jockey Club's jurisdiction. In the evening the regular meeting of the club was held in this city, F. R. Hitchcock presiding. The following amendments to the rules of racing were adopted. Rule 4 was made to read as follows:

After June 1 in each year only one over night event for a distance less than a mile, for horses three years old and upward, shall be given on any race day, but should it be found necessary to add an extra race, this rule shall not apply to such race.

The following was added to rule 72:

In produce races, or races for which nominations of foals are made, the nominator shall be released from further liability by filing prior to the date of the first declaration stated in the conditions of the race an accepted transfer of the entry, accompanied with all forfeits to date of said declaration.

Rule 39 was made to read:

In case a horse is not named prior to March 1 of its two year old it may be duly named upon payment of a fine of $50, if name is claimed and allowed at least two days before day of starting.

J. J. McCafferty was the principal winner at the twelve days' meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club, that closed July 11. His winnings aggregated $22,825; Brookdale Stable second, $20,640; Blemton Stable third, $15,475; C. T. Patterson fourth, $11,930.

The Coming National Regatta.

The leading amateur rowing event in American waters is the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which will this year be held on the placid bosom of Saratoga Lake, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 12, 13. The citizens' committee having the affair in charge is composed of over one hundred energetic residents, mostly business men, who are making extensive preparations with a view to ensuring the entire success of the fixture, as well as the accommodation of the crews and the comfort and convenience of the thousands of spectators who, it is hoped, will extend their patronage. The events that will form the racing programme are as follow:

1. Single scull shells; intermediate. 2. Single scull shells; senior. 3. Double scull shells; intermediate. 4. Double scull shells; senior. 5. Pair oar shells; senior. 6. Four oar shells; intermediate. 7. Four oar shells; senior. 8. Four oar shells; senior, international. 9. Eight oar shells; intermediate. 10. Eight oar shells; senior. For the winners of Nos. 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 10 the prizes will be the challenge cups and plate of the National Association. There will also be individual gold medals in each event to every winning oarsman or sculler, and also a handsome silk banner to his club. All the races, excepting Nos. 8, 9 and 10 are one mile and a half, with one turn. The international four oar shell and the eight oared races will be one mile and a half, straightaway.

All entries close on July 29, with Fred R. Fortmeyer, secretary, P. O. Box 740, New York City. To insure a race, two or more entries are required in each class, and should withdrawals, after the entries are closed, reduce the class to one boat, the crew or sculler left in must row over the course to be entitled to the prize. Entries from individuals or crews will not be accepted, but must be officially endorsed by the club. In entering crews twelve names must be sent for an eight oar, six names for a four, and four names for each pair oar or double scull, and from these names the actual crew must be selected. In single sculls substitutes will not be allowed. Finally, all questions of eligibility, qualification, or interpretation of the rules shall be referred to the regatta committee, and its decisions may not be controverted.

Yachting in Foreign Waters.

The Ailsa, Satanita, Britannia and Caress were the starters in a race over the forty-five miles course off Glasgow, Scot., on July 8, under the auspices of the Royal West of Scotland Yacht Club. The wind was extremely fluky and light, and the race was stopped at the end of the second round. The Ailsa was the winner, the Britannia was second, the Satanita third and the Caress last. The race for twenty raters was contested by The Saint, Niagara and Penitent, and was won by The Saint. The Niagara and Penitent were becalmed some distance from the finish line.

The German Emperor's new racing cutter, Meteor, made her first appearance in a race in the Clyde 9, sailing over the course from Largs around the flagboats off Wemyss Bay, Bogany Point and Mount Stuart and back, twice around, a distance of forty-eight miles, under the auspices of the Royal Largs Yacht Club. She finished first, but the race was won by the Britannia on time allowance of 5m. 18s. The Ailsa, Satanita and Caress also started, but retired owing to their having become becalmed. In the race for twenty raters the Penitent beat the Niagara.

The Royal Northern Yacht Club regatta was held in Rothesay Bay 11. The starters in the principal race were the German Emperor's Meteor, the Prince of Wales' Britannia, A. B. Walker's Ailsa and C. B. Rose's Satanita. The wind was the merest zephyr; nevertheless the Meteor glided away from the other boats soon after the start and finally won. The race for twenty raters was won by the Saint. The Niagara was second, the Penitent third.

On 13 the Meteor, Ailsa, Britannia, Satanita and Caress started in a race open to all yachts exceeding forty rating, under the auspices of the Royal Northern Yacht Club. The first prize was £60, and the second £20. The course was fifty miles. The race was won by the Meteor. The Ailsa was second and the Britannia third. In the race for twenty raters the Penitent beat the Saint and the Niagara, the latter finishing last.

THE FIRST of a series of races between 30 footers began at Newport, R. I., on July 13, with a race of eighteen miles in the bay, for a sweepstakes arranged by Herman B. Duryea. The start was made from an imaginary line across Brenton's Cove, and the only turn was a buoy off Dyer's Island. There were four starters, and the order of finish and time was as follows: Bayard Thayre's Asahi first, in 2h. 14m. 30s.; W. S. Van Winkle's Esperanza second, in 2h. 17m. 15s. The Vanquero and Hero did not finish.

J. H. TYERS was the winner of the half mile amateur swimming championship of England, the contest for which honor took place at the West India Docks, London, on June 27. The course was a quarter mile and Tyers won by ten yards from J. H. Derbyshire, in 2m. 2⅘s.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES REGATTA.

Defeat of the American Oarsmen—Banquet to the Yale Crew.

As announced in last week's issue, the hopes of the Yale University oarsmen were dashed in their first trial heat for the Grand Challenge Cup, on the opening day, July 7, when they were defeated by the Leander crew, after a struggle that reflected great credit on the courage of the wearers of the dark blue. The London Chronicle comments editorially as follows on the race and the crew:

"No group of foreign visitors has ever made a pleasanter impression, and now they have superadded to the impression an exhibition of as genuine a piece of pluck as was ever seen in a sporting contest. It may honestly be said that for a long time to come any foreign competitors on field or river will be judged in comparison with the standard set by the Yale boys. The first half of the race was a magnificent spectacle. Nothing can efface the recollection of the dogged courage with which they rowed every inch of a race irretrievably lost. It was indeed good to see, and Americans may feel grateful to their countrymen for having left such a memory behind them. Pessimists have said that these international contests do more harm than good. Yale has shown how false that doctrine is."

The Chronicle's rowing expert describes Yale as showing splendid pluck, but a worthless style. He attributes their defeat to their obsolete theory of rowing.

The Daily Telegraph's Henley correspondent says: "Yale displayed a spirit worthy of every compliment. There would have been undisguised satisfaction had they won the heat. There are many more Henleys to come, and the Stars and Stripes will yet have their turn."

The Sportsman says: "It was lucky that the wind favored neither crew. Yale rendered a splendid account of themselves, and by their magnificent rowing earned the golden opinions of all good sportsmen."

Dr. McDowell, who won his first trial heat for the Diamond Sculls, showing such good form as to impress many good judges with the belief that the trophy would be won by him, was defeated by R. K. R. Beaumont, Burton Rowing Club, by four lengths, on 8, on which day the Hon. Rupert Guinness, holder of the Sculls, beat Vivian Nickalls, while the Leander crew achieved a victory over the New College crew in an exhausting race, the time being several seconds faster than that in which the former beat Yale. The final result of the regatta was as shown in the appended summary:

Grand Challenge Cup, for eights of any recognized amateur rowing club.—Final heat: Leander Boat Club beat Thames Rowing Club.

Diamond Challenge Sculls, for all amateur scullers.—Final heat: Hon. Rupert Guinness, Leander Boat Club, beat R. K. R. Beaumont, Burton-on-Trent Rowing Club.

Thames Challenge Cup, for eights consisting of amateurs that have never rowed in a winning crew in the Grand Challenge or Stewards' Cup races.—Final heat: Emmanuel College, Cambridge, beat the crew representing the Societe d'Encouragement du Sport Nautique, of Paris, Fr.

Ladies' Plate, for eights from colleges and public schools in the United Kingdom.—Final heat: Eton School beat Baliol College, Oxford.

Stewards' Cup, for fours of any recognized amateur club.—Final heat: London Rowing Club beat Thames Rowing Club.

Visitors' Cup, for fours from colleges and public schools in the United Kingdom.—Final heat: Caius College, Cambridge, beat Magdalen College, Oxford.

Wyfold Challenge Cup, for fours consisting of amateurs who have never rowed in a winning crew in a Grand Challenge or Stewards' Cup race.—Final heat: Trinity College, Oxford, beat London Rowing Club's second four.

Nickalls Cup, for pair oars.—Final heat: Guy Nickalls and Vivian Nickalls beat W. F. Crum and C. M. Pitman, New College, Oxford.

On the evening of 10 the Yale crew were entertained at dinner by the Sports Club. Mr. Jackson, manager of the Sports Club, presided. R. B. Treadway, captain of the Yale crew, sat on his right, and the Hon. Chauncey M. Depew on his left. Among the other guests presents were Lieutenant Commander Cowles, naval attache of the American Embassy; Gen. Skiddy, Judge Howland and the prominent competitors in the regatta.

Commander Cowles made a speech, in the course of which he said he believed that Yale would again compete at Henley, and would profit by their experience of this year. The Americans, he added, had been beaten by a good crew, but their defeat had been tempered by the hospitality the English knew so well how to dispense.

Chairman Jackson eulogized the Yale men as sportsmen and excellent companions. He expressed the hope that they would return to England and capture the cup.

Capt. Treadwell, in reply, said he did not wish to make one excuse for the Yale crew losing. The climate, he added, had nothing to do with the men's defeat, as it was as good as that to which they were accustomed. He ascribed whatever success they had had to Coach Cook's study of English rowing.

The dinner was a most enjoyable one, and the Americans took advantage of the occasion to again express their appreciation of the many courtesies they had received while in England, both from the public generally and their competitors in the regatta. They had nothing but praise for the sportsmanlike qualities displayed by all the English oarsmen with whom they had come in contact.

Naphtha Launches Burned.

Two naphtha launches belonging to members of the Atlantic Yacht Club were destroyed by fire on July 7. The Thelma, owned by J. A. Mollenhauser, the Brooklyn sugar refiner, was burned to the water's edge and sank off Huntington Harbor, L. I. On board at the time were Mr. and Mrs. Mollenhauser and a crew of four men, who made a narrow escape from death. The boat was under way, and it is supposed that the naphtha tank, in which were stored over two hundred gallons of the dangerous fluid, leaked, and the escaping naphtha was accidentally ignited. The two boats of the Thelma were at once lowered, and their occupants taken on board the tug Northport, which brought them to New York. The tank blew up soon after the boat was deserted, and the launch sank immediately. She is thought to be a total wreck. She was built this year, going into commission in May, and was schooner rigged, 76ft. over all and 11ft. 6in., beam. She was handsomely fitted up, and was valued at $15,000. The other launch was the Quivive, belonging to H. C. Rome, a resident of this city, which was destroyed in Black Rock Harbor, near Bridgeport, Ct. Mr. and Mrs. Rome were aboard, and the fire was caused by a match lighted by the captain setting fire to the naphtha, the craft burning to the water's edge in a short time, the occupants barely saving themselves by jumping into a small boat and being rowed to the shore.

Yachting on Lake Michigan.

The Lincoln Park regatta was sailed by yachts owned mainly in Chicago, Ill., on Saturday, July 11, ten boats starting in the four classes. The interest in the regatta centred in the contest between the Vencedor, the craft which is to represent America against the Canadian champion in the international races off Toledo, O., next month, and the Siren, and considerable disappointment was felt when the latter finished in the lead. The race, however, was not regarded by yachtsmen present as a fair test of the relative merits of the two boats, and opinion is much divided as to which is the better craft. Summary:

CLASS A.	Start.			Finish.			Sailing Time.
Siren	2h.	41m.	45s.	6h.	11m.	12s.	3h.	29m.	28s.

THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

James Stansbury Defeats Charles Harding in a Match for the Title.

The sculling match between James Stansbury, of Australia, the holder, and Charles R. ("Wag") Harding, of London, Eng., for $2,500 a side, the championship of the world and The Sportsman Challenge Cup, valued at $3,500, was decided over the championship course in the Thames River, Eng., from Putney to Mortlake, on July 13, and was won quite handily by the Antipodean sculler, who was the leader from start to finish. A cablegram thus describes the contest, if such it may be called:

There was a slight easterly wind blowing at 3.15 o'clock, when, after three breaks away, the men got off well together. Harding, having won the toss, took the Surrey side of the river, and pulled a stroke of thirty-four to Stansbury's thirty-six for the first minute. Stansbury drew away from his opponent at once, leading by a length at the Duke's Head. This lead was increased to two lengths at Beverley. During the rest of the way Stansbury did very much as he liked. At the mile he was three lengths ahead, and when he reached Hammersmith Bridge he had increased the distance between his boat and that of Harding to eight lengths. His time to Hammersmith Bridge was 8m. 17s.; to Chiswick Church, 12m. 59s.; to Barnes Bridge, 18m. 17s., and to the finish line, 21m. 51s. Stansbury won by six lengths.

According to a cablegram received in Toronto, Ont., that night, Stansbury was considering the challenge issued by J. G. Gaudaur, the American champion sculler, and that he would probably accept it, provided the inducements offered are sufficient. A match between Stansbury and Gaudaur has been long hanging fire, and it is sincerely hoped that the Australian may not again return home without having measured blades with the Canada sculler.

Atlantic Yacht Club Cruise.

The last squadron run during the cruise of the above club took place on Thursday, July 9, and was from New London, Ct., to Shelter Island. The early morning was showery, and the weather was still quite threatening when the start was made from Sarah's Ledge Buoy, at 10.35 o'clock. The sloops Choctaw, Eclipse, Gaviota, Penguin, Wabossa, Tigress, Hydriad, Uvira, Sultan and Acushla started in the order named, the schooners going off at 11.05, with the Colonia in the lead, followed by the Amorita, Viator, Cavalier and Glendower. The order and time of arrival was as follows:

Winner of Banks Cup, Colonia; winner of Hanan Cup, Acushla; winner of class prizes—Cavalier, Viator, Gaviota, Uvira, Tigress, Acushla.

The yachts remained at anchor in Shelter Island Harbor during that afternoon and the following day, a ball being given at the Manhattan House in the evening, while on the 10th there were day fireworks on board the yachts, with gig, dingy and naptha launch races, swimming and tub contests, which furnished good sport. Nearly $500 was subscribed by the flag officers, fleet captains and the club to be divided among the winners of the various races.

Riversides on the Water.

The members of the Riverside Yacht Club, of this city, were favored with delightful sailing weather on Saturday, July 11, a strong and quite steady breeze from the northwest sending the yachts skimming over the smooth surface of the Sound like things of life, and making the outing a most enjoyable one for the several hundred persons on the club steamer Aurora, which accompanied the boats over the course. There were forty-seven starters in the thirteen classes, the larger boats sailing over a course of eighteen and a half nautical miles, the 25 and 30 footers over twelve and a half miles, and the smaller boats nine and a quarter miles. The Whitly, in the 51ft. sloop class, was not timed; the Vorant II, in the 34ft. special class, and the Teddy, in the 25ft. special class, had no opponents and did not finish the course. The other starters finished as shown in the official summary below:

But I doesn't want it, Honey!
But I tell you dat I'm comin' ter de scratch;
Fer de moonlight is a shinin',
En I'm pinin'—des a pinin'
Fer de melon in de middle er de patch!
O de melon, de melon,
In de middle er de patch!
I bet you
I bet you
I'm a-comin' ter de scratch!
You talk erbout yer money,
But I doesn't want it, Honey!
Jes let de door hang easy on the latch;
Fer de road is mighty lebel,
En I'm guine like de debbie
Fer de melon in the middle er de patch!
O, de melon, de melon,
In de middle er de patch!
I bet you,
I bet you,

When you pack for the seashore or the mountains, fill a tray of your trunk with Ivory Soap and require your laundress to use it. Light summer garments should be washed only with a pure white soap.

At all grocery stores east of the Rocky Mountains two sizes of Ivory Soap are sold; one that costs five cents a cake, and a larger size. The larger cake is the more convenient and economical for laundry and general household use. If your grocer is out of it, insist on his getting it for you.
